STORM ABATES; CITY DIGS OUT

U. S. REFUSES WAR AID PLEDGE TO WIN NAVY CUT

Will Not Give Other Nations False Hope.

A Washington special to The Tribune, following the dispatch herewith printed from Mr. Steele in London, outlines the statement of the American delegation. Washington says the United States has turned thumbs down on all consultative pacts which might in any contingency involve the military power of this country.

BY JOHN STEELE.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, March 26 [Wednesday]. —In reply to reports last night that the United States was ready to enter a security pact in order to insure a five power naval limitation treaty, the American delegation to the naval conference issued the following official statement early this morning:

"The United States will not enter into any treaty, whether consultative or otherwise, where there is a danger of its obligations being misunderstood as involving a promise to render military assistance or guaranteeing protection by military force to another nation.

"Such a misunderstanding might arise if the United States entered into such a treaty as a quid pro quo for the reduction of naval forces of another power.

Refer to Present Impasse.

"The danger has hitherto inhered in the present situation, where France regards national military security as a condition of naval reduction, as appears from the original statement of its case last December.

"It, however, this demand for security could be satisfied in some other way than the danger of a misunderstanding in a consultative pact would be eliminated and in such a case the question would be approached from an entirely different standpoint.

"In such a case the American delegation would consider the matter with an entirely open mind."

Fights to Save Parley.

The conference is sitting up and taking nourishment again and may possibly be in for a new lease of life. Prime Minister MacDonald, tired of the filibustering which has been going on in the absence of the French, has taken hold and is making another supreme effort to snatch success from imminent defeat. He is still determined not to give up the hope of a five power pact, and for the time being has ended all talk of a three power pact, an adjournment of six months, and all other alternative proposals discussed or suggested.

The first move on Tuesday was an early visit to No. 10 Downing street by American Secretary of State Henry L. Stimson, who discussed with Mr. MacDonald and Arthur Henderson, secretary of state for foreign affairs, the present situation and means of getting the conference together. Mr. Stimson expressed optimism after this conference.

Privy Heads Summoned.

There was a meeting of the heads of all delegations yesterday afternoon at St. James' palace. Every delegation was represented. J. L. Dumesnil, minister of marine, took the place of the French premier, André Tardieu.

Mr. MacDonald made one of the famous talks of the whole conference. He told the delegates the time had come to either fish or cut bait, but in very plain English. He also said the situation was becoming a joke and, if it could accomplish nothing, it was time to quit. At the same time, he declared his determination was still to obtain a five power agreement, if humanly and politically possible.

The delegates took the razzing in good part and one after another rose to compliment Mr. MacDonald on his efforts to keep the conference together and chairman and insure its success.

It was decided to hold another meeting of the heads of the delegations this afternoon, by which time Premier Minister Aristide Briand of France is expected to leave Paris today, is expected to be in London.

FASCIST PLEA CRASHES

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 25.—[Special.]—The protest and international appeals to entangle the United States in a European consultative or security pact of the London naval reduction treaty has crashed.

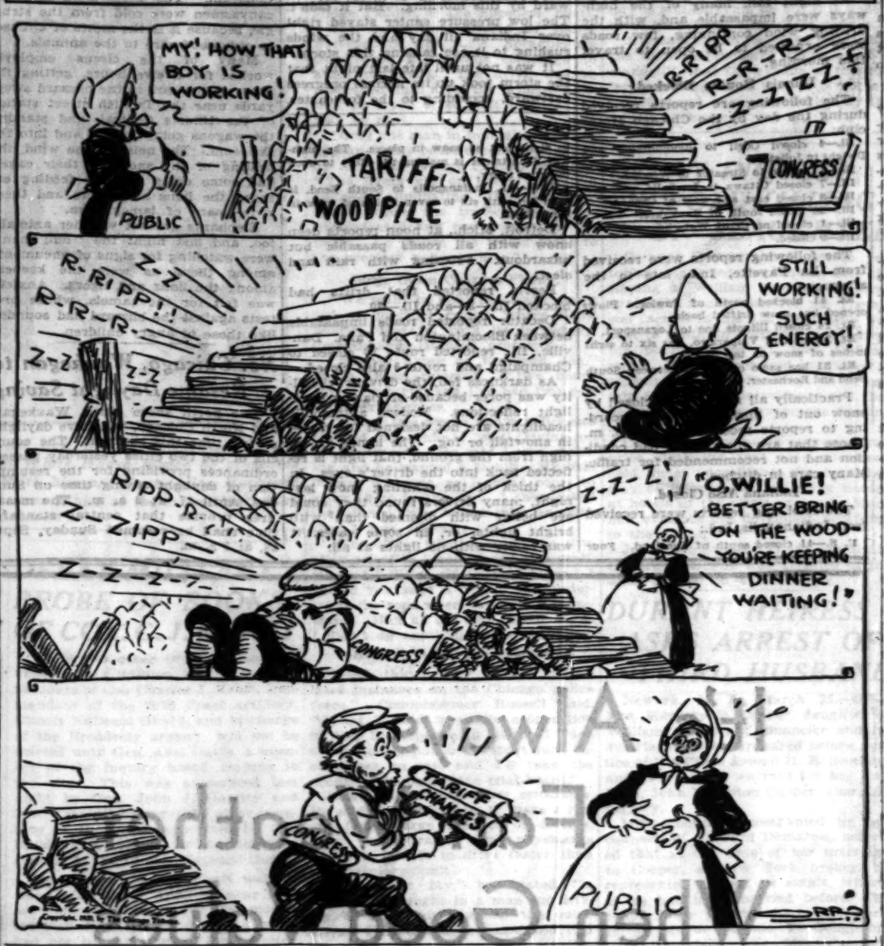
THE CHAMPION WOOD SAWYER



Senate Votes to Rush Start on Postoffice

BY ARTHUR CRAWFORD.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., March 25.—[Special.]—THE TRIBUNE'S agitation for an early start on the construction of the Chicago postoffice is beginning to show results.

Passage by the senate today of the house public buildings bill, which contains an authorization for the treasury to employ outside architects more extensively than has been permitted heretofore, was followed by a prediction by Assistant Secretary of the Treasury Ferry K. Heath that the first of the Chicago contracts might be award-d within three months.

Through telegrams, telephone calls, letters and personal visits treasury and postoffice department officials have been hearing from Chicago industrial leaders, who have taken up THE TRIBUNE'S demand for an immediate start on construction of the long delayed postoffice project as a means of easing the unemployment situation.

Little Done as Years Pass.

Just how the project has lagged under cumbersome governmental methods may be realized from the fact that nearly four years have passed since congress in May, 1926, enacted the public buildings bill which instructed the secretary of the treasury to proceed with a comprehensive program for the construction of postoffices and other government buildings throughout the country.

More than three years have passed since Secretary of the Treasury Mellon and Postmaster General New, in January, 1927, submitted a joint report to congress in which it was stated that a site would be acquired for a new Chicago postoffice.

Nearly two years have passed since Budget Director Herbert M. Lord, in April, 1928, in a report to congress gave approval to the expenditure of an estimated total of $14,250,000 for the Chicago postoffice building, exclusive of $5,000,000 previously authorized for the purchase of the site.

Nearly two years have passed since congress, in a deficiency act in May, 1928, appropriated $300,000 for the beginning of construction work during the fiscal year 1929.

Chicago Firm Employed.

A year and a half has gone by since treasury officials made it known in October, 1928, that the Chicago firm of Graham, Anderson, Probst & White would be employed to design the exterior and floor plans.

The senate passed the public buildings bill today without debate or opposition. Minor senate amendments to the house bill will be concurred in by the house, probably tomorrow, and the bill should be signed by President Hoover by Friday or Saturday.

On the basis of the passage of the bill by the senate, Assistant Secretary of the Treasury Heath said that the task of completing the working drawings for the postoffice would be turned over without delay to Graham, Anderson, Probst & White, who finished their preliminary sketches some time ago.

"The time when contracts for actual construction of the building can be awarded will then be up to the architects," said Mr. Heath. "If the architects are able to prepare the foundation plans so that an approcible time may be saved by awarding separate contracts for the foundation and the building, such a policy will be followed.

"We are anxious to have the work begin at Chicago as soon as possible."

Boy, 3, Opposes Rescue by Firemen; Wants Police

Billy Lowes, 3 years old, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Lowes of Aurora, was released from the bathroom in the home of Mrs. William Henderson of Aurora yesterday by the fire department. Billy had locked himself in the bathroom while his mother was calling on Mrs. Henderson. The firemen forced a bathroom window. The boy protested against rescue by firemen and set up a cry for police. He struggled in the arms of his rescuer and was not quieted until he was restored to his mother.

Boston, Mass., March 25.—(AP)—State Representative Roland D. Sawyer of Ware, a Congregational minister, announced his candidacy for the United States senate on an unqualified wet platform today. Jail O'Donnell for Perjury as Gun Trial Ends

Bernard O'Donnell, a union business agent and brother of the notorious Klondike O'Donnell, was in jail last night charged with perjury while a jury deliberated his fate on a charge of carrying a concealed weapon. The perjury charge is an outgrowth of the gun trial.

The jury, reported to stand 9 to 3 for acquittal on the gun charge, was locked up for the night at 8 o'clock and a verdict, if one is reached, will be returned this morning.

O'Donnell was ordered to jail on a bench warrant issued by Judge Harry B. Miller in Criminal court, who was conducting the trial of the gun toting case. The defendant was taken into custody in the courtroom as soon as the jury had retired. Judge Miller fixed bond at $20,000, and O'Donnell was making futile efforts to post it last night. Perjury is punishable by a sentence of from 1 to 14 years in the penitentiary.

Denies Petition Claims.

The charge of perjury was made against O'Donnell after he had taken the stand in his own defense and testified that the weapon which he was charged with carrying did not belong to him. Before the opening of the trial he had entered a petition asking for the suppression of the evidence and the return of the revolver, claiming that it was his personal property.

"This court will not sit idly by and permit a direct and clear case of perjury to be committed," declared Judge Miller. "Perjury was either committed in one instance or the other."

The judge set 4 hearing on the perjury charge for Saturday.

Say He Owned Café.

O'Donnell was arrested on Feb. 12 when detectives found him in a café at 4654 West Madison street. Search revealed that he was carrying a revolver. Defense witnesses attempted to show that O'Donnell was the owner of the restaurant and had casually picked up the revolver found on his person. The weapon belonged to a partner of O'Donnell, a man named Israel, he testified.

Two members of the jury which was considering O'Donnell's case were accepted by the state despite their admissions that they had once been defendants in cases of their own.

Bad Chips Hit Monte Carlo Casino for $2,000 a Day

MONTE CARLO, Monaco, March 25. —(AP)—Counterfeit chips that are causing the casino to lose an average of $2,000 a day have brought a new calamity to this little principality. The casino chips are changed frequently and the counterfeiters apparently have a confederate within the casino who is able to duplicate them quickly. Both French and Italian police are working on the case.

WETS LEADING IN POLL OF 20 U. S. COLLEGES

Teachers Vote Same Way as Students.

Reports from the poll being taken among the faculties and students of twenty universities in the United States show great majorities for repeal or modification of the prohibition laws. The poll thus far shows:

UNIVERSITY OF MICHIGAN—Faculty votes for modification by large majority; students two to one for modification.

PRINCETON UNIVERSITY—Eighty-seven per cent of 1,888 students and faculty voting are for repeal or modification.

COLGATE—Seventy-one per cent favor modification or repeal.

LAFAYETTE—Large majority of both faculty and students vote repeal or modification.

NEW YORK UNIVERSITY—Large majority of both men and women students vote for either repeal or modification.

LITERARY DIGEST POLL—Eight out of ten cities from Connecticut to California report majorities against prohibition.

Ann Arbor, Mich., March 25.—[Special.]—A majority of the University of Michigan faculty were revealed today in a straw vote as favoring modification or repeal of prohibition and 5,000 of the student body went on record on the same question with an indicated vote of two to one for modification or repeal. The straw vote was conducted by the Michigan Daily, student newspaper.

The faculty men were given the opportunity of voting any one of five ways and although more of the teachers cast their ballots for strict enforcement than for any other plan, 56 per cent of the faculty scattered their votes among three anti-prohibition classifications. The tabulation of faculty vote follows:

For prohibition as at present	7
For strict enforcement	196
For Ontario control plan	117
For other modification proposals	65
For total repeal	75
Total	465

A cross section of the undergraduate voting indicates that the students stood about two to one for the latter three classifications, according to personal polls. The tabulated student vote will be made public tomorrow. Michigan has about 9,500 students registered. One faculty member, voting for repeal, said that a constitutional amendment must precede any other legislation.

Princeton Heavily Wet.

Princeton, N. J., March 25.—[Special.]—Eighty-seven per cent of the 1,888 undergraduates at Princeton university who voted here yesterday and today in the prohibition poll conducted by the Daily Princetonian, undergraduate newspaper, favor modification or repeal of the prohibition law and 44.2 per cent admitted they drink heavily. The percentage of moderate drinkers was 34.9 and the total abstainers 20.9. The final results were issued tonight.

Those who took part in the poll represent 87.1 per cent of the entire student body. The nondrinkers total 395. Of this number 317 abstain "because of personal taste" or distaste for liquor, 11 because of "legal restrictions" and 58 "because of family influence."

Eight to One Anti-Dry.

Of the total number voting, 20 would leave prohibition unchanged; 209 were for stricter enforcement; 966 voted for modification, and 675 for repeal.

In the classification "heavy drinkers" the poll was as follows: Seniors, 221, or 59 per cent; juniors, 249, or 55 per cent; sophomores, 227, or 43 per cent; freshmen, 139, or 26 per cent, making a total of 836, which is 44.2 per cent of all the votes.

Colgate Students Wet.

Hamilton, N. Y., March 25.—[Special.]—That 66 per cent of those at Colgate university drink and 71 per cent favor modification or repeal of prohibition was revealed in a poll conducted here today by the Colgate Maroons, the student newspaper.

Of the 440 who indicated that they used intoxicating beverages, 240 admitted having "been drunk." Of the 646 voting, 386 desired modification of the dry law, 170 were for stricter enforcement, 84 wanted a repeal of all

TRANSIT LINES READY TO GET CITY TO WORK

Chicagoans' chances of getting to work in the loop and to the downtown stores this morning are excellent, according to announcements from the executives of surface and elevated lines, the motor coach company and railroads operating suburban trains.

Forecaster C. A. Donnel of the weather bureau gave assurance last night that the blizzard is over.

After issuing his official forecast of "cloudy or partly cloudy with continued cold," Mr. Donnel said unofficially that the low pressure area which caused all the snow by hovering over Indiana for hours after it should have passed east, finally got started late last night, and early this morning was moving over the great lakes. There will be no more snow in Chicago today, he said, and the wind should die down this morning.

Elevated Tracks Cleared.

Shortly before midnight H. A. Johnson, general manager of the Rapid Transit lines, said: "The elevated lines will be in shape to give 100 per cent service in the morning. In addition to the regular cars we will put on 75 to 100 extra cars to accommodate those who may be unable to use the surface lines. We are now ahead of the storm in keeping the tracks clear, and we expect to keep ahead of it during the night."

The traffic office of the surface lines said its shovelers and plows are being concentrated on the main trunk lines and that officials expected to have tracks in the following thoroughfares cleared for service into the loop: Cottage Grove, Indiana, State, Clark-Wentworth, Archer, Halsted, Madison, Grand, Milwaukee, Broadway, and as many more as possible.

Bus Lines "in Good Shape."

"Most of our lines are in pretty good shape and we expect to offer 90 per cent service or better by morning," said W. J. Sherwood, general manager of the Chicago Motor Coach company.

Railroad superintendents were equally optimistic. "If the storm doesn't get any worse, we shall be operating on a 100 per cent schedule," said A. M. Umschler of the Illinois Central. P. G. Campbell of the Chicago & North Western said: "All our trains are running now and we do not expect any interference with service by morning."

Night traffic managers of the Yellow and Checker cab companies declared their service would be greatly improved this morning.

NO INCREASE IN TIPPLING AT N. U., DR. SCOTT SAYS

Drinking among college students has not increased but has become more conspicuous since prohibition, in the opinion of Dr. Walter Dill Scott, president of Northwestern university.

This statement by President Scott was elicited yesterday by reporters of the Daily Northwestern, student publication, conducting a survey of campus drinking and campus opinion following the recent testimony of Coaches A. A. Stagg and Fielding Yost before the house judiciary committee in Washington.

"In my opinion the only change in student drinking since prohibition has been a decrease in privacy and an increase in publicity," said President Scott.

"Tug" Wilson, director of athletics, said he believed student drinking had decreased since prohibition. Merrill Mundy, president of the men's union and star basketball player, finds "that quite a few students drink." He expressed the belief the students drink because of their fondness for intoxicating liquor and not because of any antipathy for the dry laws.

CHARGES BOY, 5, DRANK WITH DAD IN SPEAKEASIES

Arraigned on a disorderly conduct charge yesterday, Harry Gordon, 33 years old, of 2315 Hastings street, Evanston, was accused by his wife, Hannah, of taking their 5 year old son, Harry, to speakeasies and giving him liquor.

Mrs. Gordon charged that her husband remained drunk almost continuously, and was negligent in supporting her and the children. She caused his arrest and he was arraigned before Justice of the Peace James G. Barber.

Gordon was remanded to jail and Mr. Barber undertook an investigation.

British Jobless Figures Jump 57,993 in a Week

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, March 25.—The largest increase for the year in Great Britain's unemployed figures was revealed by the ministry of labor tonight for the week of March 17. The figures show that unemployment increased by 57,993 over the previous week.

FREAK BLIZZARD TAKES 4 LIVES; TIES UP TRAFFIC

Swirls East After Chicago Havoc.

Snow bound Chicago is shown in pictures that fill the entire back page of this edition.

The most violent March blizzard in Chicago's history was blowing itself out early this morning after playing havoc with urban life and transportation for a full 24 hours. At midnight the snow was reduced to light flurries.

Weather officials were surprised by the storm as much as were the citizens who awoke yesterday morning to gaze on the swirling snow and wonder how they were going to get to work. At the weather bureau the disturbance was described as a freak of nature, due to the fact that a low pressure area squatted over this territory instead of moving eastward as well behaved storm centers ought to do.

Traffic Is Paralyzed.

From its inception an hour after midnight yesterday until its gradual abatement early this morning the storm swept the city and surrounding territory with a northeast gale which laid approximately 12 inches of snow on the level and piled it into drifts six feet deep or more.

Street car and bus traffic was almost at a standstill last night, as it had been nearly all day. Electric and steam suburban trains limped along without attempting schedules, while hundreds of private automobiles and taxies marooned by drifts were evidence of the disruption of highway traffic.

In the blinding snow, which obscured the city like a cloud of steam, four men died; two under automobiles, one of a fall on a glassy pavement, and one of the exertion of struggling to work through drifts. There were two collisions on the Rapid Transit, which bore the major burden of the transportation load, and a collision of a suburban train, the injuries totaling six.

"Army" Clears Car Tracks.

An army of 20,000 men, more than half of these hired by the Chicago Surface Lines, toiled with shovels through the night to clear the streets for traffic this morning. Another 20,000 citizens, stranded downtown in the disruption of transportation facilities, slept meanwhile in loop hotels, all of which were crowded to capacity.

Chicago schools, which had but 65 per cent of full attendance yesterday, will be open today as usual. The milk supply, over which many mothers grew concerned, will not be curtailed. The milk council promised delivery of Chicago's 2,000,000 quarts, having 200 crews at work last night to clear highways which carry the supply from the farms.

Previous Storm Recalled.

The wind carried a sustained velocity of 30 miles an hour, which rose in frequent gusts to 50 miles, according to the bureau's instruments. In the city's worst previous storm, which, however, covered two full days instead of one, the average wind velocity was 30 miles and the snowfall for 48 hours was 12.6 inches. This was on March 30 and 31, 1926. The only record comparable with these two was a fall of seven inches on March 29 and 30, 1923.

In making his estimate that the storm in its 24 hour swirl around Chicago dumped an average of 12 inches of snow on the city and on large areas of Indiana and Illinois, Forecaster C. A. Donnel said that the last official measurement, taken at 7 p. m., showed 10.7 inches. The dwindling flurries through the night probably laid down another inch and a third of snow, he said.

DEATH TOLL OF STORM

In one of the hundreds of traffic accidents, Abraham Fallis, 65 years old, 930 North Franklin street, was literally blown from the Michigan avenue curb at Oak street beside the Drake hotel, into the path of a motor coach vehicle which crushed out his life.

A second traffic victim was Martin Bierne, 45 years old, 6822 Woodlawn avenue. Stockyards police found him unconscious and buried in a drift at 46th street and Union avenue. His skull had been fractured, supposedly by a hit and run driver or one unaware of the accident in the blizzard. He died in the County hospital.

A slippery walk brought death to Edgar Tompkins, Negro post office worker, whose neck was broken in a fall on the walk in front of his home at 4311 Forrestville avenue. He—h

Thompson, 52 years old, exhausted by the trudge from his home at 3402 Elaine place, collapsed and died upon reporting for work at the J. F. Smith Shoe factory, Huron and Sangamon streets.

THE ELEVATED WRECK

Five persons were injured and 200 passengers jarred from their seats when a loop bound elevated express to Jackson park rammed the rear of a Ravenswood local, which had stopped for passengers at the Fullerton avenue station. Occurring at 8:45 a. m., the collision impeded traffic for three hours, with the elevated lines already staggering under the extra load left by snowbound surface cars and buses.

The injured, all treated at the Alexian Brothers hospital, were: Patrick Clark, 27 years old, 8038 Justine avenue, motorman of the express train, both legs fractured; Samuel Holt, 40, a salesman of 4743 Kenmore avenue, riding on the rear platform of the local, possible internal injuries; Mrs. Ralph Engstron, 38 years old, 1204 Newport avenue, lacerations and bruises; Miss Clara Thulin, 2220 Wilson avenue, crushed finger, and Miss Ethel Amann, 19 years old, 4846 North Paulina street, bruised and wrenched back.

Transit officials absolved the injured motorman of blame, accepting his explanation that the blizzard left him riding almost blind in his cab. The storm was also blamed for the collision of a Wilson avenue and a Ravenswood local at Clark and Roscoe streets, in which a score were shaken but none was injured.

Crash on Aurora Line.

One man was hurt when a four car Chicago, Aurora and Elgin train, west bound from Chicago with approximately 50 passengers, struck the rear of an empty train which had stopped to switch to a side track at Glen Oaks. A trainman of the four car train, Joseph Urbuer, 7156 Monroe street, Forest Park, was taken to the Elmhurst hospital, possibly with internal injuries. Neither train was disabled.

The two traffic deaths increased Cook county's motor toll this year to 201. Among those seriously hurt in traffic were Harry Winkler, 20 years olds, 821 Lake street, Oak Park, whose sedan was struck by a Lake street elevated train at the Kenilworth avenue crossing, Oak Park, and Robert Wold, 35, a mail carrier of 1623 North Rockwell street, when, blinded by snow, he stepped into the path of a car at Lowell and North avenues.

THREE FIREMEN INJURED

As firemen began to breathe easier last night after nearly 20 hours of fighting their way through drifted streets to answer alarms, three injured firemen, were taken to the Swedish Covenant hospital, and a half dozen families were sent into the street, as the result of a blaze which broke out in the People's bakery, 3620 Lawrence avenue.

The injured firemen were Emmet Murphy, 4107 Grace street; Charles Peterson, 3738 New England avenue, and Otto Sanders, 4719 N. Springfield avenue. Sanders received a broken hip when he fell to the roof of a pent house as the roof of the burning building collapsed. The other two were overcome by smoke.

Firemen from Company 124 answered the call and experienced difficulty in finding the hydrants buried deep in the snowdrifts. The damage was estimated at $15,000.

One hundred residents were driven into the street by fire which swept an apartment building in the downtown district of Gary. The body of a man hurtled to the street when a wall of the building collapsed was believed to have been that of Carl Smith, 65 years old, who was reported missing.

Early this morning an explosion and fire caused damage estimated at $25,000 in the paint shop of the south transit shed at the east end of the Navy pier. The blast was attributed to spontaneous combustion by Fire Marshal Corrigan. Firemen on the pier and on a fireboat subdued the flames before they spread to nearby buildings.

SHORE LINE DAMAGE

The gale from off shore, churning up mountainous waves and raising the lake level, imperiled navigation and wrought unestimated damage along the lake front.

Horace Ramey, assistant engineer of the sanitary district, said the lake level rose 2.1 feet during the storm. H. O. Weege, superintendent of Lincoln park, said most of the recently built concrete sea wall between Oak street and North avenue had broken up under the pounding of the waves. He found the bridle path awash between North avenue and Belmont.

George T. Donoghue, superintendent of the south parks, attempted to make an inspection of the outer drive between 26th and 53d street but found the gale too severe to hazard the trip.

Capt. John O. Anderson, commander of the Evanston coast guard, saw waves running 15 feet and pronounced the marine storm as bad as that in which a car ferry foundered last summer. Capt. Harry J. Deletre, master of the Goodrich steamer Illinois made port at 2 p. m. after bucking high waves from Milwaukee.

The Illinois was due for another voyage at 8 p. m., but the sailing was canceled. Officials of the Pere Marquette, Grand Trunk, and Ann Arbor car ferry lines, operating vessels accustomed to sail in any weather, ordered all their vessels to remain in port at Grand Haven, Ludington, and Milwaukee. Ferry No. 6 of the Ann Arbor line, which put out from Manitowoc, Wis., turned back. The City of Saginaw and No. 21 arrived three hours late at Ludington after a stormy crossing.

RAILROADS DELAYED

Railroads reported inbound trains far behind schedule. Terminals were jammed with travelers who, unable to find hotel reservations, were compelled to spend the night on benches, due to the delay of departing trains on account of freezing switches and drifted rails in the terminal yards.

The Rock Island road reported its Rocky Mountain limited an hour and a half late from the west coast. The Chicago and Eastern Illinois cancelled two trains on account of the storm. The Hot Springs special of the Wabash road arrived three hours late, while the Missionary and the Hopi, express trains of the Santa Fe were each an hour and a half late in arriving.

Illinois Central and Michigan Central trains arrived at the Park Row station about an hour late on the average, most of the delay being due to clogged conditions in the Kensington yards at 115th street. The Panama limited and Floridan of the Illinois Central reached here with their sun bronzed passengers about two hours late.

THE CROWDED LOOP

How to get home was an acute problem last evening not only for returning travelers but for home town citizens. The telephone company alone engaged 950 rooms at the Hotel Sherman, La Salle and Morrison, to assure a force of operators reporting for duty this morning.

All of the 3,000 rooms of the Stevens were engaged, mostly by brokers. A loop publishing house took 40 rooms at the Stevens. The Western Electric and Western Union Telegraph companies took enough of the space at the Palmer House to fill that hostelry's 2,268 rooms before nightfall.

Taxicabs were at a premium. Disgruntled business men vainly waved $10 bills at drivers, who sped on, ignoring the bribes and not daring to stop lest their machines get stuck in the drifts. Buses, their flat wheels not equipped with chains, skidded and swerved in Michigan avenue, sometimes working crosswise on the street and thus blocking movement of private cars. The principal complaint of the surface lines was against motorists who, driving in the already plowed tracks, became marooned at crossings and thus blocked the cars.

California Swelters

Los Angeles, Cal., March 25.—[Special.]—This city sweltered for the second day in unseasonable heat yesterday. More than 50,000 left the city and spent the day on the beaches. Thousands of girls trod their way barelegged through the streets. The thermometers went to 85 yesterday, and stayed around that peak today.

The Chicago storm played whimsical tricks, delighting some, displeasing others, and casting one county highway policeman in his old rôle of cowboy.

Motorcycle Policeman Frank Sieradzki of the west park force, formerly of the great open spaces where men punch cattle, spent three hours in the blizzard riding herd on seven steers which had broken out of a truck wrecked against a bridge abutment at 28th street and California avenue. The truck driver, Lester Holm of Dwight, en route with the live stock to the stockyards, was blinded by snow and had failed to see the abutment. Patrolman Sieradzki rounded up six of the uninjured steers and shot a seventh, which had a broken leg.

Seven year old Gwendolyn Stevens was marooned for more than an hour in a six foot drift a few steps from her home, 1001 Woodbine avenue, Oak Park. When at 2 o'clock she failed to return home from the noon recess at Horace Mann school, her father went out to look for her. He finally found her hat atop adrift and, digging into it, discovered Gwendolyn, quite snug in an improvised igloo.

The theater managers, expecting to play to empty houses, were surprised to find the blizzard helping their business. Many downtown houses were sold out last night, and practically every legitimate and movie theater in the loop enjoyed the largest patronage in weeks. Theater men said that thousands, who had to spend the night at hotels, made up their minds after dinner to go to shows.

The Boys Brotherhood Republic established a blizzard service station at 1530 South Hamlin avenue. They rescued motorists with stalled cars or came to the aid of snowbound families who needed groceries. Boys more than 16 years old volunteered for the car starting work and those under 16 ran errands. The same service will be continued today for storm victims in the neighborhood, the Republic announced.

While heavy snows fell all about western Illinois and eastern Iowa, not a flake fell at Dubuque, the weather bureau reported. "No special reason—just a freak of the weather," said Forecaster Donnel.

Nine little girl pupils of St. Patrick's parochial school, Adams and Des Plaines streets, trudged to the nearby Des Plaines street police station, seeking transportation home in the patrol wagon. Capt. Ben Enright apologized, saying he was unauthorized to set a precedent and the children marched to Madison street to await a street car.

En route to the federal building from the county jail, the United States marshal's patrol wagon was stranded in a drift, winning six federal prisoners a twenty-four hour respite from court arraignment but compelling them to foot it back to jail.

Officials of Mount Carmel cemetery ordered a twenty-four hour postponement of twelve funerals scheduled for yesterday. Most of the undertakers refused to risk the trip to the cemetery, which is two miles west of Maywood on Roosevelt road, and the several who started out were forced back by the blizzard.

Merely to test the machinery, tenders of the Michigan avenue bridge raised the bascules about 11 a. m. Snow swept into the mechanism, wedging the leaves upright, and traffic was delayed twenty minutes until a crew of forty men put the bridge to rights. Harbor Master Charles Agnew reported trouble at other bridges all day.

The management of Loren Miller & Co., department store at Lawrence avenue and Broadway, won the gratitude of their uptown patrons. With street cars stalled, the management ordered out their delivery truck fleet to take employés home, and afterward provided free taxi service to customers.

Scores of persons stranded in the loop and along Michigan avenue last evening, waiting for taxicabs, were astonished with proffers of free rides in buses of the Greyhound lines. Officials of the company explained that twenty-two buses were operated, carrying passengers from the loop in all directions, from 5 p. m. until midnight.

Girl Dies of Mystery Wound; Man Is Hunted

Miss Mary Portugese, 22 years old, 900 Sibley street, died at the county hospital yesterday under mysterious circumstances, leaving behind her a note indicating suicidal intent, although she succumbed to a wound which physicians said she could not have inflicted herself. The police found her in her bed early yesterday with a large wound in the top of her head. A note under her pillow read, in part: "Nick is the cause of my death—you shouldn't cry over me." Near the bed were found a revolver and an exploded shell. A lead slug was buried in the wall of the room. Police questioned the young woman's brother, Joseph Portugese, 18 years old, and Philip Abruzino, 1310 West 13th street, without result. They are searching for the "Nick" referred to in the note.

Motor Club Receives Detailed Reports.

The snow storm that stalled automobiles, blinded drivers and wrecked cars on Chicago's streets yesterday extended over a large area and paralyzed traffic on the highways. There were machines in the ditches along the main highways and garages were swamped with calls for tow trucks.

At night fall, many of the highways were impassable and, with the drifting wind continuing, few roads were expected to be open to travel this morning.

Illinois Routes Blocked.

The following are reports received during the day by the Chicago Motor club:

Ill.—4 closed Odell to Bloomington and Dwight to Joliet.
Ill.—17 closed to Streator to Wenona.
Ill.—7 closed Ottawa to La Salle.
Ill.—8 closed east and west of Chenoa.
Ill.—26 closed south of Kankakee.
Ill.—1 closed north of Watseka.
Ill.—9 closed.

Rt. 24 closed Illinois line to Logansport.
Rt. 30, east of Valparaiso, has six to eight inches of snow on top of ice.
Rt. 31 has same conditions between South Bend and Rochester.

Practically all main roads closed by snow out of Springfield, Ill., according to reports received at 1:30 p. m. Those that are open are in bad condition and not recommended for traffic. Many cars in ditches.

Indiana Also Closed.

The fololwing reports were received from Indianapolis, Ind.:

U. S.—41 closed south of Kentland. Four to eight feet of snow in places. The highway department is making no effort to open this road today.

U. S.—31, Indianapolis to South Bend, is open but with six to seven inches of snow in South Bend.

Detroit, Mich., at noon reports deep snow with all roads passable but hazardous. Freezing with rain and sleet.

Peoria reported that drifts had blocked Ill.—8—and Ill.—30.

Decatur reported roads impassable between Bloomington and Pana. Danville, Ill., reported route 10 closed to Champaign and route 9 also closed.

As darkness fell, the drivers' visibility was porer because of glaring headlight reflections. Modern automobile headlights are not designed for travel in snowfall or fog. The lamps are so high from the ground, that light is reflected back into the driver's eyes. In the thick of the whirling snow last night, many drivers found they could see better with dimmed than with bright lights, or, in some cases, it was easier with no lights at all.

BLIZZARD A SHOCK TO THE WEATHER MAN; HOW IT FOOLED HIM

Forecaster C. A. Donnel was perhaps more upset by the storm yesterday than anybody else in Chicago. As a meteorologist, he considers he ought to know something about any such disturbance in advance, but he was taken as much unawares as the rest of Chicago.

Mr. Donnel blames a climatological freak for his modest prediction—"cloudy Tuesday; possible local rain or snow."

"There was a barometric depression over Indiana yesterday morning," he said. "This was the center of the storm, and according to all past performances it should have moved eastward by this morning. But it didn't. The low pressure center stayed right over Indiana all day and the winds rushing to it are causing this storm."

It was not until late last night that the storm took up its normal progress eastward, according to the forecaster.

BLIZZARD KILLS 5 CIRCUS PETS ON ARRIVAL HERE

The circus came to Chicago yesterday with the blizzard and lost several residents of its menagerie. A spring bok, which had begun life on the South African veldt, died of pneumonia. Two little monkeys from a tropical jungle were next, followed by two cockatoos that first had raised their racucous voices where they could perch on palmetto trees.

That was the way the Sells-Floto show came into this city yesterday morning and pushed its snow delayed way through the streets to the Coliseum. The performers and the canvasmen were cold from the struggle, because it is the motto of circuses to give good care to the animals.

Many of the circus employés worked for twelve hours, getting the show off the cars in the blizzard swept yards near the Twelfth street station of the Illinois Central, and starting the wagons going toward and into the Coliseum. The noise of the wind, the beating of the snow on their cages, and some delay in their feeding enraged the lions and tigers and there were roars of lamentation.

Elephants are hot weather animals, too, and last night the "bull men" were watching for signs of pneumonia among them, as were the keepers among the lions and tigers. Anxiety was felt for the camels, whose protests against the blizzard had sounded like those of angry children.

No. Chicago, Waukegan to Resume Daylight Saving

Two north shore cities, Waukegan and North Chicago, will have daylight saving time this summer. The councils of the two cities yesterday passed ordinances providing for the resumption of daylight saving time on Sunday, April 27, at 2 a. m. The measures provide that central standard time shall be resumed Sunday, Sept. 28, at 2 a. m.

PHILADELPHIA IS MILWAUKEE AID ON DAYLIGHT TIME

Milwaukee, Wis., March 25.—[Special.]—Officials of the committee on daylight saving today received a letter from the Philadelphia board of trade congratulating them on the efforts being made to move the clocks ahead one hour during the summer months.

H. H. Wills, secretary of the board, said that labor in Philadelphia not only urged but demanded daylight saving, and has cooperated 100 per cent in promoting it in that city.

Mr. Wills declared the city administration, school board officials and public utilities have advocated the daylight saving plan in Philadelphia.

It's Always Fair Weather When Good Values Get Together

And since Anniversary Week is one of the greatest get-togethers of good values that Chicago has seen, we're inclined to think that, regardless of the condition underfoot, it's mighty fine shopping weather.

In fact, the tremendous crowds that thronged Mandel's store on Monday, and the really considerable numbers that were here Tuesday—in spite of the worst Spring blizzard on record—confirm our opinion that Anniversary Week in Mandel's Seventy-fifth Anniversary celebration has, and will continue to provide, the best shopping weather that Chicago's seen in many a generation.

It's a regular convention of good values! And a lot of good critics are proving their recognition of good values, good weather or bad, by shopping at Mandel's in this Anniversary Week celebration . . . proving that any day is a fair day that provides a fair means of saving a dollar! All of which proves beyond question that it's a modern anniversary of

- a store of fashion
- a store of . . . . moderate price

CANADIANS PASS BILL BANNING RUM FOR U. S., 173-11

BY GEORGE SMITH.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

OTTAWA, Ont., March 25.—Amid the laughter and jeers of the Liberal government members, practically the whole of the Conservative party membership today voted for the prime minister's bill to ban liquor exports to the United States. The measure was given third and final reading in the house of commons by a vote of 173 to 11.

Buffeted and taunted by Conservative criticism and denunciations, Prime Minister Mackenzie King forced the house division on his own bill. Its passage was assured, but Liberals, including the premier, all of whom were actual supporters of the measure, cast preliminary negative votes and then arose in a body to force the speaker to "call in the members" and record their votes.

Now up to Senate.

This almost unprecedented action on the part of the government in respect of its own bill was taken because, as Ernest Lapointe, minister of justice, declared, the Conservatives had taken a "Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde" attitude on the bill, and talked against it while intending to vote for it.

The galleries were crowded for the final commons scene in connection with the bill. Senators, who will now have the bill in hand in the upper chamber, crowded their railed sanctum overlooking the commons floor, following the vote with keen interest. The 173 to 11 majority recorded for the bill is one of the largest on commons' records, and the total vote of 184 out of a possible 244 votes indicates a remarkably large attendance of members.

Minister Under Fire.

In a furious political assault preceding the vote, Richard Bennett, Conservative leader, called upon William D. Euler, minister of national revenue, to resign his government portfolio.

Last year Mr. Euler spoke vigorously against banning liquor exports to America, and today Mr. Bennett charged that Mr. Euler was accepting the prime minister's "insult of a bill opposed to the views he then expressed." Mr. Euler replied in effect that he still felt a liquor export ban to America difficult of enforcement, but he was bowing to the will of the majority.

Henri Bourassa, Quebec Independent Liberal, again tweaked Uncle Sam's whiskers with sarcastic references to American government efforts to collect income tax on bootleggers' profits. His sarcasm was directed against what he termed the American government's pledge not to reveal the source of income if the bootlegger would come clean on his income sheet.

CHARGE FIXERS MOCK LAW IN TRAFFIC COURT

Police Advisers Map Out Cleanup Campaign.

BY HAL FOUST.

Police Commissioner Russell's safety committee yesterday heard charges of corruption and stupidity in arrests and prosecutions for traffic violations. The charges were made by Chief Justice Olson of the Municipal court and Judge Padden of the Speeders' court.

The committee, headed by Elmer Stevens and Col. A. A. Sprague, decided upon a vigorous campaign to abate the evils. The drive will be postponed until after the primary election on April 8, so that politics will play no part.

"Only one man in four whose names appear on my court sheets ever shows up for trial," Judge Padden declared. "The fixers are on every side. I'd suggest eliminating the Speeders' court, where the traffic business is concentrated and convenient for the fixers. I'd return the traffic cases to the precinct police courts."

Judge Olson Charges Fixing.

"We want to keep the traffic cases out of precinct courts where ward politics used to work its influence," Commissioner Russell protested.

"There's fixing on the road, too," Judge Olson retorted. "I've heard several reports, and I've had two personal experiences.

"About two weeks ago a policeman stopped me while I was driving on the south side. He said I was speeding and he wanted a $5 bill. My bailiff was with me, so I called court to order there in the car. I then asked the officer if he would take an oath that I was speeding.

"The officer tried to laugh the situation off after I had identified myself. He said, 'We're old friends, judge. I helped you send a couple of murderers to the rope when you were a prosecutor.' He's an old man, about 65, so I didn't do anything more about it."

Russell Asks Coöperation.

"Such things may happen in isolated instances on the Chicago police force," Commissioner Russell said. "What I need is public coöperation to keep the department clean. I want the motoring public to report such occurrences to me, and I'll take the proper steps before the trial board."

Judge Padden had other criticisms. He said that policemen, to make a record for a large number of arrests, were concentrating on pavements where it is safe to drive faster than the statutory limit.

"The other day," he related, "a policeman brought in a man for driving 40 miles an hour on the outer drive. I dismissed the case and told the officer it would be more sensible to arrest any one going less than forty miles an hour for blocking traffic.

"On streets where there is lots of cross traffic, where there are many pedestrians, and where it would be dangerous to speed, the motorcycle men do not operate because their total number of arrests would be few.

Padden Criticises Police.

"Furthermore, a majority of my speed cases are for going no more than 36 miles an hour. Every day I see many machines driven recklessly and at much greater speeds.

"Of the cases for failure to stop for a stop sign, I notice that the police have favorite spots for making these arrests, places where the sign is not conspicuous. Why not correct the physical conditions of the place rather than use it for making arrests? But my principal complaint is that the fixers keep traffic cases from reaching court."

"I'll make all speeders furnish cash bond, if it is necessary to get them before a judge," Commissioner Russell suggested.

"We had to cut that out a few years ago because the coppers used it as a lever for shake downs," Judge Olson commented.

"I'll follow the recommendations of the committee," said Commissioner Russell.

"We'll make a general investigation and work on a general reform as soon as the election is out of the way," Mr. Stevens declared.

TWO AFRICAN DIAMOND FACTORIES CLOSED; ALL EMPLOYES FIRED

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

CAPE TOWN, South Africa, March 25.—After a short revival of diamond cutting, two Cape Town factories have finally given all of their employes notice. It is also reported that a factory in the north is closing down. Most of the workers were imported from Belgium, and as a result of being let out, they will be turned out of the diamond cutters' world union, being boycotted when they return to Belgium.

Employers and employes blame the government for not helping them tide over the period of the slump. One factory manager said fortunes have been lost by firms which had been encouraged by the promises of government sympathy and had erected factories in South Africa. One big factory is still carrying on but it is understood that it will close down shortly.

A message from the Rand states that the diamond industry there is at a standstill, that the exodus of the cutters continues, and that it is not expected that a cutter will be left by the middle of the year.

SAYS HE'S BILLY SUNDAY'S SON, LADY GODIVA

BY KATHLEEN McLAUGHLIN.

Patrolman Albert Skulka didn't guess just how far wrong he was yesterday when he arrested what he fancied was a typical Madison street bum. The man was wavering unsteadily down Wells street in the condition known in the parlance of that street as "three sheets in the wind." The prisoner said the name was Smith. Papers and cards in his pockets bore out a later admission that he was George M. Sunday, son of that vigorous opponent of his Satanic Majesty, Billy Sunday, evangelist. Later police revised their opinion to another—that they had locked up Lady Godiva.

"Drunk and disorderly" was the charge cited by Skulka, who reported encountering this individual on Wells street. A gray fedora of uncertain age but probably excellent origin was jammed down over his ears. Despite the chilling blasts he wore no overcoat, and some sportive instinct had impelled him to don his suit coat with the silk lining worn outside, contrary to custom. His feet were patent leather shod.

Gives Chicago Address.

Answering readily to the name of Sunday, he told police he had been living at 1028 North Mango avenue. Three old telegrams from Seattle were in his pocket, one signed "Elsie," the other two "Florence." They referred to a dreary Christmas and hopes for a happier New Year, and were addressed to Irving Ellipsen, 1028 North Mango avenue.

In the hoosegow, the temporary guest of the city took exception to the heating system, which he criticized in sulphurous phrases as considerably below par. A friendly policeman invited him out to warm himself with a cup of hot coffee. As the prisoner ambled toward the steaming pot a photographer's flashlight exploded. He retired in complete silence to his cell.

Prisoner Becomes Historical.

A few minutes later he unloosed a vocabulary of torrid expletives in resentment against the picture and its maker, then yelled:

"Come here. If you want a picture I'll give you one," and even the photographer blushed. His subject was ready to pose—and in comparison Lady Godiva herself was overdressed. "I'm Lady Godiva," shouted the cell occupant to Jimmie Burns, lockup keeper. "Get me a horse and I'll ride right down State street tonight."

He was informed by the pink faced lockup keeper that all Chicago's "paddy wagons" are motor driven, consequently the crowds shivering in the blizzard while they waited for trolleys and buses would have to be denied the spectacle.

Sunday in Trouble Before.

George M. Sunday had been in and out of trouble on several occasions. He slipped out of Hollywood last November with Mauryne La Salle, cloak model, and was traced to Warsaw, Ind., where the trail was lost. Charges of adultery are pending against the pair in Los Angeles court on complaint of his wife, Mrs. Harriet Sunday.

He operated a real estate business in Los Angeles, and after disappearing was also charged with larceny of a rented automobile. In 1923 he apparently tried to commit suicide by asphyxiation, from which he was rescued by his chauffeur.

DELAY INQUEST IN POLL KILLING OF SLAUGHTER

Coroner Herman N. Bundesen yesterday continued the inquest into the slaying of William Slaughter, colored evangelist and worker for the Thompson faction in the 42d ward, who was shot to death on registration day near his polling place at 1063 Division street. The coroner said he wished to consult Deputy John Stege as to certain features of the evidence and that he expected to reconvene the hearing late this week.

Chicago avenue police expressed surprise, declaring that nine witnesses, held under surveillance for fear they may be intimidated, are being housed at hotels at the city's expense. Much new evidence has developed, according to the police.

John Pampinella, Deneen captain in the precinct, who was arrested at the time, is free on $7,500 bonds.

DURANT HEIRESS ASKS ARREST OF THIRD HUSBAND

Newark, N. J., March 25.—(AP)—Mrs. Margery D. Cooper, daughter of William C. Durant, financier and industrialist, today appeared before Justice of the Peace Joseph H. E. Scotland and swore out a warrant for her husband, John Hampton Cooper, charging perjury.

Mrs. Cooper, accompanied by her counsel, W. Howard Demarest, asserted that at the time of her marriage to Cooper, a New York broker, he represented himself as single, whereas he had been married before. The couple were married here last April 15 by Mayor Jerome T. Congleton.

The marriage was Mrs. Cooper's third, she having been divorced from her first and second husbands.

DEMOCRAT GOES IN AS MAYOR IN KANSAS CITY, MO.

Kansas City, Mo., March 25.—(AP)—The Democratic organization, led by Bryce B. Smith, millionaire baker mayoralty candidate, rode to the greatest triumph in its history in the municipal election here today.

The Democrats not only elected the mayor. With but 55 of the city's 458 precincts missing at midnight, Smith was leading George E. Kimball, Republican candidate for mayor, by 22,817 votes and the Democratic candidates for the eight councilmanic seats and the two municipal judgeships were far ahead of their Republican opponents.

The vote for mayor was: Smith, 74,440; Kimball, 52,623.

J. R. NUTT QUITS BANK; DENIES HE WILL HEAD G. O. P.

Cleveland, O., March 25.—(AP)—Recent reports that Joseph R. Nutt, prominent Cleveland banker, was to be named national chairman of the Republican party were followed today by his resignation as president of the Union Trust company, one of the largest banks in the middle west.

Nutt has denied the reports that he would become Republican chairman. He is now treasurer of the Republican national committee.

Dry Raiders Destroy Still Connected with Rug Plant

Dry agents yesterday announced the destruction of a 1,000 gallon alcohol still and cookery in the rear of the Rainbow Rug Cleaning plant at 4628 Fullerton avenue. According to C. Edson Smith, deputy dry administrator, the still was separated from the rug cleaning apparatus only by a partition and the same boilers were used for both. Emil Meyer, owner of the plant, and two employés, Edwin Biske and Len Schlueter, were arrested. The agents destroyed 48,000 gallons of mash and 650 gallons of alcohol, they said.

PAIR REPORTED INDICTED IN NIGHT CLUB SHOOTING

CRIMINAL COURT.

William Kubish and Harold Hoagland, robbery, sentenced to one year to life in the penitentiary by Judge D. J. Normoyle.

Harry Voller, manager of Texas Guinan, and his bodyguard, Arthur Reed, were reported named in a true bill voted by the grand jury yesterday charging them with assault with intent to kill as a result of the shooting of Leon Sweitzer at the Green Mill café early Sunday morning. Bonds were reported fixed at $25,000 for each. The charge carries a penalty of one to fourteen years upon conviction.

While the grand jury was hearing witnesses to the shooting, Sergt. Thomas Meagher of the detective bureau received a wire from Chief of Police Copelan of Cincinnati informing him that Voller is wanted there for assault and attempt to kill.

Sweitzer is in the Lake View hospital recovering from three wounds, inflicted, he told police, by Voller because he tried to collect rent for the Green Mill, which he had leased to Voller. A third man, still at liberty, was also accused in the shooting. Voller and Reed yesterday were termed dangerous former convicts by Assistant State's Attorney Abe Marovitz, who presented the evidence against them to the grand jury.

DELAY MILITARY PROBE OF BOOKS OF COL. C. J. KRAFT

While two other investigations are under way, a military inquiry into the accounts of Col. Charles J. Kraft, commandant of the 202d Coast artillery, Illinois National Guard, and in charge of the Broadway armory, will not be started until Gen. Abel Davis, a member of the inquiry board, returns to the city. This was announced last night by Gen. John J. Garrity and Gen. Frank Schwengel the other members of the board appointed by Col. Richings J. Shand, acting adjutant general of the Illinois National Guard.

The removal of Col. Kraft was ordered after State Auditor Oscar Nelson's office had discovered that money obtained from rental of the armory had not been accounted for. United States District Attorney George E. Q. Johnson said the government was not ready to announce what action will be taken against Col. Kraft.

RAILROADS DENY STATE POWER TO END GRADE EVIL

Authority of the Illinois commerce commission to compel the elevation of railroads at grade crossings in north shore towns was questioned yesterday at a hearing before the commission. The question will be argued by attorneys for the railroads and the towns at Springfield on April 9.

The towns seeking grade crossing separations are Kenilworth, Winnetka, Glencoe, and Highland Park. The railroads involved are the Chicago, North Shore and Milwaukee railroad; the Chicago, Milwaukee, St. Paul and Pacific railway; the North Western, and the Chicago Rapid Transit company.

Pilot of Beery's Plane to Be Buried at La Grange

The body of George Maves, 24 years old, the pilot of Wallace Beery's biplane, who, with his wife, Mrs. Cynthia Maves, 19 years old, and Lynn H. Hayes, 26, was killed instantly when the biplane crashed in flames near Alhambra, Cal., on Monday, will be sent to La Grange for burial. Maves' father, William Maves, 631 North Spring avenue, La Grange, a carpenter, said yesterday that he was making arrangements for the body of his son to be sent there, while that of Mrs. Maves will remain in Los Angeles, where her parents live. The pilot also is survived by his mother, Mrs. Rose Maves; two sisters, Margaret, 21 years old, and Edna, 19, and a brother, Kenenth, 12, all of La Grange.

Believe Young Amnesia Victim Is Lyons Girl

A girl who fainted at the corner of South Rockwell and 65th streets Monday night and, unable to tell her name, was taken to the Juvenile Detention home, where she was declared to be a victim of amnesia, yesterday was partially identified through a phone number found in her purse. Englewood police, tracing her through the number, believe she is Anna Yambyk, 2702 Ogden avenue, Lyons. Friends of the Yambyk girl are on their way to Chicago to try to identify her.

Convict 9 Communists on Disorderly Conduct Charge

The nine communists arrested on Feb. 21 for attempting to storm the city hall in an unemployment demonstration were found guilty of disorderly conduct by a jury in Judge Freeman L. Fairbanks' court yesterday. They were fined from $1 to $60. Miss Lydia Oken and Paul Cline, said to be the leaders, were fined the maximum of $60. The jury deliberated nine hours.

FLOOR OF HOUSE AGAIN SCENE OF ATTACK ON DRYS

Washington, D. C., March 25.—[Special.]—The prohibition controversy broke out again today on the floor of the house, with Representative David J. O'Connell [Dem., N. Y.] assailing the eighteenth amendment as "a costly, fallacious, and unworkable experiment."

Reviewing some of the testimony presented at the house judiciary committee wet and dry hearings, O'Connell declared that all of the indexes, furnished by the drys themselves, indicate a spread of the illicit alcoholic traffic. He cited figures showing steady increases in deaths from alcoholism, arrests for drunkenness, and alcoholic insanity in all parts of the country.

Committee hearings on the wet-dry issue will be resumed tomorrow with drys as the witnesses.

The city of Washington, meanwhile, had a new local liquor scandal on its hands, with a possibility that it may figure in the capitol controversy.

Before a subcommittee of the house district committee last night, Henry W. Lynn, a Washington citizen, testified that he has seen pupils of the Eastern High school buying and drinking whisky. His statement brought a flood of denials today from school officials and United States District Attorney Leo A. Rover announced that he would quiz Lynn with a view to starting a grand jury investigation.

Punjab Council Rejects Bill to Prohibit Liquor

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LAHORE, India, March 25.—The legislative council of Punjab today defeated a prohibition bill by a vote of 23 to 22. Indirect attempts are to be made to reduce drinking, however, through the government's gradual reduction of the number of establishments selling liquor. Should a tendency toward an increase in consumption appear, this will be checked through an increase of the liquor duty.

SNOW'S TICKET FILLED; TIE UP WITH FOES SEEN

War Among Independents' Forces Looms.

BY PARKE BROWN.

Chairman Snow of the Cook county Republican central committee announced yesterday that his organization's ticket had been completed by the filling of the three blank spaces still remaining on the original slate.

In the selections was seen an effort to draw to the organization some of the support gathered by two independent movements—the Elmore ticket for the sanitary district and the Business Men's Republican organization ticket for the county board. The former is said to have made inroads upon Deneen strength on the south side and the latter has gathered force among a number of business men's organizations.

Put on Snow Ticket.

In each instance the Snow managers are believed to have used practical politics. Two places on the Snow county board ticket were left open. The business men's or Lonnquist candidates landed on the ballot immediately below the Snow filings and the first two on the Lonnquist slate now are hooked up to the eight immediately ahead of them on the Snow ticket. And the Snow selection for one of the drainage board full terms was the first name on the ballot for this office.

That was the name of William G. Tegtmeier, president of the Southtown Finance corporation, a vice president of the Greater South Side Chamber of Commerce, who, it is believed, was chosen partly because he is a south sider. This point is considered of political importance because the five candidates on the "civic ticket" indorsed by the Deneen camp include only one south sider. Tegtmeier goes into the place on the Snow-city hall ticket vacated by the withdrawal of James Beckwith.

The two candidates for county commissioner picked up owe their selection partly to the fact that they were first on the Lonnquist slate because they were at the top alphabetically. One is A. O. Anderson, 5639 Kenmore avenue, who was elected to the city council from the 33d ward and served five years there. The other is Lawrence W. Ferguson, president and treasurer of the Ferguson Coal company, who lives at 534 Stratford place.

War Among Independents.

It became apparent during the day that the sporadic war between independent forces in this campaign may be one of its liveliest features. Albert R. Brunker made public the indorsements of the Civic Safety commission, but his announcement was preceded a short time by a blast from Robert McCormick Adams, executive chairman of the Business Men's Republican organization, in which he used an appellation for Brunker that veterans said might be one of those coinages that stick.

"The Business Men's Republican organization," said the Adams statement, "wishes to make an extraordinary announcement.

"The public is about to hear the resounding paeans of the one and only original one man band. This is the list of the personnel: Trombone, Albert R. Brunker; bass drum, Albert Brunker; snare drum, Albert Brunker; traps and simulated sounds, Mr. Brunker, himself."

The Brunker Indorsements.

The Brunker indorsements covered only the county board and the sanitary district.

Those indorsed included five of the Deneen county commissioner candidates in the city, two of the Deneen commissioner candidates in the country towns and the five Deneen candidates for the sanitary district. For the other five commissionerships from the city and the other three country town places candidates of the Business Men's Republican organization were indorsed.

When the offices of the election commissioners closed last night more than 11,000 applications to erase names from the poll lists had been filed. Opponents of Morris Eller, seeking re election as Republican committeeman from the 20th ward, became so heated in their demands that police were called. Hearings on the challenges will be held for the next three days.

NEW YORK TO SPEND 2 BILLIONS ON PUBLIC WORKS IN FOUR YEARS

New York, March 25.—[Special.]—The city's program for construction of public improvements during the next four years already pledged or contemplated totals approximately two billion dollars, Controller Berry disclosed today at a meeting of the board of estimate. His announcement was an answer to Socialist party demands for enlightenment on measures proposed by the city to relieve unemployment.

The board already has authorized appropriations this year totaling $500,000,000, the controller added, and probably would release $500,000,000 more before the year is ended.

BILLBOARD TAX TO TAKE EFFECT IN NEW JERSEY

Trenton, N. J., March 25.—[Special.]—The Jones bill to regulate and tax outdoor advertising in New Jersey became law today. Gov. Larson signed the bill after the senate had reconsidered its action of last night when the act was amended to exclude billboards and electric signs on the Atlantic City board walk from the regulatory provisions.

The bill requires a license for billboards and prohibits advertising equipment being placed on roads where it might endanger traffic or where adjacent property would be damaged. The bill was brought out of committee over protests of advertising interests and occasioned in the senate today the liveliest debate of the year's session.

The new measure taxes all billboards three cents per square foot, prohibits any billboards within 500 feet of a road intersection, and places regulation of them with the state motor vehicle commissioner.

MINERS' UNION BOARD EXPELS 20 INSURGENTS

Indianapolis, Ind., March 25.—[Special.]—Twenty leaders in the insurrection movement against international officials of the United Mine Workers of America were "permanently expelled" from the organization today following their failure to appear for trial before the International executive board. The announcement was made by John L. Lewis, international president, after the board unanimously adopted a resolution ordering the expulsions.

The twenty include: Alexander Howat, president of the Kansas Miners' union and newly chosen international president of the insurgents; John H. Walker, president of the Illinois Federation of Labor; Harry Fishwick, president of the Illinois Miners' union; and Walter Nesbitt, treasurer of the Illinois Miners' union.

DEMOCRAT GOES IN AS MAYOR OF KANSAS CITY, MO.

Kansas City, Mo., March 25.—(AP)—The Democrats apparently had retained control of the city council and elected their candidate for mayor and the two municipal judgeships on the face of complete unofficial returns from 265 of the 458 precincts in the city election here today.

ATTEMPTS SUICIDE ON TRAIN.

Michael Novotny, 50 years old, a laborer from Los Angeles, cut his wrists in an attempt at suicide yesterday morning while on a train nearing Chicago. Police took him to the county hospital, where he said he was "disgusted with life."

NO SNOWSHOES! SENATE BATTLE GETS REST HERE

Storm Balks Deneen Talk; Mrs. McCormick Away.

BY ARTHUR EVANS.

Politics floundered around in the blizzard with chilblains yesterday. The senatorial battle looked like a day's campaigning among the Eskimos. Senator Charles S. Deneen's night meeting in the Lithuanian auditorium, 3133 South Halsted street, was called off. Lack of snowshoes.

Six hardy Lithuanians had stamped into the hall at 9 o'clock with six inch clogs of snow on their shoes and looking like six arctic explorers. So they called it a night. Halsted street itself was lined with stalled street cars, hooded with snow, and it was one night when candidates one and all refrained from the time honored gag, "How am I running? Just like a street car."

Mrs. McCormick in Springfield.

Meanwhile, in a balmier clime a couple of hundred of miles or so south, Ruth Hanna McCormick was delayed by the snow and ice in her trip from Beardstown to Springfield, but was able to make her speaking engagement at the capital, Gov. and Mrs. Emmerson were on the platform with Mrs. McCormick, as the governor was at the recent Deneen meeting. Mrs. McCormick spoke on the world court.

Many a typewriter at various headquarters was snowbound, and many a candidate, parking his alpenstock in the corner, found himself too weary to transfer his burning thoughts to manuscript. Consequently no "advances" were sent out on most of the speeches that were undelivered.

Labor Is Day's Theme.

An announcement was sent out by R. L. Redcliffe, chairman of the labor committee at McCormick headquarters, that fifteen central labor councils in Illinois industrial cities, from the mining districts in Egypt to Chicago and Rockford on the north, have filed written indorsements of Mrs. McCormick with the committee.

"Likewise," said Mr. Redcliffe, "more than 200 labor unions in the state have filed their indorsements. Support of Mrs. McCormick is being sought by a statewide organization of union men, with nearly 2,000 labor leaders, reaching into each county and city. It demonstrates the feeling of the rank and file of labor."

Deneen headquarters put forth a booklet containing the labor record of Senator Deneen, which he was to have used for a text at the Lithuanian rally.

"During the administration of Mr. Deneen as governor," the booklet says, "the department of factory inspection was entirely reorganized and made a separate department. Its work was extended to provide for the promotion of the health, safety, and comfort of industrial workers, the guarding of hazardous and dangerous machinery, for the establishment of proper ventilation, sanitation in factories, mills, and workshops, seats for women employes, etc.

"The woman's ten hour law, enacted in 1909, was the most comprehensive ten hour law in the country at that time. The child labor law brought about the lowest percentage of child labor in any state in the union."

PUT CITY FINANCE HOUSE IN ORDER, STRAWN ADVISES

Talks with Aldermen on Tax Warrant Sale.

Silas H. Strawn, chairman of the citizens' rescue committee, appeared yesterday in the rooms of the council finance committee in response to an invitation given at the insistence of Ald. Oscar F. Nelson [45th]. Only a few aldermen attended, due to the storm, and the antagonism which it had been predicted would develop failed to materialize. A friendly conference was held in the office of Ald. John S. Clark [30th], chairman of the council group.

One question which Ald. Nelson had announced he would ask was uppermost in the minds of the aldermen. It was based on the statement of President Caldwell of the school board that four New York banks had expressed a willingness to purchase 1930 tax anticipation warrants if the approval of two Chicago bankers could be obtained. The aldermen wanted to know the reason for the reported refusal of the Chicago bankers which was said to have resulted in holding up the sale.

Confer with Traylor.

From Mr. Strawn the committee learned that the Chicago bankers have no objection to the sale of warrants to outsiders. Later in the day he took President Caldwell to a conference with Melvin A. Traylor of the First National bank. The results of that meeting, according to the conferees, will be announced today.

"I don't think Chicago bankers have any objections to any one else buying the 1930 warrants," said Mr. Strawn. "I have labored zealously to have them advance money to the local governments and they responded with $25,000,000 to the Cook County Taxpayers' trust after citizens had subscribed $50,000,000. The psychology of the situation is that others would hesitate to buy, as the maturity date of the 1930 warrants is uncertain.

"I think that you are premature in agitating the situation now. After the 1929 reassessment is finished, the warrants of that year liquidated, and the 1929 reassessment and a legislative program started I believe that you will be able to sell your warrants. I don't think that you, Ald. Nelson, need be melancholy."

6 Per Cent Vexes Nelson.

"I am not melancholy," retorted Ald. Nelson. "The reverse, rather. I am incensed that the city has to pay 6 per cent interest on its warrants when our per capita debt is smaller than that of any other large cities."

Mr. Strawn replied: "If you don't pay your grocery bill the charge is higher when you buy more groceries.

"I have no other purpose than to help you with New York banks and everybody. But I don't think it will do any good until you arrange your financial house in better order. You should bring pressure to bear on the responsible officials to complete the reassessment, which should have been finished a year ago."

APPROPRIATIONS OF $32,000,000 ARE ASKED OF COUNCIL

Appropriations of approximately $32,000,000 from the bond, water and vehicle tax funds were recommended to the council yesterday by its finance committee. The action completed the work of the aldermen on the 1930 appropriations unless a "baby" budget is voted before July 1 to supplement the distribution of the city's tax money.

The appropriation of $10,424,700 in the bond budget exhausts the bond funds. These have diminished under the Thompson administration because no other bond issues have been passed. The vehicle tax budget of $5,096,285 shows an increase of nearly $700,000 for street repair work.

The water budget calls for expenditures of approximately $17,000,000, of which more than $3,000,000 is dependent on the sale of water certificates which pledge the future revenues from the sale of water. A case is now before the Supreme court to test the validity of the certificates which City Controller Schmidt has twice refused to issue.

In the bond budget the aldermen made provision for the high priced experts who received more than $900,000 from the city during 1929. A total of 42 experts will receive $20 to $100 a day each.

RUSSIA PROTESTS FRENCH CHARGES IN KIDNAP CASE

Denies Reds Had Hand in Czarist Mystery.

BY JAY ALLEN.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

PARIS, March 25.—Acting on orders from Maxim Litvinoff, Valerian Dovgalevsky, Russian ambassador to Paris, called on Foreign Minister Briand tonight to protest against the savage attacks by the French press against the soviets in connection with last night's revelations concerning the disappearance of Gen. Alexander Koutiepoff, leader of the czarist Russian exiles.

Although a rupture in France's relations with Russia has become a threatening possibility as a result of the police announcement that the chief of the white Russians was kidnaped and placed aboard a ship on the coast of Normandy, Dovgalevsky registered what is understood to have been a vigorous objection to the charge of his government's complicity in the affair.

Briand's Answer Kept Secret.

What M. Briand told him, nobody knows, but it is recalled that shortly after the general's disappearance, when everybody believed that the general had been kidnaped by the cheka but when there was no evidence to prove that he had been kidnaped at all, Premier Tardieu declared that if the Russian government didn't like the tone of the French press, it could always sue the offending papers in the French courts.

The nationalist newspaper La Liberté, which forced the hand of the French police last night by a sensational extra, which stated that Gen. Koutiepoff is in Loubianka prison, tonight came forth with an equally sensational demand for immediate rupture with the soviets. Editor Camille Aymard also defied both his own government and the Russian government to prosecute him on his formal statements that Joseph Stalin, Russian dictator, is a criminal and Dovgalevsky is the agent for a band of assassins.

Deputies to Air Case.

The rest of the press, obviously acting on the government's orders, is maintaining a certain moderation. But the other papers make no bones about their belief that it was the cheka which was responsible for such a flagrant violation of French laws.

What attitude the French government intends to take is not yet known, but interpellations in the chamber of deputies are expected within the next few days, which will force the government to show its hand.

The affair had an echo in the senate today when Senator Japy asked that the $750,000 for the upkeep of the French embassy at Moscow be struck from the budget. Invoking the courtesy which he said the government owes all foreign envoys in Paris, M. Briand asked M. Japy to withdraw his demand, which he did.

Ohioan First Kills His Sweetheart.

VIENNA, March 25.—(AP)—The mystery surrounding the disappearance of Dr. Hermann [Ernst] Watzl, Cleveland chemist and inventor, born in Austria, was cleared today after an inquiry in three continents for four months.

The body of a man found shot dead in a dingy hotel room yesterday was definitely identified as that of the chemist by his father, H. Watzl. A woman lying near Watzl's body and also shot dead was said to be Mrs. Mary MacGranahan, a Cleveland model.

Kills Woman, Shoots Self.

A medical examination resulted in a statement that Watzl had killed the woman and then shot himself through the heart. The bullet with which he ended his life pierced his body, issuing through his back, and fell to the floor after striking a wall.

The man and woman died penniless, leaving an unpaid bill at the Hotel Sacher. The exact time of the deaths could only be guessed, no one having apparently heard the sounds of the shots. The bodies were cold when found in the bedroom yesterday.

A farewell letter from Watzl to an intimate friend in Vienna, communicated to the press this afternoon, said Watzl had decided to commit suicide in order to secure for his wife his insurance policy of $35,000. He had no money left for the next payment, due on the morrow.

Killed Self to Save Policy.

"Thus my wife will be robbed, unless I die today," the letter said. "I am therefore going today before the premium is due."

After stating he had arranged the "accident" at Pottstown, Pa., last Nov. 6, Watzl explained:

"I first went to New York, where I bought a false passport in the name of Flassak, and secretly married Mary MacGranahan. Fearing recognition, we determined to quit New York, which we did, and went to Canada.

"In Canada we were nearly caught, so we decided to go to the coast and take a steamer across the Pacific. We sailed to Tokio, where I hoped to find a job but quickly realized there was no chance," the letter said. "So we went to India. Here we bought jewelry and trinkets, which will be found in our luggage. Leaving India we went to London, then pushing on to Vienna.

"But the $5,000 I took from my bank at Philadelphia after my automobile escapade was soon eaten up. We were faced with two alternatives—either to go to my parents and relatives and ask assistance and confess my misdemeanors, or to commit suicide. I preferred the latter.

Thought of Wife, Children.

"I was also influenced by the thought of my wife and children in trouble in Cleveland. Knowing the customs of insurance companies, I realized my wife would be unable to cash my policy of $35,000 unless she could officially establish my death. But I also knew that the claim would fail if my premiums were not paid regularly to my death."

In another note, left in the hotel, Watzl and Mary MacGranahan ask that they be cremated together.

Watzl's identity was actually established by his brother-in-law, even before his father arrived. This brother-in-law, Dr. Zorn of the Austrian ministry of finances, recognized the dead chemist's cigaret case and watch.

Three passports were found on the bodies, the man's bearing the names "Ernst Watzl" on one and "Johann Flassak" on the other. The woman's gave her name as "Josefa Kropej." Her mother, Julia Horvath, is a resident of Cleveland.

100 Fans at "Red Hot" Show Fined $1 Apiece

Each of 100 men yesterday threw a dollar apiece into Chicago's public till to pay for their entertainment at a "red hot" show last Thursday night at a resort at Kean avenue and 83d street. They were taken into custody as inmates of a disorderly house when the resort was raided on orders of Patrick Roche, chief investigator for the state's attorney, and were fined yesterday by Justice F. J. Synakiewicz at Blue Island. Charges against John Gribis, alleged owner of the place, and several entertainers were continued until Monday.

KIN IN EUROPE FIGHT RECLUSE'S $350,000 WILL

A contest of the will of Andrew J. Klor, wealthy recluse, who was found burned to death on Jan. 16, was predicted yesterday in the courtroom of Edward S. Scheffler, assistant to Probate Judge Horner, when the will was admitted to probate.

Klor left his $350,000 estate to nine friends and several charitable institutions. His legal heirs, two first cousins living in Jugo-Slavia, and four second cousins, were not mentioned in the will, and attorneys appeared at the hearing in their behalf, indicating that they would fight terms of the will.

One lawyer hinted that Klor might have been murdered, but he refused to name any person or to reveal why he made the accusation. Klor was burned to death, according to coroner's records, when his bedclothing caught fire from a cigaret.

William Fogel, 6545 West 26th place, Berwyn, was chief beneficiary under the will. He was Klor's friend for many years and he received $25,000 outright and the remainder of the estate, amounting to about $175,000, after bequests had been made to eight other friends and three charitable institutions.

Marshall Field & Co. Wins Judgment of $250,525

A judgment of $250,525 was awarded Marshall Field & Co. yesterday by Municipal Judge Joseph Burke against the Shoreland Hotel company for furnishings the hotel had obtained from the department store. The suit was uncontested, the judgment being entered after the hotel company failed to file the usual defense pleadings. In view of the fact that foreclosure proceedings, begun several months ago, were pending, it was useless to contest the suit, David Levinson of the firm of Sonnenschein, Berkson, Lautmann and Levinson, attorneys for the hotel, said last night.

ARMED ROBBER SHOOTS BOY.

Carl Smith, 15 years old, 417 Bowen avenue, a Negro messenger boy employed in a drug store at 4133 South Parkway, was shot in the shoulder and slightly wounded by a lone Negro robber yesterday. The gunman took $35 and escaped in the snowstorm.

IMPRISONMENT OF MACHINE GUN SELLER ORDERED

A mandate for the imprisonment of Vincent A. Daniels, purveyor of machine guns to Chicago gangsters and Chinese and Mexican revolutionists, was issued by the United States Circuit Court of Appeals yesterday.

Daniels had been at liberty in bond of $10,000 since his sentence last July by Federal Judge Woodward after his conviction of using the mails to defraud. He was sentenced to two years in prison and fined $1,000. Failing to file a brief for his intended appeal, Daniels was ordered incarcerated by the higher court.

He was charged with sending a worthless checks to an eastern firearms concern.

"Where are your lighters?" Asked Mrs. W., as her husband began hunting for matches.

"They're in that box with the broken jewelry. They spark and that's all."

"Good," she replied, "keep them until the Fourth of July, and we'll give them to the children for fireworks."

EUROPA BREAKS WORLD RECORD ON MAIDEN TRIP

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, March 25.—[Special.]—The Europa and its 1,940 passengers came in under wraps today—but with a record. The great North German Lloyd liner steamed past its westward goal at reduced speed and slid into a cold, rainswept harbor just after dawn. It had been confident of smashing the record of its sister ship, the Bremen, for the last one hundred miles, and could easily have bettered the mark by several hours instead of eighteen minutes.

As it was, the Europa, after battling strong headwinds, fog and rain, swept into New York with the mythical blue speed pennant nailed to its mast, for it had completed the fastest westward trip ever made across the Atlantic. The official time from Cherbourg breakwater to Ambrose Lightship was 4 days 17 hours and 6 minutes. It took the Bremen 18 minutes longer on the water at Quarantine.

Searched for Narcotics.

As the longest, fastest liner in the world sped past her goal, early bird passengers, watches in hand, stood shivering at the rail. A dozen puffing tugs bustled busily around the big vessel as she sat like a fat duck on the water at quarantine.

Proud officials boarded the liner along with an unannounced reception committee of federal agents on a narcotic hunt. The federal men questioned stewards and passengers, watched gangplanks and rummaged about over the ship, but made no report of finding any contraband.

As the Europa, with every flag flying, moved up the bay to her Brooklyn pier every craft on the rainswept water opened its whistle wide and joined the parade.

Against the fog dimmed sky the Europa looked like some fantastic sea creature. As she sat resting in the lower bay her giant stacks breathed a thin wisp of steam. She bellowed a hoarse answer to the Ile de France's salute and then slid majestically toward her berth.

Averaged Nearly 28 Knots.

Capt. Nicholaus Johnsen, commander of the new speed queen, quit the bridge to dictate a radiogram to his company. He told them his ship had averaged 27.99 knots—the best time ever made in commercial maritime history.

The race began officially at 12:48 p. m. eastern standard time Thursday. This afternoon the North German Lloyd Line officials announced the ship had traversed the 3,157 miles in the record time given. The announcement cleared up an apparent discrepancy in earlier computations of time elapsed.

The Europa established her record crossing under adverse conditions and after a series of mishaps which led seamen to refer to her as a "jinx." When the Europa was nearing completion in 1928 in Hamburg she was burned to the water's edge. After being rebuilt she went aground on her trial trip.

Rode Storms Easily.

The marks of her struggle with the elements on her maiden voyage were evident. The rear portion of her white superstructure was black with soot and there were water marks above her blunt nose. Despite the rough crossing, passengers reported no discomfort.

This was in contrast with the Bremen's maiden voyage, when passengers complained of vibration. The passengers aboard the Europa today said the vibration scarcely was noticeable and that the balancing tanks eliminated almost all of the roll, even in heavy seas.

The Europa, like the Bremen, is not as trim as some of the other liners. She is built low to eliminate wind resistance, and has a special type bulbous nose to "feed" the water to the propellers.

The dominating decoration scheme of the Europa has not followed the modernistic note of the Bremen, but harks back to the mythological maiden for whom the continent of Europe and the ship were named. There are sculptural figures as well as pictorial representations of this mythological creature throughout the liner.

Her 8 Bars Busy.

Every one aboard appeared prouder of the eight bars than anything else. Two of these drinking places, an American bar and a continental bar, flank the ballroom. There is a night club with its own bar and no 3 a. m. closing law, and other wet spots are located at convenient points throughout the Europa.

There is a ship's theater in which talking pictures are shown nightly, there is a huge swimming pool, and a shooting gallery which resembles a green forest.

Capt. Johnsen's whiskers could not hide his wide grin today when he met reporters in his quarters. He was the happiest man aboard the Europa.

"Pleased," he smiled. "Who would not be pleased to be commander of the fastest ship on the ocean?"

970 Men in Crew.

In addition to her 1,900 odd passengers the Europa carried a crew of 970 men.

The power plant that hurled her 52,000 ton bulk through the Atlantic at record speed consists of all fired water tube boilers which generate the steam and an electric plant consisting of four Diesel driven dynamos with two emergency dynamos in reserve.

TWO BIG GERMAN SHIP LINES FORM 50 YEAR MERGER

Forced by "Poor Times" to End Competition.

BERLIN, March 25.—(AP)—Almost at the very moment the German liner Europa had seized the blue ribbon of the ocean the Hamburg-America and the North German Lloyd steamship lines announced today they had completed a 50 year cooperative agreement to end competition.

The announcement was made in a joint communique issued in two cities by directors of the organizations—in Hamburg by Dr. Cuno of the Hamburg-America Line and in Bremen by Herr Seineken of the North German Lloyd. It was indicated that the agreement was a union of convenience only.

Both Firms Swallow Pride.

Both concerns had to swallow much pride, it is conceded, and overcome their deep seated rival feelings. Necessity caused the shipping agreement which Emperor William II. vainly suggested in 1913.

The new combine places the German group third in the world from the viewpoint of tonnage. The Royal Mail Line has 2,700,000 tons; the Peninsula and Oriental, 2,500,000; the Hamburg-America-North German Lloyd combination.

These figures, however, do not include third companies in which Hamburg-America and North German Lloyd have large interests—namely: Hamburg-South America, Woermann Line, German-East Africa Line, and Bremen-Hansa.

Other Firms May Join.

As it is generally regarded that these must inevitably join the combination, Germany probably will soon have in one pool tonnage exceeding three million.

The officers of neither line showed any spirit of exultation over the agreement. As one director, who wishes his name withheld, expressed it:

"We combined because we had to, not because we wanted to. Paying our share of reparations, meeting heavy taxes, and keeping at the highest point of efficiency, brought home to us the urgent necessity of pooling our interests and effecting every possible economy."

1928 Valuations Higher Despite Lower Rate.

Underassessment of large properties by the board of assessors in the 1927 quadrennial assessment as compared with that of 1928 was disclosed yesterday in a report to William H. Malone, chairman of the state tax commission, by Evans, Marshall & Pease, certified public accountants. The accountants are making an audit of assessment books for the commission.

In each case the valuation was made by the assessors and allowed to stand by the board of review. The 1927 assessments were made presumably on a basis of 40 per cent of the full market value. The accountants' report shows that the 1928 valuation, made on the basis of the reassessment factor of 37 per cent of the full value, is more than three times as high in many instances. Among typical figures cited by the auditors are the following:

Chicago Dock and Canal company, east of N. Coal street; assessed at $354,144 in 1927 and $1,628,382 in 1928. Property in East North Water street; $370,123 in 1927 and $1,618,537 in 1928.

Land at 7-9 South Crawford avenue; $66,000 in 1927 and $164,853 in 1928.

Twenty-two apartment building, ten years old. No taxes in 1927; assessment in 1928, $13,862.

6127 Kenwood avenue, two years old; no taxes in 1927; assessment for 1928, $94,926.

"These figures explain the stubborn resistance to the reassessment," Chairman Malone said. "They also demonstrate the vital necessity for the reassessment. The comparison of figures on the old 60 per cent basis with the higher figures on a 37 per cent basis shows the extent of tax fixing activity. While the large properties escaped a just tax burden, more and more taxes were saddled on the small home owner."

Harry S. Cutmore, director of the reassessment, announced yesterday that he will seek money for an increased staff to speed the 1929 and 1930 assessments. The regular staff will be inadequate to carry through the work in time to afford relief to tax spending bodies, he said. The regular staff numbers 100, but only 40 are available for active work.

FIND RED HAIRED BEAUTY SLAIN; NO CLEW TO KILLER

Eureka, Cal., March 25.—(AP)—Discovery of the body of a red haired young woman, who had been shot through the head and left near a highway 60 miles north of here, furnished a mystery which authorities were attempting to solve today.

Expensively clad and wrapped in a fur coat, the woman apparently had been dead six or eight weeks. All marks that might be useful in identifying the body had been removed from the clothing.

Mrs. Edith Rodenberger, owner of a general store at Klamath, near by, told Sheriff John W. Runner that several weeks ago a man dashed into her place and asked if she had seen "a beautiful red haired woman around here anywhere."

When Mrs. Rodenberger replied in the negative she said the man drove away mumbling something about her having "run away with another man." This led to a theory the "man in the case," if there was one, may have been shot or that there may have been a suicide.

J. B. MARSINO OUT OF BAY STATE PRISON TO FACE BUFFALO TRIAL

Worcester, Mass., March 25.—(AP)—Joseph B. Marsino of Chicago, who wrecked the First National bank in Warren, Mass., and who served three years of a five year sentence in state prison, from which he was released today on parole, was this afternoon freed from a two years' sentence in the Worcester house of correction, which has been hanging over him following his conviction of larceny and conspiracy in connection with the case.

Marsino was brought here after his release from state prison and when he was arraigned before Judge Walter L. Collins this afternoon, District Attorney Edwin G. Norman moved that the old Superior court sentence be revoked. The court granted the motion, and Marsino was then turned over to Detective William J. Madigan of Buffalo, to be taken back to that city to answer charges of larceny from the Niagara Insurance company.

REDS THREATEN NEW YORK POLICE AT PARTY RALLY

New York, March 25.—(AP)—Any policeman entering a communist meeting hereafter, the Communist party today warned Police Commissioner George Grover A. Whalen, will be "firmly ejected."

The warning was given in a letter from Israel Amter, one of the communist leaders under bail in connection with the "Red Thursday" riots in Union square.

Commissioner Whalen was referred to in the letter as "Cossack commander" and "agent of Wall street and of the Tammy Hall machine."

The letter referred specifically to a meeting of the Communist party March 23, at which were present one police captain, 15 detectives, and 30 patrolmen.

U. S. ACCUSES 3 GRAIN MEN OF PRICE JUGGLING

Charges Will Be Heard Here on April 7.

BY PAUL POTTER.

For the first time since the passage of the federal grain futures administration act nearly eight years ago, Chicago Board of Trade members are being called upon by the secretary of agriculture to explain alleged attempts to manipulate grain prices. The allegations have been made while grain traders are still reported exercised over charges that the federal farm board, through its two grain relief agencies, has also made an effort to control prices.

Once before, two years ago, officials of the Armour Grain company were cited for alleged violations of the grain futures administration act, but the filing of bankruptcy papers prevented the completion of the government's case. The present complaints, filed by Secretary of Agriculture Hyde and called for hearing in Chicago on April 7 before the grain futures administration commission, are expected to be carried to completion, THE TRIBUNE was informed yesterday upon obtaining copies of the legal papers.

Complaints Hit Three Men.

The secretary's complaints are directed at William B. Massey and John S. Reddy and Philip J. Reddy as respondents, and in substance accuse them of having "attempted and attempting" to manipulate the market price of grain on the Board of Trade, beginning with an alleged bogus sale of grain on July 11, 1929. In the period following this sale and up to Aug. 1 these men, "through ruses, schemes, and devices," caused to be sold not less than 345,000 bushels of December wheat at prices both lower and higher than the real prices existing when these sales were executed, the government charges.

The three grain men are further accused of having violated the federal law "by knowingly and carelessly delivering for transmission through the mails and in interstate commerce by telegraph, telephone, wireless and other means of communication, false and misleading and knowingly inaccurate reports concerning market information and conditions that affect and tend to affect the price of grain in interstate commerce."

Sale Under Market Alleged.

The initial sale of grain upon which the federal authorities base their complaint is alleged to have been made by Massey as agent for Lamson Bros. & Co., on an order for M. M. Darling at Enid, Okla. Massey is charged with having sold the 3,000 bushels of wheat to himself at 1 to 1⅛ cents a bushel under the prevailing quotations at the time, but is accused of having reported the sale as having been made to the Reddy firm. Similar reporting of sales totaling the 345,000 bushels is alleged by the government to have followed.

John C. Brooke was named as referee in the case when it was first called for hearing in Chicago last Monday. Postponement to April 7 was announced from Washington. The penalty in the case is described as an order from the federal grain commission "directing all contract markets, until further notice of the commission, to refuse all trading privileges thereon to said respondents and each of them."

The failure of any grain exchange to suspend or expel members in such cases would make them liable to loss of their licenses issued by the secretary of agriculture, the grain futures act provides.

What Sets Pierce-Arrow Apart
From Other Fine Motor Cars?

PIERCE-ARROW quality is accepted! It was established when motor cars were first built. And, in the years between, it has never known compromise, never failed the faith of fine car owners, never needed special pleading.

Pierce-Arrow does not depend upon new features. Rather, new features are ever in pursuit of Pierce-Arrow adoption. The world knows that none but the worthiest engineering devices are employed by Pierce-Arrow.

The new Pierce-Arrow transmission is an excellent case in point. It had to prove conclusively that it could out-perform anything in traffic—that it could do 60 miles an hour in intermediate, without the usual hum or vibration—and that gears could be shifted clashlessly at all speeds—before Pierce-Arrow engineers would consider making it a part of today's car.

Together with other special qualities of performance, the three new groups by Pierce-Arrow are distinguished by the artistry of famed interior decorators... and by a character of coachcraft that only Pierce-Arrow commands. Each model is a beautiful, ultra-modern expression of America's finest motor car.

THREE NEW GROUPS OF STRAIGHT EIGHTS

U. S. REFUSES WAR AID PLEDGE TO WIN NAVY CUT

Will Not Offer Other Nations False Hope.

the formulation of any political pact at London which might in any way necessitate the use of warships of the American navy in carrying out its terms.

The United States also has turned thumbs down on all proposals for the conclusion of consultative treaties providing for consultation among the major naval powers in case the peace of the world was threatened.

It was learned today that none of the powers gathered at London now is interested in the conclusion of consultative pacts. All proposals of this nature have originated from pacifist organizations. The suggestions made along this line, it was disclosed, did not carry any suggestion of military guarantees. Anything short of military guarantees, it developed, had no interest for any of the major naval powers.

Dispatches from London have repeatedly given the impression that France was prepared to cut her naval tonnage requirements in exchange for a consultative pact signed by the United States, Great Britain, Japan and Italy. Pacifists, notably the leaders of the national council for prevention of war as well as writers for the foreign policy association, have broadcast reports that President Hoover was injuring the chances of concluding a reduction treaty by his reluctance to sign a consultative pact. It was learned today, however, that the American government has been informed that adoption of a political pact would not secure the reduction of one single ton in the French demands.

Hold to Traditional Policy.

Through the American delegation all the governments represented at London have been informed that the United States will not depart from its traditional policy against entering into entangling alliances with European powers. The American position is that even a consultative pact, no matter how innocuous it seemed to be, might and probably would lead to a contention in time of war that the United States was obligated to furnish material aid to any menaced nation with which it had agreed to consult.

The coldness with which the pacifist demands for a consultative treaty have been received at the White House has aroused new criticism from these groups.

Briand Off for London.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

PARIS, March 25.—Foreign Minister Briand is going back to London tomorrow, and, although it is not apparent just why, the wily old statesman actually seems to believe that he is going back to be offered a Mediterranean security pact.

M. Briand in the senate today defended the foreign affairs budget and restated the French naval position in such a way that would seem to preclude any possibility of the French delegation being the one to climb down. After reinvoking the country's need for a navy to protect its three coast lines and its far flung colonial possessions, he said:

"We would like to be able to give satisfaction to the country that is both a friend and neighbor [Italy], and we would like not to stress any differences between us, but one should fight shy of certain words [parity] which do not correspond with realities. One should not try to create a system of equality which in reality amounts to dangerous inequalities. Such is our attitude. We will maintain it."

KING AND QUEEN ARE HOSTS TO "BIG FIVE" DELEGATES AND WIVES

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, March 25.—Naval delegates and their wives were among 200 guests at an afternoon party given by King George and Queen Mary at Buckingham palace today. It was the first social function the king and queen have given together since the king fell ill in November, 1928.

When each guest reached the top of the crimson carpeted grand staircase, his or her name was called out by Lord Cromer, the lord chamberlain. Standing at the entrance to the picture gallery were the king and queen—the king in a morning coat and the queen in an afternoon gown. They shook hands with the guests, who then wandered through the throne room and other state chambers.

The guests included Secretary of State and Mrs. Stimson, Secretary of the Nevy and Mrs. Adams, Senator and Mrs. Robinson, Senator and Mrs. Reed, Ambassador and Mrs. Morrow, and Ambassador and Mrs. Gibson.

G. O. P. YOUTHS FAVOR A PLANK AGAINST DRYS

New York, March 25.—[Special.]—The board of governors of the Young Republican club today announced a recent prohibition poll of its membership showed that 464 members, as against 172, believed that the party should adopt a plank calling for repeal of the Eighteenth amendment.

To the question, "Do you personally use intoxicating liquor?" 482 said they did and 201 said they did not.

On the combined question of repeal, modification or strict enforcement, 424 were for repeal, 117 for modification, and 108 for enforcement.

Returns from 649 members out of 2,200 questionnaires sent out were received at the clubhouse.

One of the club's subcommittees recently submitted a report which demanded repeal of the Volstead act and the establishment by the legislature at Albany of a state liquor commission which would dispense light wines and beers for home consumption.

This report will be passed upon by the full membership of the club at a business meeting on April 12.

Lafayette Against Volstead.

Easton, Pa., March 25.—[Special.]—The prohibition poll concluded at Lafayette college this afternoon showed a large majority of both students and faculty favoring repeal or modification of the dry law.

Of the student body 651 voted and 350 failed to cast ballots. The vote stood for repeal, 289; modification, 240; enforcement, 142. Of the votes, 136 favored total abstinence, 433 were in favor of occasional drinking, and 95 in favor of frequent drinking.

Forty-eight out of ninety-five members of the faculty voted as follows: For repeal, 19; modification, 11; enforcement, 18.

For Repeal or Modification.

New York, March 25.—[Special.]—The results of the first day's balloting conducted at New York university by the University Daily News indicate a large vote in favor of repeal or modification of the present laws. More than 1,300 students, of whom 100 are women, voted.

The poll showed that 45 per cent of the women and 33 per cent of the men did not drink intoxicating beverages, while 55 per cent of the women and 67 per cent of the men did.

Ten Cities in Digest Poll.

New York, March 25.—[Special.]—Eight out of ten cities from Connecticut to California reported today on the basis of incomplete returns in the Literary Digest national prohibition poll showed majorities against enforcement.

Two cities, Independence, Kas., and Lawrence, Kas., following the lead of other Kansas cities, showed a clear majority for enforcement over the combined votes for modification and repeal. In the remaining eight cities the votes for modification and repeal together were greater than that for enforcement, although in three there was a plurality for enforcement.

The heaviest vote for repeal was in Waterbury, Conn. Tabulation follows:

These tablets are wonder-workers on the liver and bowels, causing a normal action, carrying off the waste and poisonous matter in one's system.

If you have a pale face, sallow look, dull eyes, pimples, coated tongue, headaches, a listless, no-good feeling, all out of sorts, inactive bowels, take one of Dr. Edwards Olive Tablets nightly for a time and note the pleasing results.

LOVE QUESTING WIFE IS HOME WITH HUSBAND

Eager to Forget Trip with Other Man.

Detroit, Mich., March 25.—[Special.]—Hoping the world to forget [illegible] with rebuilding their domestic [illegible], Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin March returned to their home today after 48 hours' seclusion. Both seemed in excellent spirits, apparently glad to return to their home from which [illegible] Dorothy March, with the approval of her husband, who is a curator of the Detroit institute of art, left last March on a four week excursion with Thomas A. Newton Jr., which ended in Newton's suicide.

Before entering the home, a typewritten statement was handed to a newspaper man. It was signed by both March and his wife. It read:

"Neither Mrs. March nor myself has anything to say for publication. It's desire to be allowed to continue our life together."

Discussion of Love Trip.

As March entered his home he carried his wife's traveling bag, which was well daubed with "stickers" from Florida, Havana, and Bermuda, where recently she had had her "love excursion" with Newton Jr., who killed himself last Friday in a Miami hotel a few hours after Mrs. March had left him to return to her home, husband, and 18 months old baby girl. When Newton ended his life he had $17 left of $11,000 which he had borrowed for the expenses of his love journey with Mrs. March.

Relatives Mrs. Newton, in Miami, was busy escorting the body of her husband to Orlando for cremation. The ashes will be cast into a Michigan lake. She was accompanied by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas E. Newton.

"I would have taken him back. I loved him. I tried to prevent his going away with another woman," she said.

Family Friend Comments.

Mrs. Stanley M. Lewis, president of the Detroit Fine Arts alliance and a close friend of the Marches, discussed the case today.

"Benjamin March has taught the manhood of America a lesson in charity and broad-mindedness," she said. "Some day, because of the courage and the honesty of men and women like the Marches, the human race will be freed from the bondage of outworn ideas and false standards."

"Dorothy March is just as welcome in my house as she ever was. I admire her more than I ever did, because she is more honest than most persons. If we had to fill our drawing rooms with women who had never transgressed, I'm afraid our drawing rooms would be empty.

"Both Benjamin and Dorothy March should be commended for their courage in facing life as it is and breaking conventions in upholding their ideals."

Mrs. Edith Watkins Dunk, president of the Michigan division of the Association of American University Women, said:

"March is an advanced thinker. He is not hampered by the ideas of people who live in the past. He has the sane, sensible, modern point of view that few men could take, because few of us think for ourselves."

DISPUTE OVER SITE FOR NEW SOUTH BEND POSTOFFICE SETTLED

Washington, D. C., March 25.—(AP)—Representative Andrew J. Hickey [Rep., Ind.] announced today that the interdepartmental board had settled the controversy around the proposed site of a postoffice at South Bend, Ind., and had selected the present site with a proposal to acquire adjacent territory.

Hickey said that the recommendations had been forwarded to the bureau of the budget, but that the estimated cost was not available. The plan, he said, called for the acquisition of land now occupied by the Indiana club.

The total area, he said, would be 27,900 square feet and the postoffice to be constructed would be three stories high, of fireproof construction and of stone facing.

GREEKS OBSERVE 100TH BIRTHDAY OF INDEPENDENCE

ATHENS, March 25.—(AP)—Celebration of the first centenary of Greek independence began here today. It was in 1830 that Greece won her freedom from Turkey and established a kingdom.

Streets and public buildings were decorated in the national colors and a solemn Te Deum was celebrated in the cathedral, attended by the president of the republic, ministers, heads of public bodies and representatives of foreign states, including even the Turkish minister, who never before had participated in an independence day commemoration. Ceremonies also were held at the university, and tonight there will be a torchlight procession.

Robert P. Skinner, American minister, told a group of American Greeks visiting Athens that they had a right to be proud of the progress accomplished by their motherland and bade them tell their compatriots in the United States to have confidence in the future of Greece. President Zaimes received a congratulatory cablegram from President Hoover.

Taxi Driver Is Arrested with Lost $5,800 Bracelet

Charles K. Smith, 4224 Oketo avenue, a taxicab chauffeur, was arrested last night by Lieut. Thomas Mangan after the policeman had learned from a jeweler that Smith had a $5,800 bracelet belonging to Mrs. Robert Young, 3500 Sheridan road. Mrs. Young lost the bracelet while riding in Smith's cab. The driver told the police he did not intend to keep it and was awaiting the posting of a reward.

SQUAW TELLS WEIRD STORY OF "WITCH KILLING"

Recounts How She Slew Sculptor's Wife.

Buffalo, N. Y., March 25.—(AP)—Nancy Bowen, aged Indian woman of the Cayugas, began to tell a story to a jury today which the prosecution is confident will convict the Seneca Indian, Lila Jimerson, of the murder of Mrs. Clothilde Marchand.

Taking the stand as today's session drew near a close, the wrinkled old Indian widow was examined by District Attorney Guy B. Moore. Nancy, through the medium of an Indian interpreter, admitted she had gone to the Marchand home on March 6 and chloroformed and beaten Mrs. Marchand to death. Testimony then was taken regarding letters sent her instructing why and how she should kill the woman, wife of Henri Marchand, artist and sculptor.

Says Motive Was Love.

"The most powerful motive for murder that human beings know," said the district attorney, "was responsible for this crime. It was love. The defendant said she would marry Marchand as soon as he was free, meaning as soon as Mrs. Marchand was out of the way."

Moore said Lila selected as the instrument of death the ancient Nancy, and by "feeding her mind and inflaming her superstitions" induced her to kill.

The letters were signed by a fictitious "Mrs. Dooley." They told Nancy that a "witch in the city of Buffalo" killed Nancy's husband, "Sassafras Charlie," because the herb he was peddling was hurting the witch's trade. The method used by the witch was described by the writer as follows:

"She said she made an old rag doll of Charlie, she put it in a glass dish, pour the green oil on doll and filled up dish with beef blood. Soon as rot he died."

"She kill many, many, many that way, Indians and whites," the letter said, and then proceeded to say the witch had cut out an effigy of Nancy herself with intent to send her after her dead husband.

Government Steps In.

The intercession of the federal government in the trial, through the presence among defense counsel of United States District Attorney Richard H. Templeton, stirred Moore to bitter resentment. The federal attorney appeared in court this morning and said he was acting on instructions from United States Attorney General William Mitchell. At this time Moore protested his presence and a three hour recess to allow him to become familiar with the case.

Moore, over the heated objection of the federal attorney, declared the request that the federal government intercede for its Indian wards "came from Canada." Templeton insisted the demand was made by Chief Clinton Rickard of the Tuscaroras of this country and not by Canadian tribesmen.

FAIL TO IDENTIFY HOLDUP SUSPECT.

Evansville, Ill., March 25.—(AP)—Witnesses today failed to identify a suspect returned here yesterday from St. Louis in connection with a holdup at the home of Joseph Siegfried ten days ago when about $10,000 worth of bonds were stolen. The prisoner is in jail at Chester.

UNION LEAGUE VETERANS ATTEND CLUB'S JUBILEE

Officers Installed on 50th Anniversary.

Four hundred members of the Union League club last night celebrated the 50th anniversary of the club's founding despite the snowstorm. The members came not only from the city but from all parts of the country to participate in the birthday party.

Although none of the founders of the club has survived the first 50 years, there were present a number of members who joined the organization during its first decade of activity: J. Frank Aldrich, W. A. Douglass, Nelson Thomasson, Frank G. Logan, Charles E. Affeld, J. J. Glessner, H. D. Higinbotham, W. H. Gray, J. F. A. Halbach, Louis Vierling, and John M. Zane.

Another honor guest was William A. Bates of Pekin, Ill., 90 years old, the only surviving member of the original council of the Union League of America, the parent organization of the Chicago club. The latter was founded on Dec. 19, 1879.

Past President Speaks.

The speakers at the celebration were William P. Sidley, past president, who traced the history of the club to the present day, and Dr. John Timothy Stone, president of the Presbyterian Theological seminary, whose subject was "Stepping into the Future."

"Among the outstanding activities of the club has been the institution of the Washington birthday celebration, which we have sponsored every year, with one exception, since 1887," Mr. Sidley said. "Formation of the Chicago Boys clubs is another great achievement.

"We have lent our efforts in bringing about civil service reforms and jury reforms and to solving problems of immigration and naturalization, prevention of illegal voting and city zoning."

Dr. Stone Speaks.

"We have honored our city by reinforcing moral elements and creating initiative in the youth of today," said Dr. Stone, who is a member of the club.

Following the program the annual meeting was held and officers for 1930-'31 were installed, as follows: John R. Montgomery, president; Henry H. Hilton, first vice president; F. O. Hale, second vice president; Howell W. Kitchell, secretary; and Hugo A. Anderson, treasurer.

FIGHTS PARKER CONFIRMATION TO U. S. HIGH COURT

Labor Digs Up 'Yellow Dog' Contract Decision.

Washington, D. C., March 25.—[Special.]—Opposition to the appointment of Federal Circuit Judge John J. Parker of Charlotte, N. C., to the United States Supreme court took definite form today when the American Federation of Labor indicated it will protest confirmation on the ground of Parker's participation in the famous "yellow dog" contract decision.

The decision, written by Judge Parker and climaxing one of the bloodiest labor wars in the country's history, enjoined members of the United Mine Workers of America from seeking to induce non-union miners in Logan and Mingo counties, West Virginia, to violate the so-called "yellow dog" contracts under which they were bound not to join a union while employed in an open shop mine.

Now Before Committee.

Parker's nomination, pending before a subcommittee of the senate judiciary committee composed of Senators W. E. Borah [Rep., Ida.], Felix Herbert [Rep., R. I.] and L. S. Overman [Dem., N. C.] is to be attacked by the federation as the "most objectionable" of labor injunction judges, and his "yellow dog" decision will be denounced as a flagrant example of abuse of an injunction.

Both Senators G. W. Norris [Rep., Neb.], chairman of the judiciary committee, and Borah refused to discuss Parker's nomination today, but both admitted at the request of radical colleagues in the senate and of labor spokesmen they are studying the "yellow dog" and other decisions written by the North Carolina jurist.

Many Lives Are Lost.

Adoption of the "yellow dog" contract by 316 open shop mine operators to fight unionization of their workmen in 1922 precipitated virtual civil war in Logan and Mingo counties. Many lives were lost on both sides in the war which culminated in a hurried call for federal troops when 7,000 heavily armed union miners marched across the mountains from Mingo county to drive the non-union miners out of Logan, and the operators had hired bombing planes as a last resort measure.

REPORTS BY LABOR SHOW EMPLOYMENT GAINS IN A MONTH

Washington, D. C., March 25.—[Special.]—Reports made to William Green, president of the American Federation of Labor, and made public by him today, showed that unemployment decreased slightly in the first two weeks of March for the first time since August.

Reports from trade unions in twenty-four cities for the first half of the month indicated that 21 per cent of their membership was unemployed, as compared to 22 per cent in February. Based on these statistics, Mr. Green declared definitely that "the rise in unemployment has been checked."

The unemployment situation is still serious in places, according to the statement. In eleven cities, including Chicago, it describes unemployment "still at a very high figure of 20 per cent or more out of work."

"In the different trades conditions varied," the report said. "There was a slight improvement in building, where unemployment decreased from 43 per cent in February to 42 per cent in March; but in printing and metal trades there were more out of work than in February, and in both these trades unemployment in March reached the highest figure for any month since 1927, when we began keeping records."

CHINA MOVES TO SAVE 16 TRAPPED U. S. MISSIONERS

SHANGHAI, March 25.—(AP)—Sixteen Catholic missionaries, ten men and six women, are isolated in Kanchow, Kiangsi province, by bandit and communist armies, and their situation is reported serious. The Red forces are said to surround Kanchow, refusing to permit any one to depart or enter.

In a telegram from Nanking, Foreign Minister C. T. Wang said:

"The Nationalist government has taken strong measures to suppress the Kiangsi communists. It believes the American missionaries are safe if they do not attempt to move about."

Small Force on Guard.

A small number of government troops is at Kanchow, said a message from the Chinese foreign office to the American legation at Pieping, and the government is endeavoring to send reinforcements.

Threats have been made by Kiangsi authorities to withdraw the garrison from Kanchow, however, according to missionary advices, which expressed fear that if this were done, the bandit troops would sack the city.

Although missionaries in Shanghai asserted they were not particularly alarmed and believed the situation at Kanchow was not so serious as it appeared, other foreign circles in this city expressed anger over what they said was "the deliberate effort of the Nationalist government to hide details of a serious situation which is now apparent."

Big Reward Offered.

The provincial government was reported to have offered a reward of $50,000 [Mex.] for the capture of Chu Teh, communist leader, who is held mainly responsible for outrages in Kiangsi. Chu Teh is described as a capable individual who has been graduated from the Nationalist military academy in Canton, has studied in several European countries, and speaks their languages.

Bride Tells Her Secret of Happy Marriage

It's a Crime to Lose Vitality and Beauty says Southern Girl!

Beauty, Charm, Clear Skin—How Can They be Won?

"FOR a young bride of twenty-one to lose her vitality and pep is disastrous, almost a sacrilege," says Mrs. George E. Pillow, of Franklin, Va. "That, however," she continues, "is just what I did."

"I had only been married a few months to a delightful husband, who went everywhere and did everything, and was just a typical sportsman. I tried to keep up with his pace, and simply collapsed under the strain. I never was really ill; I was just becoming sallow-skinned, depressed, and lifeless. Swimming, dancing, golf, I just couldn't face them. When I began to lose my clear complexion, I was desperate.

"Then one day a girl friend came to pay me a visit. I wish that every friend could bring me such happiness! In the bottom of her little bag of clothes lay a crystal-clear bottle—Nujol! A short woman-to-woman talk—a telephone call to a neighboring drug store—and my future happiness was settled.

"That was a year ago. Now I too am never without Nujol, which has brightened and cleansed my body like a cake of pure soap. I eat, sleep, swim, and hike with the enthusiasm of a child. My complexion is all it used to be—and best of all—I am my husband's little pal again."

What This Means To You

So did one Southern girl discover the secret of health and happiness—and so you too can banish the bugbear of ill health—clear your complexion and make yourself enjoy every minute of life.

The wonderful thing about Nujol is that it is not a medicine; it contains no drugs—it is tasteless and colorless as pure water. It is simply the normal internal lubrication which your body needs, just like any other delicate machine. Let Nujol clear the poisons out of your body (we all have them), and you will prove to yourself how good health will flood the sunshine of happiness into your life.

It sounds like a fairy tale, but millions of people have proved it. So can you. Get Nujol at any drug store—sold only in sealed packages, with the Nujol trademark. It costs but a few cents and it will make you feel like a million dollars!

WHILE THE UNEMPLOYED WAIT.

The federal government might have started work on the Chicago postoffice months ago. The general design had been approved. The site had been chosen and purchased. The money for the building had been appropriated. All that was lacking was a set of plans sufficiently detailed to enable contractors to enter their bids.

The business of the country was depressed and still is. Every one in the government, from the President down, was agreed that the quickest way to relieve the depression was to provide employment for the unemployed on needed public works. The Chicago postoffice, which is to cost $14,000,000, is one of the most important projects on the government's list and the only one of consequence in the central states. Nevertheless, the departmental routine in Washington was not disturbed. The bureaucrats continued to do business at the old stand; and, with a degree of fortitude which does them credit, they announced that if the work in Chicago could not be started in March it would have to be started at a later date, say December.

Meanwhile some thousands of building mechanics, mill workers, steel fabricators, machine builders and their wives and children might have to live on short rations, but that must be regarded as unavoidable. The architectural draftsmen of the treasury department had other work in hand and could not be spared for the Chicago postoffice. Presumably they must continue to lay out the government's monumental buildings in Washington.

THE TRIBUNE, with the coöperation of the building industry in Chicago, appears to have succeeded in arousing Washington officialdom to a sense of its duty in the present situation. There is reason to think that the if-not-March-then-December habit of mind has been disturbed. Whether it has been disturbed to the point of action is another question.

The delay in getting started on the postoffice offers an instructive reflection of the quality of Illinois' representation in Washington. Most of our representatives seem to be content to do anything but represent. They have not won employment for the unemployed on the postoffice, and they have failed to date in the even more important matter of the waterway.

If ever there was a project entitled to generous support from the federal government it is the linking of the great lakes to the Mississippi river. The early completion of the waterway promises more for the revival of business throughout the nation than any other single enterprise now under consideration in Washington. The $7,000,000 which the federal government is asked to contribute will lead to vastly greater expenditures for docks and warehouses, for railroad sidings, for industrial buildings along the right of way, and for the dwellings to house the men and women to be employed in the newly established industries. The new waterway will require new barges and towboats. Hundreds of jobs will be provided in completing the locks, dams, and bridges, and thousands of jobs will be provided in consequence of the contruction.

All of this program is dependent upon the federal appropriation. If the waterway ran through New England or California the appropriation would have been made years ago; the proof is the Cape Cod canal and Boulder dam, neither of which approximates the Illinois waterway for national service, and each of which cost the United States government vastly more than is asked for the Illinois waterway. The reluctance of Illinois congressmen to insist upon Illinois' rights is a liability not only to Illinois but to the entire nation.

RECOGNIZING RUSSIA.

The French police are now convinced that the disappearance of Gen. Alexander Koutiepoff, czarist exile in Paris, is chargeable to soviet agencies. The French sureté is very competent and its conclusions are worthy of respect. The conclusions are moreover consistent with cheka methods and soviet theories of international responsibilities. The matter we recommend to the inquiry and consideration of the senate which has been asked to resolve the restoration of diplomatic relations with Russia.

Presidents Wilson, Harding, and Coolidge have refused to grant diplomatic recognition to the soviet, and during the years of our severance we have had the opportunity of observing what diplomatic relations with the communist régime involves. In Great Britain, France, and Germany the soviet and its instrument, the communist internationale, have exhibited no scruples and few restraints and do not hesitate to bite the hand that is offered in official friendliness. The crime against the law of asylum represented in the kidnaping of Gen. Koutiepoff is characteristic and not exceptional. In all three of the countries we have named the granting of diplomatic relations has been exploited by the soviet emissaries to make mischief.

There is no substantial reason why the United States government should submit itself to this nuisance. Recognition is sought by the communist tyranny for prestige. It would bring us no compensation. It would be an injury to the cause of peace and international good faith throughout the world. It would be exploited among the ignorant and excitable in every country as evidence of the power of communism. We are glad our government through three administrations has refused to make this concession in the hope of a few dollars of trade. It would be humiliating, futile, and injurious to international responsibility.

MICHIGAN AS A SCOFFLAW.

The Michigan legislature appropriated for the building of a radio broadcasting plant to use a short wave length for the sending of police warnings, instructions and information. The state advertised for bids and is about to install the system for the use of squad cars and city and state police. The federal radio commission has not issued a permit for the state station, but has asked the department of justice to arrest any persons who may start to build it.

Gov. Green says that no attention will be paid to the federal government if it endeavors to obstruct the state in its police work. He maintains that the state's sovereignty includes this exercise of police powers and the right to use the air for the purpose. Evidently here is another bit of nullification, secession and high grade scofflawing.

There was a law in Illinois requiring the dilution of seware for public health. It was an exercise of police power for the protection of the people of the state. It diverted water from Lake Michigan at the state shore line and ran it into the Chicago river. Michigan joined a combination of lake states opposing this use of local natural advantages for the protection of public health and for navigation and succeeded in bringing in federal interference.

Michigan and its associates obtained from the Supreme court a decision written by the late Chief Justice Taft denying the state the use of its own water for its own protection. How astonishing to find this state openly defying the federal government to enforce its laws relating to the use of the state's air! Apparently the federal government's idea is that Michigan will become a nuisance if it undertakes unregulated use of radio. Michigan finds it expedient not to observe the law and inexpedient to do so. Therefore Gov. Green says it will do as it pleases.

Michigan is a state wherein regard for national prohibition was such a devotion that Volsteadism was reënforced by a state law under which petty liquor law violators were sent to prison for life. Michigan is death on scofflaws and contemners who are not submissive to regulation and authority. There a law is not to be questioned, but is to be obeyed, but even there, alack, there is a perchance. It is if, perchance, it fits. The regulations of the radio commission do not fit and Michigan secedes a little bit, declaring itself out from under the federal rules. It is scofflawing, of course, but it is the law which makes the scofflaw.

Chicago finds it tough to be fighting for an even break from the federal government and from Michigan and associated powers to protect the health of its citizens from disease. In the circumstances it may be able to restrain its sympathy for Michigan trying to maintain its police powers for the protection of its citizens from criminals and from the interference of the federal government. It may, however, be pointed out that Illinois has not associated itself with neighbors in an attempt to persuade the federal government to help the Michigan crooks on the theory that this would injure Detroit.

YOUTH ON PROHIBITION.

Prohibition polls are being taken in a number of universities. Results in seven have been reported. At Massachusetts Tech seventy per cent of the students polled were for modification or repeal. Three to one of the young men at Amherst were for modification, at Yale the vote was five to one, at Rutgers five to three, at Brown eighty per cent against prohibition as is and at Williams seventy-five per cent. Reports from Michigan indicate a large percentage against Volsteadism.

These are young people of the new generation which was supposed to grow up without knowledge of alcoholic beverages and consequently without the habit. They were from eight to twelve years old when the noble experiment began and they have been ushered into college life under its influence. Their opinions today explode the noblest theory of the noble experiment. It hasn't their sanction. They have watched it work and they do not want it.

A new generation of voters is coming of age and they promise a reform in political action which will be a return to sanity in the conceptions and enforcement of laws and in the order of society.

DUNEDIN.

[Boston Herald.]

What sort of place is this Dunedin, the jumping-off, or rather the hopping-back, place for the antarctic? It is one of the newest cities in the world, having been settled by emigrants sent out to New Zealand by the Free Church of Scotland in 1848. They thought of calling their new home Edinburgh, but as there were already several Edinburghs in the world they chose the Gaelic name for the Scotch capital, Dunedin. New Zealand, as perhaps you have forgotten, is really two large islands, the North and South islands, and it is on the southeastern coast of the latter that this center of another Nova Scotia is situated. While not so large as Auckland and Wellington, the most populous cities of New Zealand, Dunedin now has more than 85,000 inhabitants and all the conveniences and comforts of the modern community.

Its location was largely determined because of a splendid harbor, situated at the head of a navigable bay about fifteen miles from the sea. Because of that the country about the city has been rather difficult to open up, hills and mountains covered with forests coming down close to the shore. But the Dunedinians wisely took advantage of this obstacle and have established a beautiful natural park about the city, called the Town Belt. Beyond these hills to the north rise the Southern Alps, the great range of snowcapped mountains which bisects the South island from end to end. Among these gorgeous peaks members of Admiral Byrd's party who did not find enough thrills in the antarctic are now disporting themselves.

well, you know, the storm of course. You've all got your own ideas about the storm; maybe you were out in it; we weren't; but from what we could see from the window it was what almost anybody would call a very swell storm. There's no use trying to talk about what was in the news yesterday, for as far as we were concerned there wasn't any news. It was all lost in the blizzard. And, besides, the storm itself was a much bigger piece of news than Al Capone, the naval parley, the new tariff bill, the 18th amendment, or anything else.

And it was our storm—it belonged to all of us and we have a right to take a pride in it and say it was the damnest biggest storm that ever happened to anybody anywhere. Look how people have been talking almost a hundred years about the big wind in Ireland. And how they've bragged about the Galveston flood and the San Francisco earthquake! And most of us have just had to sit around with our mouths open and our ears like saucers and listen; but we couldn't say a word.

But now! Well, just let some guy commence to talk about blizzards and ice and cold and snowdrifts and things like that—that is, blizzards and things that happened somewhere else. Let 'em start it; that's all. Let 'em commence! And then we'll simply turn loose and tell 'em about the 25th of March, 1930. And we'll tell 'em plenty. There was a storm that was a storm. There was a storm that doesn't have to take a chair and sit down for anybody.

There was a storm that we can describe to our children and our children's children. It was grand to begin with, and it probably won't lose any in the telling. Yessir, there was what they call an EVENT or a CATACLYSM, or something like that. And it's all ours, and we're proud of it. But we're in no particular hurry for it to happen again. We're no hog. We know when we've got enough. But it was SOME storm!

YELLOW ROSES.

Dawn will bring to pepper trees
The same caress tomorrow,
Rustling with a vagrant breeze,
Coming back to borrow
Moments from an old affair—
Dawn with yellow roses in her hair.

Just so will you return to trace
The legend of an old refrain,
The half-forgotten meeting place,
The pepper tree that kept us from the rain:
Yellow roses in your tawny hair—
You will come but I will not be there.

THEY'D PLANT IT WITH THEIR HANDS TIED BEHIND 'EM.

Marion Talley, who walked right into grand opera and then turned around and walked right out again, is in New York instead of her farm 'way out west. Marion says she's on Broadway simply to sell the furnishings of her flat, but you can't fool us. She's in New York so she won't be tempted to plant wheat and annoy good Mr. Legge. Marion has been a farmer long enough to get the plant wheat hex. The only way to resist the wheat devil is to flee far from the farm. If the other farmers only had flat furniture to sell in New York and would go down there and camp around while they're doing it, then maybe good Mr. Legge's dream would come true. But otherwise—well, we'll bet those boys out in Iowa and Nebraska and South Dakota and other points west are planting wheat right now in the west forty, and the cow pasture, and behind the barn, and on the roof, and in the window boxes, and everywhere else. It's a habit.

SAY WHAT YOU WILL, THEY ARE MIGHTY CONVENIENT AT TIMES.

Do you know what we thought yesterday as we stood at our window and gazed out into the wild and terrible storm? What great thought came to us as we saw bewildered and half frozen pedestrians tossed this way and that by the wind? What strange idea flashed into our head as we saw the snow drifting deeper and deeper and street cars stalled in the drifts and their passengers tumbling out and running madly to find a haven of refuge? Can't guess? Well, then we'll tell you. We thought what a fine thing it would be if there could be roads or streets built underground so that people could go there and ride in street cars safe from all the raging tempests that blow on the surface of the earth. Now, what are those things called? They have them, miles and miles of them, in New York, London, Paris, Berlin, and other places. O, yes; SUBWAYS! That's it. And so yesterday, as we saw March doing its durndest to be ornery, we thought how nice it would be if Chicago had a subway. Too bad that a vote on the subway question could not have been taken yesterday. We would all have voted for it yesterday. But on election day the sun will probably be shining and the day bright and fair, so then we'll all vote unanimously against a subway. We Chicago people are like that.

WELL, WELL! WHAT WON'T THEY DO NEXT?

FLETCHERIZING NOT SO GOOD.

A RECENT investigation showed the inadvisability of Fletcherizing. The older generation will remember a gentleman named Fletcher, who advocated chewing of food until the bolus was converted into a semi-liquid, which slipped down the throat without conscious swallowing. Mr. Fletcher advocated the chewing of milk. He made a milk shake out of it. He was a sincere, earnest, plausible, and very energetic man who wrote books and delivered speeches advocating fletcherizing.

His presentation began with his own life story. He was a wornout, successful business man who accidentally stumbled on the royal road to health. Following it had rejuvenated him physically, mentally, and spiritually. Behold a youthful apostle! Unfortunately for his theory he aged rather rapidly and during the later years of his mission he was not a good exhibit A. He had to spend a part of his time in sanitaria, and, after a considerable period of semi-invalidism, he died somewhat prematurely. This would have occasioned no particular comment had it not been that he builded his system on his own health as the corner stone.

A recent physiologic investigation has shown that he had no ground to stand on. It is to be hoped, however, that the downfall of fletcherizing will not cause us to speed up while at the table. Nothing in the report warrants that. Good digestion must be begun by good chewing. The digestive juices cannot do their work satisfactorily unless the food is well broken up in the mouth. The stomach has some ability to churn and break up food, but it is limited. Man has no gizzard, like a chicken, nor does he return his cud to the mouth for further chewing as a cow does. A second function of chewing the food is to increase its flavors and taste. The saliva dissolves portions of the food bolus and brings out its flavor. A third function is the partial digestion of starch. Dr. T. B. Hartzell has shown that saliva has no mean part in the conversion of cooked starch when it is given a fair chance. To get this action, first, the starch should be cooked; second, it should be eaten towards the first of the meal when the ferments of the secretion are strongest; third, the food must be well chewed; and, fourth, the food must be held in the mouth while being slowly chewed and deliberately swallowed.

FAN EVENS TEMPERATURE.

A. R. G. writes: Recently you mentioned the condition in an office where a thermometer several feet above the floor shows a comfortable temperature, but workers in the office are cold because the air around their feet is considerably cooler than that around their heads.

We have found an electric fan satisfactory in correcting this condition. A small fan will do the work. All that is necessary is a slight impulse to revolve the air in the room, bringing down the warm air that ordinarily lies against the ceiling. We placed a fan on an overhead shelf, and arranged it where it would not blow a draft directly upon any person in the office. Some of the desks are close to the windows. In very cold weather the workers at these desks are chilled, and cold air lies on the floor. We turn on the fan for a few minutes and cold shoulders and cold feet are quickly made comfortable. It is astonishing how quickly we get results. We usually shut off the fan in a little while. The amount of current consumed is negligible.

I use a very small fan at home, in the same way. The thermometer on the wall in the baby's room on a cold day may read 65 degrees. This is a little too cool for her to take her bath. We have a fan on the floor where it can blow air against the radiator. In five or ten minutes after this is started up the thermometer reads 70 to 72 degrees. In choosing a fan do not get the oscillating type and do not get a large one. Too much draft is unpleasant. The fan should be placed near the ceiling so that it will blow a horizontal current. The fan should be tried in several different positions before it is permanently mounted. It should have a convenient switch so that there will be no temptation to leave it running unnecessarily. The fan should be a quiet one. The loud hum of some fans is irritating.

BRINGING HOME THE HUSBAND.

Chicago, March 20.—[Friend of the People.]—1. Can an American born girl bring her foreign born husband to America with her? 2. If not, how may he come over? 3. If a foreign born girl is due to receive her naturalization papers, and in the meantime goes to Canada, and there marries a foreigner, can she bring him to the United States after she becomes a citizen? E. P.

In reply to question one you are advised that where the marriage of an American girl to an alien took place prior to June 1, 1928, the wife may file form 633 on behalf of her husband to have him enter the United States as a nonquota immigrant; if the marriage took place subsequent to May 31, 1928, the wife may file the same form and the husband will receive preference under the quota.

In reply to question three the girl may petition on form 633 to bring her husband in as a quota preference immigrant after she receives her naturalization papers.

LEASE AUTOMATICALLY RENEWED.

Chicago, March 22.—[Legal Friend of the People.]—I have a one year lease on my flat expiring April 21. Does the lease automatically renew itself for one more year if I do not move on or before the day it expires? A. D.

Where a tenant under lease for a definite term holds over beyond the term and the landlord accepts additional rent, these circumstances, in the absence of other circumstances showing a contrary intent on the part of the landlord, result in a renewal by implication, so that neither party can terminate the tenancy nor increase the rent during such renewal.

65 YEARS AGO TODAY

MARCH 26, 1865.

WASHINGTON, D. C.—Gen. Grant reported that the rebels attacked his front near Petersburg on March 25 with three divisions under command of Gen. Gordon. His report continues: "By a sudden rush they seized the line held by the Third brigade, First division, to the right of Fort Stedman, overpowering the garrison and taking possession of the fort. They established themselves on the hill, turning our guns upon us. Our troops on either flank stood firm. Afterward a determined attack was made on Fort Haskell, but it was repulsed with great loss to the enemy." Reinforcements then were brought up, Gen. Grant says, and, by a charge, the rebels were driven from Fort Stedman with a loss of 2,700 in prisoners. The rebel loss in killed and wounded, Gen. Grant estimates, was probably not less than 3,000. The Union loss is estimated at 800. Great praise is bestowed on Gen. Hartsuff for the gallantry displayed in handling his division. Gen. McLaughlin was captured by the rebels in Fort Stedman.

WASHINGTON, D. C.—Gen. Schofield reported to Gen. Grant that he occupied Goldsboro, N. C., on March 21 with but slight opposition. He says that he expects to have definite intelligence from Gen. Sherman soon. Sherman's left was engaged with the rebels on Sunday near Bentonville. "I have no doubt all is well," Gen. Schofield concludes.

NEW YORK.—Robert Cobb Kennedy, convicted of being a spy, was executed at Fort Lafayette. He was shockingly profane and sang a song as the executioner was adjusting the rope.

WASHINGTON, D. C.—The Richmond Whig of the 22d learns that Fitzhugh Lee's cavalry attacked Gen. Sheridan at White House on March 21 and severely punished him.

MANILA.—La Patria and El Liberal, Spanish organs of the extreme Filipino party, have recently been printing articles inimical to the military government. Gen. Otis suppressed the former and imprisoned its editor. The rebels in Gen. Young's district are becoming aggressive. The American battalion garrisoning the town of Namaghacan was attacked on four consecutive nights. Reinforcements are arriving and Gen. Young plans an active campaign against the insurgents before the rainy season arrives.

VIENNA.—The betrothal of Prince Max Baden to Princess Marie, the daughter of the duke of Cumberland, is looked upon here as indicative of the final wiping out of the feud between the former king of Hanover, grandfather of the princess, and the imperial house of Germany.

NEW YORK.—The Rev. T De Witt Talmadge visited Brooklyn today after a prolonged absence and preached in the Central Presbyterian church. The sidewalks for some distance were blocked by those unable to get into the church.

MARCH 26, 1920.

CHICAGO.—Declaring that the proposed $4,000,000 loan to the city would be both illegal and unsound in policy, the bankers announced they will not supply the money which the council has voted to spend on wage increases. Meanwhile representatives of the policemen, firemen and clerks declared themselves dissatisfied with the 10 per cent increases voted by the council and threats of strikes or wholesale resignations continued.

CHICAGO. — Herman J. Blumson, "mystic miller" and pseudo philanthropist, who left Chicago last summer after he is alleged to have defrauded several banks of $300,000, was arrested in Washington, D. C., when he went to the postoffice to get a letter from his son. His capture ended an eight months' search that extended from Chicago to South Africa. Blumson was president of the Star Cereal and Milling company, a director of the State Commerical Savings bank, and president of the Jewish Educational alliance.

LEXINGTON, Ky.—Although their terms had been carried out and $25,000 in currency wrapped in a bundle had been placed in a public garbage can in Lexington's business district, kidnapers of Paul Little, 12 year old son of E. R. Little, capitalist, failed to take the money or return the boy.

WASHINGTON.—There is now little or no prospect of the passage of the Porto Rican tariff bill as it came from the house. It will either be modified or defeated entirely.

LONDON.—While Col. Plumer is reinforcing at Crocodile Pools preparatory to another attempt to relieve Mafeking, which was safe up to a week ago, despite the renewed vigor of the Boer artillerists, important developments are expected hourly at other points. At Thabanchu Gen. French is waiting for Gen. Olivier, supposed to be coming north with a force of burghers and rebels, and a hard fight is anticipated. Near Warrenton and Fourteen Streams skirmishing has been on for several days and a fierce engagement is expected when the British attempt to force a passage over the Vaal river.

CRANE JUNIOR COLLEGE.

Chicago, March 23.—Mr. Kaplan, in his letter defending Crane Junior college from the charges brought against it by the North Central association, displays more loyalty to the school than real understanding of the conditions which the association gave as its reasons for dropping Crane from its list of accredited colleges.

I do not intend here to argue the question of whether or not the association was justified in its action. I sincerely believe that much of the work done at Crane is of a higher quality than that done at a number of the schools which remain on the accredited list. But no purpose is served by failing to recognize that Crane is doing its work under some very serious handicaps. Much as those of us who are interested in the welfare of the school may regret the action of the North Central association, this action may in the long run do more good than harm if it helps to bring about a more general realization on the part of the public that an institution of the type of Crane exists in Chicago; and that it is doing work of real value to the community, but is prevented from doing this work with the greatest efficiency through lack, among other things, of adequate funds and equipment.

The solution by the school board and the school administration of the problems presented has of course been made more difficult by the financial situation which affects all divisions of our local government, and by the very rapid growth of attendance at Crane during the last four or five years. This rapid increase in attendance has made the present building and its physical equipment quite inadequate in certain respects. I cannot take space to go into the situation fully, but it seems to me that in view of the difficulties faced the institution is to be commended rather than criticized for its "general tone." At least there has been a definite improvement in that respect during the last two or three years.

I wonder how large a proportion of the people of Chicago realize that there are more undergraduate students at Crane Junior college than there are on the campus of the University of Chicago? A very large portion of these young people would not be able to go to college at all were it not for Crane. The expense of going to school away from home would for most of them be prohibitive, and even the tuition charges of schools like Northwestern and Chicago would mean an additional burden which they could not carry. No tuition is charged at Crane. Many of the students are earning their own living in whole or in part. They are often above the average in ability, ambition, and character. How many girls would work six hours in the evening for the telephone company, and then carry as much college work as they are permitted to during the day? Yet there are a number of telephone operators at Crane doing that very thing, and doing creditable work in their studies. If democracy in America is not to degenerate into merely an empty phrase, we must not permit education—even college education—to become something unattainable except to the financially fortunate.

I would not for a moment belittle the value of our great universities, but, relatively, they are fairly well provided for. Nowhere, it seems to me, in the field of college education would a little public support, both moral and financial, yield greater returns to Chicago than at Crane Junior college.

ELGIN F. HUNT,
Instructor at Crane Junior college.

WE'LL LOOK INTO IT.

Chicago, March 23.—Every city in the world has a gangland, but none get as much free advertising as the one in Chicago. If the press would look for some other kind of news to write about I think we could clear the name of our city in a short time.

If you have to write on a subject I wish you would help to rid this country of one of the worst laws we ever have had—that is the eighteenth amendment.

ILLINOIS CENTRAL FIREMAN.

RELIEVING THE PRESSURE.

Winona Lake, Ind., March 21.—Is your daily diatribes against the constitution now, for lack of arguments, to attempt to belittle the dry witness. No one would expect you to appreciate men and women of such high character and ideals as this noble army, of course, but it is very amusing to have you say that they are "nearly all persons of closed minds." THE TRIBUNE is such a shining example of "open-mindedness" and of even half-way decent treatment of all drys, and of all who seek world peace by any other way than gunpowder and poison gas! It is as open-minded as were Nero, Napoleon, the czars and the kaisers of other days, and manifests the same low pagan philosophies. The alleged fanaticism and intolerance of the drys is magnanimous charity and broadmindedness contrasted with the lowbrowed bigotry and unscrupulous falsifying tactics of many wet writers and attorneys. But "Lay on, Macduff," and do your worst; because such total lack of truth, fairness, good sportsmanship in the face of defeat, and lack of any practical plan to abate the evils of alcohol—since state and local option proved too local and too optional—all your vented wrath and spleen on the good men, and especially women, of America only piles up the majorities for prohibition when the fall elections come. JAMES A. GORDON.

HALLAM ON LIBERTY.

Pasadena, Cal., March 20.—In view of the specious arguments recently advanced by advocates of prohibition it may not be amiss to quote the profound statement of the great English historian, Henry Hallam [History of the Middle Ages, book ix., page 101, University Collection]:

"The spirit of this country [England] has never brooked that coercive polity which cannot exist without breaking in upon personal liberty by irksome regulations and discretionary exercise of power; the sure instrument of tyranny which renders civil privileges at once vexatory and insecure and by which we should dearly purchase some real benefits connected with its slavish discipline." AUGUST BLEK.

TREES INSTEAD OF WHEAT.

Fort Atkinson, Wis., March 21.—Farmers will have to start tree raising to keep from cutting their own throats. Chairman Legge has asked farmers to let part of their land lie idle. In my opinion Mr. Legge should have gone one step further and suggested tree planting. Three per cent for timber beats one-half of one per cent for grain in a glutted market. Every tractor purchased adds to the glut.

HALBERT LOUIS HOAGE.

IN MEMORIAM.

Calumet City, Ill., March 21.—Last evening an autoist struck and killed our fox terrier. The man did this deliberately and intentionally, as he did not sound his horn, nor did he stop or slow up to see what he had done. The pleasure which he derived from the act can scarcely compensate for the grief which he has occasioned in our household and in the neighborhood. Since society is unable to punish him, I hope that in the divine plan a special and very harrowing punishment is reserved for people who maliciously destroy other people's pets. W. STROBART.

THE VOICE OF AGE.

Maywood, Ill., March 22.—I am 83 years old. I never drank a drink of intoxicating liquor. I worked for a living and have owned 6 houses, one 40 acre farm, one 80 acre farm, and an 80 acre ranch. I owned a general store fourteen years, along with a money order postoffice beginning with the Taft administration, and was elected justice of the peace later. Prohibition has no more business in the constitution than I have being President of the United States. FRANKLIN S. WEAVER.

JOSEPHUS SAYS SO.

Chicago, March 13.—In your editorial "Josephus Says So" you make the rather remarkable statement that "the hoodlum liquor traffic of today is about the only intelligent support the Volstead act has." It doesn't speak very well for the wets if they can't lick a thing that has no intelligent supporters. The main trouble with you antis is that you waste your energy thinking up wise cracks about personal liberty, state's rights, etc., instead of producing the hundred million votes you claim for your cause. Three years ago the five Crowell Magazines achieved a combined circulation greater than that of any other magazine publisher in America.

Another two million circulation has been added since that time.

Therefore the Crowell editorial material must be of a type that constantly appeals to more and more people.

A study of the contents of Crowell Magazines is an excellent index to the thinking of the American people.

It is interesting, therefore, to learn that Crowell Magazines are progressive. They are entertaining, but also always constructive. They are sincere. They appeal to the reader's desire for self-improvement. They help people to accomplish more, to live fuller lives, to improve their surroundings, to have better health, to wear better clothes, to eat better food, to enjoy greater happiness.

All the progress of modern American industry is dependent on this unsatisfied desire for change and gain.

Advertising in Crowell Publications is the logical means of reaching the largest and most responsive market in America.

'NO SURRENDER OF AIR TO JAZZ!' MICHIGAN CRIES

Gov. Green Denies Radio Board's Authority.

Lansing, Mich., March 25.—[Special.]—Michigan is exercising a fundamental right under the constitution and operating a radio broadcasting station for police purposes, and it recognizes no limitation on that right by a federal commission that prefers to reserve the air for jazz and advertisements, Gov. Fred W. Green today declared in a formal statement.

His broadside was provoked by the radio commission's action in ordering the department of justice to arrest any persons responsible for building or operating a radio station in this state without sanction of the federal body.

State Officials Encouraged.

The executive office today was deluged with congratulatory letters and telegrams from influential men in all parts of the country who commended officials for their firm stand.

The transmitter planned by the state at East Lansing is to be of 5,000 watts power and probably will operate on a wave length of around 124 meters, well below the broadcast band of ordinary receivers. Bids for construction of the state are being inspected now.

Police Power Claimed.

"The police power has been reserved to the several states," asserts the governor in today's statement. "It is not subject to any limitation, but is a sovereign power. In exercising its duty of protecting its citizens from bandits and gunmen the state of Michigan has found through the experience of the city of Detroit that there is no more effective way of apprehending criminals than by the use of radio.

"The legislature of Michigan provided funds, $25,000, for a state police broadcasting station, through which our scout cars patrolling the main highways could be notified instantly upon the discovery of crime. In the interest of comity we asked the federal radio commission to assign a wave length to this station. The commission indicated that we would get no wave length.

"If we should wait two months for a hearing before this commission [the date set by the commission is May 15], and then wait in all probability as long for a decision, congress would have adjourned for the summer. If congressional action were desired, it would then be many months before it could be secured."

Then Talk on Bears Adds to Evening's Pleasure.

BY ELMER DOUGLASS.

There was much beauty in the air last night.

There was the prettiest kind of a play, with love as the theme, a violin as a key situation, and charming incidental music. The scene was Cremona, Italy, the home of the early great violin makers. The time was 1750. The program came from New York through W-G-N, 8 to 8:30.

Maj. Philip Martingale, chief ranger at Yellowstone National park, gave a captivating talk on the habits of bears, WLS, 7:15 to 8. He called the mother bear the greatest educator in the world, that is, to her own offspring.

Steffy Goldner, New York orchestra harpist, and Alfred O'Shea, Irish lyric tenor, were featured on the chain program through KYW, 7:30 to 8. Of considerable interest was the lovely and familiar vocal number, "The Low Backed Car," because it was announced that the composer, Samuel Lover, was Victor Herbert's grandfather.

A comedy drama in which a husband fooled his wife and his wife fooled her husband, resulting in a raise in salary for the husband, came through WBBM, 9 to 9:30.

For the first time the officers' families are to be included in all social affairs, the arrangements committee announced. Members of Fort Dearborn chapter of the D. A. R. and the ladies' auxiliary of the American Legion will act as hostesses to the wives of visiting delegates.

ASK COURT BAN ON SANITARIUM IN JACKSON PARK

Taxpayers Seek Test of Board Power.

A bill for an injunction to prevent construction of the La Rabida Jackson Park sanitarium on the lake front in Jackson park was filed in Circuit court yesterday by County Attorney Hayden Bell. The bill was filed on behalf of 12 property owners of the south side for the purpose of testing the legality of the south park commissioners' action in granting the permit for the children's hospital.

A petition asking the park officials to revoke the permit was presented to the board several weeks ago by a group of taxpayers. The commissioners ignored the request, even though a small delegation opposing the location of the building in a public park, attended a recent board meeting to bring the matter once more to their attention.

Question Board's Power.

The property owners are represented in the suit by Attorneys George B. Herricks and Hugo Martin. They contend the commissioners not only were without authority in issuing the permit but that construction of a sanitarium in a park is in violation of the law, as such a building does not come within the definition of park purposes.

State's Attorney Swanson, who signed the bill because the suit involves a question of public right, said "erection of a sanitarium in a Cook county park would establish a precedent that would cause no end of trouble. What would stop other benevolent associations from gaining the same right as was acquired in this case?"

On Site Since 1895.

The park commissioners have said they were not called upon to issue a permit for the building because the sanitarium had been in existence on the site since 1895. The former building was torn down several years ago and a financial drive to obtain funds for a new hospital was ended recently with the ground breaking ceremonies, which were attended by prominent physicians and society women.

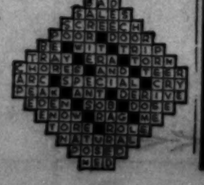
YESTERDAY'S PUZZLE SOLVED



Made To Make Good

—And that is exactly what Konjola does.

What could be wiser than to follow in the footsteps of that vast host of men and women who, to their eternal joy, put their faith in Konjola. One of these is a lifelong resident of Chicago, Mr. Otto Spieweg, 1224 South Central Park, who says:

MR. OTTO SPIEWEG
1224 S. Central Park Ave., Chicago

"Put me on record that Konjola is the best medicine I have ever taken for stomach trouble, and as a general system-builder. My stomach gave me a lot of trouble, and I had a very poor appetite. What little I did eat would lie in my stomach. My entire system was run down. But I found the right medicine in Konjola, and six bottles have put my stomach in the best condition it has been in two years. My appetite has improved; my food agrees with me, and I am feeling fine in every way. I am glad to endorse Konjola and will never hesitate to recommend it to my friends."

OPPOSITION IN HOUSE MAY HALT TARIFF PROGRAM

Democrats Gain Aid of Republicans.

Washington, D. C., March 25.—[Special.]—Controversies over the tariff bill were fomenting in the house today as the original house measure, as amended by the senate, was formally reported back to be sent to conference. The house leaders decided to postpone any attempt to send the bill to conference until next Monday.

The leaders were confident that they had sufficient votes for the adoption of a special rule to send the bill to conference. Before trying the matter out, however, they considered it to be desirable to canvass sentiment.

Representative John Garner [Dem., Tex.], minority leader, continued to demand the right to have votes in the house on such items as sugar and lumber. It was asserted by Republican regulars that thus far not more than a dozen Republicans have shown a disposition to join with the Democrats to force adoption of this procedure. Those joining with Mr. Garner insisted that there are from 40 to 60 Republicans ready to support the Democratic program.

There were verbal exchanges in connection with the senate tariff bill today on the floor of the house with Representative Garner, Representative A. T. Treadway [Rep., Mass.], a regular, and Representative W. H. Sproul [Rep., Kas.], who is for the senate export debenture farm relief provision, participating.

Representative Garner announced that he would insist that the senate and house conferees make public their agreements as they proceed with the consideration of the 1,253 senate amendments to the house bill.

ENDS LIFE AFTER QUARREL.

Mrs. Sophia Foidl, 40 years old, 1418 South Jefferson street, died yesterday in her home after drinking poison after a quarrel with her husband.

WASHINGTON NOTES

Washington, D. C., March 25.—(AP)—The senate amendment to the $300,000,000 Dowell road bill, increasing from $15,000 to $25,000 per mile the amount of federal aid to states for highway construction, was accepted by the house. The measure now goes to the President.

The house resolution to authorize $300,000 for completing restoration of the old frigate Constitution was adopted by the senate.

A resolution to authorize President Hoover to invite representatives of other governments to join with the United States in observing the 150th anniversary of the surrender of Lord Cornwallis at Yorktown, Va., was adopted by the senate.

The annual supply bill for the agriculture department, carrying a total of $162,253,788 for the fiscal year beginning July 1, was passed by the senate.

Senator Shipstead, Farmer-Labor, Minnesota, returned to the senate from a trip to Panama which he undertook after a severe illness last fall.

The government was offered $5,000 a year by New York Air Terminals, Inc., for the use of the water at the foot of Bedloe's island, from which rises the Statue of Liberty, as a landing place for seaplanes.

The senate rules committee shouted down a resolution by Senator Watson of Indiana, the Republican leader, to restore to the representatives of the Newspaper Press association the privilege of the senate floor.

Representative Hudson, Republican, Michigan, said in the house that the motion picture industry had become a public utility in fact, if not in name, and urged passage of his measure designed to prevent monopolistic block booking and blind booking.

Accusing Attorney General Mitchell of "following in the footsteps of Harry Daugherty" in his policy toward "monopolies and trusts," Representative Patman, Democrat, Texas, urged the house to pass his resolution to investigate the federal trade commission trade practice conference work.

Appropriation of $100,000 by congress to be used by the public health service in making an exhaustive survey of the problems of cancer was recommended by Dr. Joseph Colt Bloodgood of Baltimore in a statement submitted to the senate commerce committee.

LA FOLLETTE HIT AS A HYPOCRITE AND SO IS BLAINE

Schafer Charges Senators Vilify Wisconsin.

Washington, D. C., March 25.—[Special.]—Representative John C. Schafer [Rep., Wis.] today renewed his attack on the La Follette forces in Wisconsin in a vitriolic speech to the house assailing their spokesmen as hypocritical crusaders for ideals for which they have no regard themselves.

Following up his first assault on the La Follette organization on Feb. 28, Schafer today directed his shafts at Senators John J. Blaine and Robert M. La Follette [Rep., Wis.]. He also denounced the activities of Attorney General John W. Reynolds of Wisconsin, who, he declared, is now seeking a seat on the state Supreme court bench despite the fact that he benefited from the money of New York lobbyists spent "in violation of the Wisconsin corrupt practices act."

Strut Forth as Crusaders.

Although he did not name the two senators, Schafer obviously referred to them in calling attention to the "villifiers of my fair state" who fought the appointment of Chief Justice Hughes, yet gave their support to Mr. Reynolds:

Mr. Speaker, the voices of many of the candidates supported in the 1928 Wisconsin primary campaign by the La Follette Progressive club of Milwaukee county and other satellites of their political combination have been raised in violent denunciation and vituperation in criticism of the Hughes appointment," Schafer asserted.

"These villifiers of my fair state have waxed eloquent in picturing themselves as knighted champions of the people's interests and protectors of the fountain head of justice, the Supreme court, from corrupting corporate and blighting influences of combinations and monopolies. They claim to exemplify the highest ideals of Supreme court integrity and strut forth as crusaders to effectuate those ideals.

Tell of Reynolds' Support.

"Why, Mr. Speaker, those who in Wisconsin have condemned the appointment of Mr. Hughes, who have denounce and villified this honorable and illustrious citizen, are today in Wisconsin supporting John W. Reynolds, who is a candidate for the Wisconsin Supreme court. Mr. Reynolds has for many weeks been covering the state in behalf of his candidacy.

"This is the same Reynolds who was supported for the position of attorney general by the La Follette Progressive Republican club and in whose behalf that club received from the master lobbyist, Richard H. Lee of New York, thousands of dollars, in violation of the Wisconsin corrupt practices act, which they expended in the chain system of campaigning for candidates, including Reynolds.

"Those political henchmen of Reynolds, who so bitterly denounced Mr. Hughes, should be the first to have demanded that the attorney general devote the people's time, which he is now spending in his campaign for the Supreme court bench, to performing the duties of his office, and endeavor to clear up the Lee contribution.

"I feel confident that if the good people of Wisconsin had an opportunity to have presented to them all the sordid facts in the Lee case that they would be so aroused as to flood the ballot boxes in the forthcoming judiciary election with an avalanche of ballots against Mr. Reynolds."

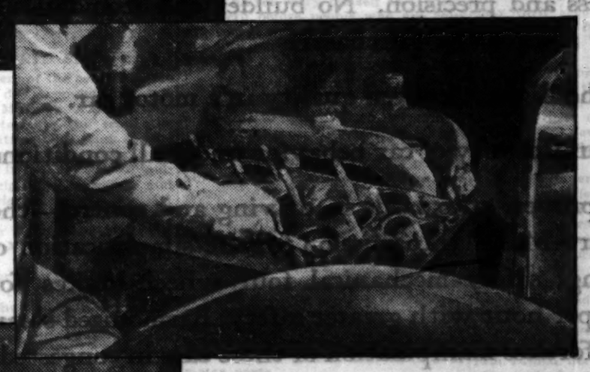
Why we waited 6 months

to announce this new oil to the public . . .



HUNDREDS of cars, of practically every make and model, were used in road tests under the toughest conditions possible, to prove the superior value of New Iso-Vis as a motor lubricant. These rigid tests were successful even beyond our expectations. The 4 points at the right give the details.

SAVE THE EXPENSE and bother of carbon removal. Again, thorough tests and experiments have proved that New Iso-Vis has less tendency toward carbon residue than other oils.

IN THIS EXPERIMENT which proves that New Iso-Vis does not "break down" in the crankcase, used Iso-Vis is poured thru a special filter. The filter removes the crankcase dirt only—and the oil itself is exactly the same as when freshly distilled.

LAST October, after a year of research, a new type of motor oil was perfected. It was announced to the public only four weeks ago.

The reason for this delay is easily explained.

We believed that this new oil is one of the most important advances in lubrication yet made. We believed, among other things, that it would greatly increase the average life of the automobile engine.

Naturally we wanted to give it the most thorough tests possible. These tests have taken six months to complete. More than a hundred different cars were used. One car was driven 9,000 miles—more than three times across the continent!

We can now definitely make the following statements:

1. New Iso-Vis means less wear on every moving part of the automobile engine.
2. It will not "thin out" in the crankcase.
3. It gives effective lubrication over a wider range of temperatures—both high and low.
4. It means a radical reduction of carbon deposits—far less than in most premium-priced oils.

With New Iso-Vis you get a type of lubrication that has not been possible before, regardless of the kind of oil you have used.

This new, improved oil is now on sale at all Standard Oil dealers and service stations. Drain, flush and fill up your crankcase today.

Polarine

The New Polarine is also affected by our new refining processes—giving it a degree of lubricating efficiency which we believe is exceeded only by the New Iso-Vis. The price is 25¢ a quart.

DESIGNED and built as are no other cars, these models, from the La Salle to the custom Cadillac V-16, offer a range in variety and choice not obtainable in the combined products of all other makers.

In Cadillac, Fisher and Fleetwood plants every consideration is given to the attainment of the highest degree of fineness and precision. No builder of automobiles so positively assures the purchaser:

2nd, uniformity of car behavior under all conditions.

3rd, proven safeguards in driving and control—the silent "Syncro-Mesh" transmission for the simplification of gear-shifting; safety-mechanical four-wheel brakes for more miles per hour with greater safety; harmonized steering for the effortless manipulation of these cars in congested traffic; and non-shattering Security-Plate Glass for your protection.

4th, service of a kind which only Cadillac and La Salle owners know—service stations in the United States and Canada provide a completely standardized service at prices limited by the factory, and available to every Cadillac or La Salle owner, no matter where he may be; plus a maintenance system which enables the owner to prevent trouble rather than pay for its correction.

5th, the most moderate first cost for any fine car, and operation and upkeep costs which over the years will prove less expensive than for any other car.

[Sixteen-Cylinder Trials Cars Available]

The possibilities of eight-cylinder engines attain their maximum in Cadillac V-8 and La Salle V-8 power plants. Cadillac performance is now carried to new heights in the V-16. The only way you can realize how extraordinarily the V-16 performs is by riding in it or driving it. A telephone message will bring this car to your door.

Los Angeles, Cal., March 25.—Hitting was almost a lost art with the Cubs today but it didn't cause them any embarrassment. Instead of safe hits they accepted bases on balls and made such good use of the latter that they whipped the Angels in the seventh of the spring series by 8 to 0. Six of these eight runs grew from free transportation given out by Berly Horne, an ex-Cub, who was allowed four innings in which to prove his ineffectiveness.

Aside from the fact that the victory for the major leaguers was accomplished with a minimum number of hits, the most important development was an exhibition of hurling given by George Bell, the rookie from Mobile. The plan when he started was to limit him to five rounds but he rested these off so skillfully that McCarthy permitted the kid to go the limit. He rewarded the boss with a six hit game in which only three Angels moved as far as second base.

Cubs Hold Pair of Fours.

The Cubs did all of their run getting in two separate innings, four going home in chapter one and the same number in chapter three. Horne inserted three passes into each of these rallies. Riggs Stephenson stepped into the first cluster with a homer which was the only hit of the inning.

Blair got a regular job for the day because of Lester Bell's bum arm, on which daily bulletins have been popular for the last couple of weeks. This morning, with the wing still sore, Bell finally decided that rest might get the results he hoped could be attained by daily labor. He expressed his views to McCarthy and the latter benched him until such time as an improvement is noted. Trainer Lotshaw will endeavor to eliminate the trouble by applying his famous lamps.

Beck Walks to Start Game.

The meeting opened with Beck drawing a pass off Horne. Grimm also walked. Hornsby died on a popup and Wilson on a grounder. A wild pitch let Beck score, after which Cuyler was given free passage. Then Stephenson smacked his homer into the right field seats, Grimm and Cuyler preceding him over the counter.

Although the Angels didn't register off G. Bell, their first couple rounds of attack were marked by noteworthy happenings. One was when Haney led off in the first session with a liner to left. He figured it was good for two bases but Stephenson threw him out with a bulletlike peg. Then in the second, Beck enjoyed the honor of starting a triple play. Harper walked and Jacobs singled him to second. Statz then lined into Beck's hands. He stepped on second to double Harper and threw to Grimm to get Jacobs off first for the third out.

Sacrifices Help Out.

The second batch of four runs for the Cubs came in the third when Grimm walked and Hornsby singled. A pass to Wilson jammed the corners. Cuyler also strolled and Grimm was forced to score. Stephenson offered a sacrifice fly on which Hornsby scored from third. Then Blair singled to center to score Wilson and put Cuyler on third. Kiki hiked home on Taylor's long fly to right.

Beck was the first man to face Walsh and he died on strikes. He was set down similarly in the seventh. In between these hits of powerful swinging there were only two Cub hits. One of these was a two bagger by Stephenson after two were out in the fifth. The other was a single by Hornsby in the seventh. The Rajah was doubled trying to steal on Hack's third strike.

Blair hit one safely in the eighth to no purpose, and in the ninth Beck and Hornsby reeled off singles. These also were of no use.

Sigafoos Doubles in Fourth.

The second of the three hostiles who traveled as far as second base in Bell was Sigafoos, who doubled in the fourth frame. The hit was followed by a pass to Harper, after which the Cub rookie nailed the next two batters. Then he hurled four innings in which only one runner reached base and this on a scratch hit. In the ninth Moore reached second on his single and a wild pitch with none out, but Bell was again equal to the occasion.

GRID COMMITTEE LENGTHENS TIME ON SHIFT PLAYS

"At Least a Second," or Six Count Is Rule.

New York, March 25.—(AP)—Finding that some teams last fall were beating the stop rule on shift plays and others were wearing equipment the same color as the ball to trick opponents, the national football rules committee today announced definite action to curb these practices. These were the most important results of the annual session of rule makers for 1930.

Instead of "approximately one second," the stop period on shift plays was changed to "a period of at least one second."

The count roughly measuring this moment of pause was increased from four to six and the referee was empowered to carry a split-second watch to assure himself that the rule is being obeyed.

Four pairs of eyes instead of one or two will be on a constant lookout for any and all violations of the rules next year, under a provision giving the referee, umpire, field judge, and linesman "concurrent" jurisdiction over all fouls.

Referee Is Final Judge.

Under the old code there were certain fouls which the referee was to look out for and others for which one of his fellow officials was solely responsible. The referee will act as the final judge should any conflict of testimony or opinion arise.

Deploring "unsportsmanlike tendencies" as represented by the use of camouflage in designing uniforms, the committee adopted a resolution which "deprecates the use of head protectors, jerseys or attachments which are so similar in color to the ball that they give the wearers an unfair and unsportsmanlike advantage over their opponents."

Hall Is Chairman.

Those present were E. K. Hall, Dartmouth, chairman; W. S. Langford, Trinity, secretary; Tad Jones, Yale, representing New England; Bill Roper, Princeton, middle Atlantic states; H. J. Stegeman, University of Georgia, southeastern states; A. A. Stagg, Chicago, middle west; M. F. Ahern, Kansas A. and M., Missouri valley; Ray Morrison, Southern Methodist, Southwest; W. O. Hunter, Southern California, Pacific coast; H. W. Hughes, Colorado Aggies, Rocky mountain states; Glenn Warner, Stanford; Jock Sutherland, Pittsburgh, and Bob Zuppke, Illinois.

ST. MEL'S ENTRY BRINGS MAROON CAGE LIST TO 29

St. Mel's high school of Chicago was the lone entrant in the University of Chicago national basketball tournament yesterday, bringing the total to twenty-nine. St. Mel's has an aggressive outfit which went well in the recent Wisconsin tournament and is expected to make a strong showing in the Maroon meet. De La Salle, national Catholic champions, are still considering the invitation given by Manager Crisler.

The bracket may be completed by Friday, in which case drawings will be made immediately. H. O. Crisler, who has managed the last eight meets, and successfully directed the tournament in a critical year, leaves tonight for Minneapolis to assume his position as athletic director and head football coach at the University of Minnesota. Coach Nelson Norgren will run the tournament in Crisler's stead.

Joe Glick Beats Balduc in 10 Rounds at New York

New York, March 25.—(AP)—Joe Glick, veteran New York lightweight, gained the decision over Georgie Balduc of New York, in the 10 round main bout tonight. Glick weighed 136½, Balduc, 137½.

Arrangements Completed for Walter Eckersall's Last Rites

While hundreds of messages, paying tribute to Walter Eckersall, who died suddenly on Monday, continued to pour into THE TRIBUNE office yesterday, the family of the noted athlete last night completed arrangements for the funeral.

The services will be held at 9:30 o'clock tomorrow morning from Holy Cross church at 65th and Maryland. Burial will be at Oakwoods cemetery. The body was removed yesterday to the Eckersall family residence at 7331 Kingston avenue.

The active pallbearers will be Harvey T. Woodruff, A. A. Stagg, Charles W. Dunkley, Col. H. B. Hackett, Judge Walter B. Steffen, J. L. Lipp, John V. Clinnin, Sheldon Clark, Frank Schreiber, W. J. Mohr, John L. Griffiths, and Avery Brundage.

Modesty Marked Him.

A. A. Stagg, Eckersall's old football coach at the University of Chicago, returned from the football rules committee meeting in New York yesterday morning. He expressed deep regret upon learning of the all-time-American quarter back's death. The Maroon athletic director paid the following tribute to his famous pupil:

"Eckie's death was a tremendous surprise and shock. I thought he was in the best of health. In fact, when I saw him in California last fall he seemed to be in splendid condition, both physically and mentally. He got me a ticket for the game at Pasadena at that time.

"As I think about him, I feel that as a player his predominate characteristic was modesty. He was very unselfish and unassuming. I never saw anything but that in him in his four years at the university. He did not care for fulsome praise.

"He never was hurt playing. He was so quick that at the last minute he could throw himself so as to avoid being injured.

"He was a fine sportsman; very generous in his comments of others.

Eckie Never Complained.

"I never heard him whine or complain. If he got licked he accepted it and gave the other fellow due credit for it. He never once made an alibi.

"As a player he started with a tremendous physical handicap in point of weight. He weighed 132 when he entered the U. of C. in the fall of 1903, as I remember it. He gradually added to his weight and in his last year weighed 146 when he came out for practice, just what my son Paul weighed this last year. Eckie gloated over the fact that he had put on so much weight.

"But he had great speed. There was a great contest on between Eckie and Will Hoganson, later here at the university on our track team when Eckie was at Hyde Park and Will at Lewis institute. They had run several nip and tuck races all year and when they met in our interscholastic in the spring of 1903 there was tremendous interest. As I remember it Hoganson won the 100 by inches from Eckie in 10 seconds flat, but Eckie came back and won the 220 by over a foot in :22.

A Great Kicker.

"Eckie was a very clever player and an artful dodger. He was a very fine, accurate punter and excellent drop kicker. Even in high school he

N. Y. Evening Post Pays Homage to Walter Eckersall

New York, March 25.—[Special.]—The New York Evening Post, in an editorial, says:

"Walter Eckersall of the University of Chicago was one of the great football players whose names will stand in the long history of the game. He was not of those who now are rushed to greatness in the sports columns for but a single few-games season. He was supreme as a kicker when the game was one of heavy rushing and the forward pass had never been heard of. For four glorious years he kicked to victory the elevens of Stagg and Chicago. He literally won championship games by dropping field goals when no other scores were made. Also he was a marvelous runner in a broken field. But above all this, Eckersall will stand as one of the western pioneers who broke the hitherto impregnable rush line of eastern football. He took Chicago's name into the sacred territory of Yale and Harvard and Princeton. He got an 'All-America'—all-America—for the Mississippi valley. He stood for a change in football eras. The history of the American game can never be written without him."

SHIRES, IT SEEMS, WAS CAUGHT IN COGS OF MACHINE

And Now He's Stripped of His Personality.

BY WESTBROOK PEGLER.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, March 25.—Old Mr. Comiskey, forgetting the things that gave him pleasure in his own youth, is determined to repress the Shires boy who is no better ball player than he should be and therefore could not win by sulking but only by apologizing and promising to be good.

The Shires boy needs his job more than Mr. Comiskey needs him for he job, so today he walked into the office, surrendered his flask and his ag of eating tobacco and signed articles containing some improvised quivalent of the morality clause which the moving picture magnates imposed on their people after a deplorable run of social homicides in Hollywood.

Comiskey an Industrialist.

Mr. Comiskey has ceased to regard himself as a sporting character and become an industrialist with jobs to offer to sober men of quiet behavior, and as insistent upon the private virtues as Henry Ford. From now on, I take it, he will appeal to his customers not for loyalty and that joyous adulation which the baseball patrons used to yield to the athletes, but only for patronage.

Certainly no man can expect such enthusiasm when he frankly makes the point that his employés are mere jobholders on the pay roll of a private corporation because this is bound to dispel the illusion of heroism. Nor can a player carry himself as a sporting hero before people who are thus given to understand that he is no hero but only, like themselves, a fellow with a job and a boss to bawl him out.

Becomes Just a Workman.

As a public figure the athlete is in a position to appeal to the devotion of the patrons, but to succeed in the imposture he must be allowed to color his work with the tints of his personality, all of which, in Shires' case, are red.

Forbidden to express himself and held strictly to the performance of routine duties, without flourishes or byplay, the Great Shires will become merely C. A. Shires; color, white; age 23, employed in the baseball works of a big firm doing business in Chicago and having no more public position than J. J. Dokes, color, white; age 23; employed in the works of a corporation engaged in the manufacture of motor parts.

I realize, of course, that this has always been so in the baseball business, but the magnates were less candid in other days and the customers were permitted to enjoy a very pleasant illusion in which the athletes figured as gay and privileged characters. The customers envied their apparent independence and waited at the clubhouse gates when the games were over to watch them enviously as they swaggered out.

The employers, on their part, appreciated the business value of this harmless misapprehension and for a long time did nothing to correct it, believing, no doubt, that if they reduced their workmen to the level of workmen in the public fancy, then the public might be no more curious to see them leave the job at night than to see the day shift leaving some plant at the steel mills. Barring his sun tan, his diamond ring, and his neck shave, the ball player looks much the same as other employés when he skins off his overalls and gets into his street clothes, as he calls them, to leave the works after the game.

Might Affect Sport Reporting.

Being neither a stockholder nor a cash customer, perhaps I am speaking out of turn about this matter, but I do wish Mr. Comiskey would be more tactful in his dealings with the young men who work for his wages. This sort of fact facing is bound to have a sedative influence on the customers of professional sport in all its phases and when the customers finally do come to regard the athletes as com-

Shires Answers Those Questions; Signs with Sox

Charles Arthur Shires, penitent rather than belligerent, walked into the offices of the Chicago White Sox yesterday, answered three questions that had been asked of him by Owner Charles A. Comiskey, and wound up his interview by signing a one year's contract calling for a salary of $7,500.

As a last gesture Harry Grabiner, who conducted the negotiations for the White Sox, rewarded Shires with reinstatement to good standing in baseball, the fistic first sacker having been suspended at the time he whipped Manager Lena Blackburn and Traveling Secretary Lou Barber of the White Sox in a Philadelphia hotel late last season.

Shires left later in the day to join the White Sox in their training camp at San Antonio, Tex.

"I'm in condition now and only need to tune up the old batting eye a bit," he told a group of friends before he boarded a train for Texas. "And don't let anybody tell you Bud Clancy's going to beat me out of that job at first base."

As Art waved good-by to his Chicago friends he shouted, "And I'll out-hit Babe Ruth and Hornsby this year."

RAIN DISRUPTS MIDSOUTH GOLF CHAMPIONSHIPS

Southern Pines, N. C., March 25.—(AP)—A cold windswept rainstorm this afternoon which named among its victims more than half the field, caused tournament officials of the midsouth women's championship event here to announce the posting of today's scores optional. Players who desired may play their second round over tomorrow with the finals slated for Thursday.

About half women links experts were caught on the fairways shortly after starting their rounds. This company included the American champion, Glenna Collett; Miss Marian Bennett of New Britain, Conn., and Mrs. Marion Turpie Lake of New Orleans.

Miss Maureen Orcutt, Haworth, N. J., star, who led the field at the end of yesterday's play with a 78, negotiated her round today before the rain began and turned in a brilliant 76. This score placed her at the head of those who posted scores today. Miss Orcutt said she would not play her round over tomorrow.

Miss Collett played through intermittent showers during her out nine for a 40. But the blustery wind and rain ruined her game on the inward nine and she took a bad 47. With her 80 of yesterday she totaled 167 for the 36 holes, but said she would play her second round over tomorrow.

PENNSYLVANIA BOXING CAPTAIN SERIOUSLY HURT

Philadelphia, Pa., March 25.—(AP)—Oliver Horne of New York City, captain of the University of Pennsylvania boxing team, was said by his physician at the university hospital to be in a serious condition today following an operation last night for a dural hemorrhage.

Horne was taken to the students' ward of the hospital for rest and observation as a result of a beating he received in a bout with William Struble of Pennsylvania State college in the intercollegiate championships last Saturday. The hemorrhage was between the brain and brain tissue.

INJUNCTION GIVES PRIMO A CHANCE FOR ANOTHER K. O.

Denver, Colo., March 25.—(AP)—The huge bulk that is Primo Carnera will be displayed in a Denver ring Friday night against Jack McAuliffe despite the fact that the Colorado state boxing commission has declared McAuliffe an "unsuitable opponent."

CHICAGOANS GET LAST CHANCE IN STANLEY SERIES

Must Nip Canadiens by Two Goals.

Boston, Mass., March 25.—(AP)—The Montreal Maroons fought the Boston Bruins for almost 87 minutes here tonight to gain their first victory out of three starts in the playoff series between the division champions of the National Hockey league.

During the three regular periods, a 10 minute overtime session, and almost 17 minutes of sudden death play, but one score was made. That was caged by Archie Wilcox, one of the Montreal spare defense men.

A few minutes before Wilcox tallied, George Boucher checked Marty Barry in the center zone and suffered a serious injury. As Boucher bumped the Boston center, the latter stumbled and fell against him. Boucher toppled over backwards and landed heavily on his left leg. He was carried off the ice and reports from the Montreal dressing room described his injury as a fractured leg.

The fourth game of the series will be played here Thursday night.

HAWKS TO PLAY CANADIENS

BY HARLAND ROHM.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

MONTREAL, Que., March 25.—This city of three-quarters of a million, ancient as cities go on the North American continent and appearing older from its old world type of architecture, will dip a couple of hundred years back into history tomorrow night for another skirmish between the French and the Indians. Doubtless casualties won't be as serious, but there could hardly have been a more determined clash in the days of painted braves than when Les Canadiens and the Chicago Blackhawks skate out on the Forum rink for the second game of their Stanley cup playoff series.

Montreal takes its hockey seriously and seats have been sold out since the day after the dates were fixed. Even with two playoff games last week, Montreal's hockey appetite isn't satisfied. Nor will the Hawks be without their share of rooters, for some of the English fans are such rabid partisans of the Maroons, the Flying Frenchmen's city rivals, they'd rather see the Hawks than Les Canadiens win.

Arrived Last Night.

Today fourteen Blackhawk players, with Manager Bill Tobin and Coach Dick Irvin, were rolling along through snow covered hills somewhere west along the north bank of the St. Lawrence river, due to arrive at 11:30 tonight.

East of St. Lawrence-Main, the street which rather vaguely separates the French from the English quarters, the colorful and volcanic "habitants" were preparing to celebrate another victory tomorrow night. Even a parade isn't out of the question should the Flying Frenchmen win, more like college spirit than professional sport.

Les Canadiens have one advantage in that not a man of their string is injured, even the heavy bumping of their game against the Hawks Sunday night bringing no more than a few bruises. The Hawks, of course, are crippled by the loss of Wentworth, their best defense man, and March, as well as under the disadvantage of the long ride, but they'll have a night in real beds to unlimber their legs before the game.

Continuation of First Game.

That lineup of the Frenchmen contains two men who will rate most of the all league teams of the season, Morenz and Mantha. The Hawks haven't a man who will be picked for an all-league team. Yet the Hawks have outfought apparently stronger teams before.

Actually tomorrow's game will be practically a continuation of the game started in Chicago, for total goals in both games determine the winner and the right to advance to the next series against the New York Rangers. Inasmuch as Les Canadiens won the first game, 1 to 0, the Hawks must win by two goals tomorrow. If the Hawks are one goal ahead at the end of the regular playing time, thus tieing the score in total goals, play will continue on a sudden death basis, the first goal scored determining the victory. Such an overtime game would be truly fitting, for the only game the two teams have played this year, which didn't go into overtime, was last Sunday's contest and under the rules that one couldn't, regardless of the score.

Kreig, Veteran Catcher, Succumbs at Chillicothe

SOX WIN, 13-12, BUT GAME ISN'T ONE TO RECALL

BY EDWARD BURNS.

San Antonio, Tex., March 25.—[Special.]—J. Smead Jolley late this afternoon smacked out a double in the last of the ninth to end one of the sloppiest baseball games it has been our misfortune to witness in to these many seasons. The score was White Sox, 13; San Antonio Indians, 12.

The shocking performance of our athletes altered Manager Donie Bush's idea that he may get a great deal of pitching out of two of his three left handers, Bob Weiland and Dutch Henry. They looked very bad from all angles, especially when it is considered they have been in training almost a month longer than their minor league opposition.

One Happy Thought.

The one happy thought for Sox enthusiasts lies in the fact that the lineup had a heavy sprinkling of second string performers. All of the four Sox errors were committed by the second stringers, Smith having two, Kerr one, and Harris one. These errors were in bad spots, but even so, the rap for the unsatisfactory character of the game washes back on the two left hands.

Weiland walked six batsmen and hit one in the four innings he worked, but allowed only two hits. Henry walked five in five innings and allowed eight hits. It should be said to Dutch's credit, however, that when the Indians slipped up on him and tied the score in the eighth, he came back in the ninth and disposed of three batsmen in order.

Autry Goes Blank.

Both sections of the first inning were gems of inefficiency. For some reason or other the Sox played the rôle of home club. McCullough first up in the game popped to Smith, but Kott walked. Dondero flied to Clancy, then Farrell singled to right, putting Kott on third. It was at this point that the Sox contributed their part to the inefficiency motif. Kott and Farrell started a double steal and Autry seemed at a loss to determine how the play should be broken up. Kott scored while Chick was making up his mind. Schinkel then struck out.

In the last half of the initial inning the Sox scored four runs, although the only ball knocked out of the infield was a sacrifice fly. Smith and Kerr walked and Smith moved to third on Harris' sacrifice fly to Strain. Jolley walked, the fourth ball being a wild pitch on which Smith scored and Kerr took second. The runners moved up while Moudy was throwing out Watwood. Moudy perpetrated his second wild pitch while throwing to Kamm, Kerr scoring and Jolley reaching third. Kamm walked and stole second. Dondero booted Clancy's grounder, Jolley scoring and Kamm taking third. Clancy was caught between first and second, but Kamm scored before the run down was completed.

Where Sox Are Lucky.

Weiland loaded the bases in the second inning with three bases on balls, but the Sox escaped without a run being scored against them. Mr. Weiland was not so fortunate in the fourth inning. Strain walked, Ballew struck out and Meyers flied to Jolley. Lapan batted for Moudy and drove the ball through Harris' glove. The error permitted Strain to score and Lapan to reach second. Lynch ran for Lapan. McCullough was hit by a pitched ball. Kott singled to right, scoring Lynch and putting McCullough on third. The Texans tried the double steal but Autry had things figured out by this time and broke up the play to end the inning.

With the score showing them only one run ahead at the end of the first half of the third, the Sox became frightened and made five runs on four singles, three walks, a wild pitch, and an error. Henry went in and was less impressive than his fellow left hander, Weiland. In the first inning he pitched, the fifth, the Indians nicked him for two runs and had the bases full when the side was retired.

The Sox made two runs in the fifth and one in the sixth but the Indians came back with four in the seventh, all after two were out. Errors by Smith and Kerr, two walks, a single and a double did the business.

The San Antonio boys broke loose and tied the score at a dozen apiece in the eighth. They did it through the medium of three singles, Smith's second error, and two bases on balls.

DAINTY WINS 3 RACES, IN MONEY IN THREE OTHERS

Jacksonville, Fla., March 25.—(AP)—Buddy Dainty, the Canadian sensation of the winter turf season, may have his off days but today was not one of them.

Accepting six mounts at St. John's Park, the little Canadian jockey booted the entire sextet into the money in a brilliant exhibition of riding. His record consisted of three winners, two seconds and a third. He did not have a mount in the seventh race.

mon employés and no more glamorous than their own humble selves they may cease to be customers.

This would have an unpleasant effect on the sport writing industry, and that is reason enough for me to deplore Mr. Comiskey's candor in his present determination to debunk the Shires boy.

It seems agreed that the Shires boy was altogether too noisy and facetious last year and good order in Mr. Comiskey's ball club undoubtedly required that he be sat upon before the 1930 season began. But it seemed unnecessary to squash him flat.

The civilization of the baseball business has progressed a long way since the time when Mr. Comiskey, himself, adorned the game. Those were drinking and fighting days, when the long bar beneath the grandstand was as familiar in the appointments of the major league park as the hot dog and peanut dispensaries of the present.

Last year I studied an old bound volume of the Police Gazette and decided that Charles Dickens' first impressions of the American scene probably were resented only because he saw things so truly and told what he saw. But long after Mr. Comiskey quit playing to become an employer he was known as a man with a humane understanding of the human thirst and the word that Charlie Comiskey was buying brought the barflies arunning from all directions as far as five saloons away. It is curious that when men grow elderly and put frivolity away they object to children dancing to the hurdygurdy.

SCHOOL KIDS TO WATCH CUBS, SOX FREE OF CHARGE

Arrangements were concluded yesterday by Ald. Thomas J. Bowler [41st] with officials of the Cubs and White Sox baseball teams to admit children of the public and parochial grammar schools on four days of each week to the baseball parks free. William Veeck, president of the Cubs, and Harry Grabiner, secretary of the White Sox, agreed to the free admissions at a meeting of the council subcommittee on athletics.

On April 17 and 18 a crowd of 4,000 children will be admitted to the White Sox park and on April 24 and 28 the free admissions will start at the Cubs park. The other days will be set at a later meeting of the committee at which time arrangements will be made to distribute tickets to the children. Representatives of semi-pro baseball and of amateur leagues also promised to admit the children to games free of charge.

And that is one reason why El Producto is a big favorite in every size—be it 10c, 2 for 25c, or 3 for 50c.

St. Petersburg, Fla., March 25.—The New York Yankees and Boston Braves said farewell to their training camp today, with the American leaguers taking the last game of the series, 6 to 5, in 12 innings. The teams, however, won the series five games to four.

New York (A.) 300 000 020 001—6 10 2

INDIANS WIN, 6-0.

New Orleans, La., March 25.—(AP)—Their midget pitcher, Salvatore Gliatto, permitting only one hit in a five inning game, the Cleveland Indian regulars defeated the Yannigans, 6 to 0 today. The victory tied the intra-club series at one game apiece.

Clint Brown, for the Yannigans, permitted only one hit in each of the five innings he worked. Roxie Lawson relieved him in the last few minutes of the third inning. Lawson permitted six runs in the last inning.

CARDS BEAT INDIANAPOLIS.

Bradenton, Fla., March 25.—(AP)—Flint Rhem and Al Grabowski held the Indianapolis club of the American association to seven hits this afternoon while the Cardinals obtained a dozen. Eleven bases on balls helped the major leaguers pile up a 16 to 4 score.

Jim Bottomley suffered an attack of ptomaine poisoning and Ernie Orsatti took his place at first base. Frankie Frisch made his first appearance of the season in the Cardinal lineup at third base. Score:

Indianapolis .....000 100 300— 4 7 4
St. Louis (N.) .....121 082 11*—16 12 0

SHIFT REESE TO OUTFIELD.

San Antonio, Tex., March 25.—(AP)—According to Manager John McGraw, Andy Reese and Eddie Marshall both will be regular performers in the New York Giants' lineup this year. Reese, who played second base most of last season, will be shifted to the outfield, while Marshall, a recruit, steps in to fill the hole at second. According to present plans Fred Leach, heretofore regarded as the first choice for left field, will leave the lineup when left handers are pitching against the Giants, Reese taking his place.

OAKLAND, 9; PIRATES, 2.

Oakland, Cal., March 25.—(AP)—Oakland made five runs off Ray Kremer in the fifth inning of today's exhibition game with the Pittsburgh Pirates and won the contest, 9 to 2. Oakland made twelve hits to five for the National league club. Score:

ROBINSON TESTS ROOKIES.

Clearwater, Fla., March 25.—(AP)—A heavy rain forced Manager Wilbert Robinson to postpone all work for his Brooklyn Robins until late afternoon. Then Robbie staged a five inning game chiefly for the purpose of seeing what Bill Rabb of Toledo and Thornton Lee and Forrest Sackett of Tampa, all pitchers, could do.

STATE Y. M. C. A. BOXING TOURNEY STARTS FRIDAY

With every arrangement completed, boxers from every part of the state are arriving here today to compete in the Illinois State Y. M. C. A. boxing championship to be held at the South Chicago Y gymnasium Friday and Saturday nights.

In every division, last year's champion is expected to defend his title. Eddie Lipinski, one of the local boys, who holds the title among the 106 pounders, has been training hard for the chance to win the state honors again. Last year Eddie also held the city 115 pound title, but lost it this year to Ralph Flatturn of the 111th street Y.

Purple Martins Arrive; Weather Prevents Feeding

BY BOB BECKER.

Have the 1930 purple martin scouts appeared earlier than usual in the middle west? Reports from one bird fan in Iowa and another in Peoria, Ill., would indicate that the advance guard of the martin migration came on several days ahead of their schedule, although March weather as judged by yesterday's blizzard has been anything but ideal for an insectivorous bird. Apparently that warm Sunday of March 16 fooled the martin scouts into thinking that spring was going to be upon and kind during the last half of the month.

T. R. Whitworth of Victor, Ia., writes us how he was fooled by the early arrival of a lone martin scout in his yard. He has two colonies of martins each year, but on Sunday the 16th of March his houses were in the cellar getting cleaned and painted, because he did not expect any of the birds to show up before the last few days in March or early April. But on the morning of the 16th he looked out of the window and there on one of the poles which serves to hold a martin house sat the first purple martin of the season. Mr. Whitworth put out one of the houses at once and the martin moved in right away.

An inspection trip of another early purple martin scout is reported from Peoria, Ill., by C. J., who writes that the bird was within a few days of its usual schedule. This lone scout came north with the mild weather of March 16. Judging by the records kept in the Chicago territory martins may show up anywhere from the latter part of March to the middle of April. As far as the birds are concerned, the later the better, because the martin feeds on insects. Early spring weather, if it is cool, cloudy, and wintry, produces hard and sometimes practically no food for the martins. Therefore extremely early birds may suffer from hunger.

Coach Stagg Pays Tribute to Eckersall

achieved fame as a kicker, but he improved at the university. He made 5 drop kicks (they counted 5 points then) against Illinois in 1905 and 5 more against Nebraska in 1906, his last game, which the Maroons won, 38 to 5. In the winter of 1906 there had been so much agitation about people being killed playing football that Chancellor McCracken of New York U. called a meeting. A rules committee of 6 was drafted, which amalgamated with the old one, of which I was a member, made a number of radical changes.

"Pushing and pulling the player, dropping guards and tackles back for these purposes, etc., were ruled out. The forward pass was instituted at that time. It had to be thrown five yards out from where it has been passed back at center and the field was marked out like a checkerboard to check on this matter. The fall of 1906 we beat Illinois, 63 to 0, and Eckie, who had never passed before, threw beautiful passes all over the field that day."

"In 1903 we beat Wisconsin 15 to 5, Eckie making 3 dropkicks for all our points, and the papers ran headlines, 'Eckersall, 15; Wisconsin, 5.'

"The Wisconsin students had placards about it as we went down the streets of Madison for the 1905 game. We beat them that day in the mud, 4 to 0, the drop kick having been reduced to four points. 'Eckersall, 4; Wisconsin, 0,' the placards read that night.

"Wisconsin had a brand new field and they watered it the night before until the mud was ankle deep, as they were afraid of Eckie's speed and deception. It was lucky for them they took that precaution as he got loose three times anyway, but was unable to dodge and ran into the safety man in the mire."

Scores from Kickoff.

"In 1906 he made a touchdown from the kickoff. He normally ran to the right and I had told him if he would reverse that occasionally and cut back he would run for more touchdowns, as every one expected him to keep on to the right. He did that on the opening kickoff of the Wisconsin game and made a touchdown. He made several touchdowns running back punts. I can't even remember how many."

Stagg gave out all this information from memory, calling in his wife as the interview closed to check on it with records. He had made a mistake of one year in a game, but had the score right even then.

"In 1905 we played Texas up here. McCutcheon had a cartoon that day showing the longhorn Texas steers charging down on the Maroons. They started off just like that and went tearing down the field. They raced the ball to our 5 yard line (the field was 110 yards long in those days). The next play was a drive on our right tackle.

"Eckie, playing safety, had come up close to the line of scrimmage. Our tackle and end hit the Texas half back hard, and the ball squirted out of his arms and went straight through the air. Eckie snared it in the air and circled his left end to run 108 yards for a touchdown. That broke the spirit of the Texas team, and after that they were powerless. We ran up a score of 68 to 0.

"In 1903, his first year in school, he dived for Willie Heston, one of the greatest running backs of all time, who was playing for Michigan. Heston had broken loose and came tearing down at Eckie. Eckie dove low and Heston hurdled him, though the field was covered with snow. But Eckie was so quick that he bounded up off the ground after missing the tackle, overtook Heston, and tackled him before he had run 20 yards. Heston was a big, fast man, and it was a tremendously spectacular play.

"Eckie was a very inspiring leader on the field. He snapped his signals out as the players were lining up, and as soon as the center could get over the ball another play was under way. He ran the team much faster than any one has since. That meant that the players had to be in perfect physical condition, as they were going at top speed at all times. He kept them moving and bawled out any laggards. If he was not carrying the ball he was leading the interference.

Eckie Never Loafed.

"Before 1906 there were three downs given in which to make 5 yards, but the defense was always up close, as no passes were allowed, or even heard of, for that matter.

"Eckie was a very hard and earnest worker. It was not in his nature to loaf in any way. He worked harder at practice than any one and always was a commander that not only gave his orders but was out in front leading his men while they helped him execute."

In the Wake of the News

AGUA CALIENTE HANDICAP.

THE first running of the Agua Caliente handicap, formerly Coffroth handicap, was held Sunday. The stake had a gross value of $123,400, with $98,400 to the winner. Victorian, the winner, was a Whitney discard.

This coast feature, as usual, did not attract the class of starters which might be expected in an event of this value. It included, of course, the best there were at the track. What, then, if anything, is wrong?

Agua Caliente is a long shipping distance from the middle west and east, where most of the best stables are owned. It may be asked whether it would not draw better stables if the daily purses were increased and this big stake apportioned among two or three different stake events instead of concentrated in one. Naturally that would militate against the advertising derived from the so-called "world's most valuable stake race," and Agua Caliente has a casino adjunct, as had Tia Juana, where the Coffroth handicap was held.

Another thing, coast racing has not yet enticed a large number of wealthy Californians to own stables. Class improves in any community when local sportsmen have their own strings. The Wake several years ago pointed out that Chicago racing would improve as Chicagoans of means bought racing stables. Such has been the case.

New York, with no kindly racing law, could not compete against stake and purse offerings of Illinois, Maryland and Kentucky, which have mutuel laws, if so many wealthy New Yorkers did not own racing and breeding establishments. Belmont Park and Saratoga are among the best meets of the year. New Yorkers will tell you they are the best. These wealthy men, maintaining stables for pleasure [for racing is a luxury], want to see their own horses perform, so they race at home. Arlington Park attracts many of these strings because Belmont Park and Saratoga are not racing during the Arlington date allotment.

VETERAN COAST BOXER DIES IN RING AFTER K. O.

Tacoma, Wash., March 25.—(AP)—Counted out by a boxing referee as he slumped to the canvas, Frank Farmer, 39 year old veteran fighter, died in the ring last night from what a deputy coroner said was a blow in the stomach.

Price Improvements at Close Small and Few.

BY THOMAS FURLONG.

Profit taking put a damper on the enthusiasm of advancing Chicago stocks yesterday. Gains in the closing list were as few as they were small. Practically all the active shares were forced to sacrifice gains rolled up in the forenoon.

Measured by the size of their gains, United Gas and Merchants and Manufacturers were about the best performers of the day. United improved 1¾, and Merchants was up about the same amount. Other issues for the most part were within the radius of a point of the previous closing prices.

Utility Group Holds Firm.

Utilities as a group suffered less than the rest of the list from the realizing. Middle West, Central and Southwest and Midland United finished with gains of less than a point. American Commonwealths Power B improved 2¼ points on a light turnover.

Middle West stockholders yesterday approved an increase in common stock from 18,200,000 to 25,000,000 shares, and authorized the change in unissued shares of prior lien and preferred stocks from par value of $100 to no par value.

Recent favorites among the industrial specialties which finished under their previous closing quotations were Castle and Winton Engine. Binks Manufacturing was unchanged.

Electric Household Utilities was unchanged with the news that directors voted to place the stock on a $2 annual dividend basis by the declaration of a quarterly dividend of 50 cents. Previously the issues paid $1 yearly and 5 per cent in stock.

Hall Printing company directors raised the annual rate on the common stock from $1 to $2. Last year the company paid an extra in addition to the regular dividend.

Active Automotives Unchanged.

Most active stocks in the automotive group were unchanged. Cord, Bendix, and Borg-Warner showed no change from the previous day, and Noblitt Sparks was up a fraction. Auburn dropped 3.

A few stocks on small sales made fair gains, despite the general trend. Campbell Wyant jumped three, and Vortex improved more than a point. General Parts preferred on a turnover of 1,600 shares jumped 4¾ points. Field and Construction Materials eased moderately.

Investment issues were unchanged to lower. Burnham lost 1¼, and Insull Utility was off a fraction. Insull directors declared a stock dividend of 1½ per cent, which is payable the same date as the 1½ per cent dividend previously voted.

Timken Roller Bearing.

C. F. R.: Timken Roller Bearing company was incorporated in Ohio in 1904, and the present name was adopted in 1909. Its business was originally established in 1898 in St. Louis under the name of Timken Carriage Works. The company manufactures anti-friction bearings. Plants are located in Canton and Columbus, Ohio.

Although the company has been diversifying its business by manufacturing roller bearings for railroad cars and increasing its facilities for making a special steel tubing, the slump in the automobile business in the latter part of 1929 caused earnings for the last half of the year to be somewhat lower than those for the corresponding period of 1928.

Net income, after charges and federal taxes, was $14,155,414, compared with $13,730,145 in 1928.

After dividends, amounting to $7,223,472, there was a surplus for last year amounting to $6,931,942, against a surplus of $7,425,514 for 1928.

Earnings in 1929 were equal to $5.88 per share on 2,407,824 no par shares, compared with $11.43 per share on the 1,200,882 shares in the preceding year.

Current assets were $26,254,255, and current liabilities were $3,693,919 as of Dec. 31, 1929. This left a net working capital of $22,560,336, which compares with $22,605,992 a year before.

E. J. Brach & Sons.

W. H. M.: E. J. Brach & Sons, candy manufacturers, reported net sales of $6,543,298 for 1929, compared with $6,856,059 for 1928.

Net income was $524,408, equal to $2.62 per share earned on 200,000 no par common shares, compared with net income of $611,299, equal to $3.06 per share in 1928.

At the close of 1929 current assets were $2,607,414, and current liabilities were $163,653.

Dividends are $2 annually.

THE WORLD'S GREATEST NEWSPAPER

WEDNESDAY, MARCH 26, 1930.

MANY STOCKS ARE NOW HIGHER THAN YEAR AGO

Comparison Favors Pivotal Issues.

BY O. A. MATHER.

How does the stock market stand after all the ups and downs of the last year? Well, a close examination of the New York stock exchange list reveals a goodly number of issues that are higher than a year ago yesterday and another considerable number that are within striking distance of the March, 1929, prices.

Of course, the great majority of stocks still are much below the peak prices registered during the final wild months of the five year bull market that ended last fall. But these same issues now stand much above the bottom prices that were registered during the collapse of the market last November.

Now on Upgrade.

And taking the whole range of activity during the last year there are numerous indications that stocks are coming back and that the upward movement will continue. The complete recovery probably will be a much slower progress than the wild advance of 1928 and 1929, but by the same token it should be safer and more in accord with the actual facts of trade, industry and finance.

In a comparison of stock prices at present and a year ago now, it is noticeable that the high grade issues make the best showing. Among the various classifications, the public utilities, steels and railroads stand out. The motors, coppers and oils haven't done so well, due largely to overproduction in those industries. The amusement and aviation shares have suffered the logical results of being overbought.

Table Shows Advances.

The following tabulation shows about fifty stocks, classified by groups which are now selling either higher than a year ago or are at practically the same level. There also is shown their peak and bottom prices last year most of which were registered during the last half of 1929. If the table shows how far they dropped last October and November it also shows how far they have recovered since then:

It should be considered that the peak prices established by some of the public utility and railroad shares last year were the result of privileges given to stockholders to purchase additional stock on favorable terms. The current prices, of course, do not reflect such "rights" and therefore are relatively more favorable than the figures show.

REORGANIZATION OF REO CO. MAY FOLLOW NEW VOTING TRUST

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, March 25.—Following the election of a new general manager and director steps now being taken for the establishment of a voting trust for the common stock of Reo Motor Car company are believed to presage plans for the reorganization of the operating companies of the company.

The voting trustees will be R. H. Scott, president; William Robert Wilson, who was recently elected general manager and a director of the company, and D. E. Bates, secretary-treasurer.

The company has applied to the New York Stock exchange for listing of 2,000,000 additional shares of common. All of its 2,000,000 authorized shares are now outstanding, and the creation of voting trust certificates to be exchanged for present shares would require the issuance of an equivalent additional amount of common.

Mr. Wilson, elected general manager and a member of the board last month, was placed with the company by a group of which Guardian Detroit company is the principal member, which has taken a substantial stock interest in Reo.

Earnings of Reo have been erratic in recent years, and some stockholders have taken exception at times to the company's merchandising policies. Net income was equal to $2.71 a share in 1925, $2.14 in 1926, $2.04 in 1927, $2.54 in 1928, and dropped in 1929 to 53c a share on the common.

Much of this 1929 reduction in profit resulted from the severe recession in business in the last quarter of the year, the company states.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, March 25.—The Western Union Telegraph company and the Postal Telegraph and Cable company, the two leading organizations of their kind in America, do not contemplate reduction in their plans for expansion because of the possibility of reduced revenues during part of 1930, it was revealed today.

The Postal company announced plans to secure $16,282,400 through the sales of additional stock to the International Telephone and Telegraph corporation, its parent company; while Newcomb Carlton, Western Union president, suggested further financing in the next two years of nearly $30,000,000.

The pamphlet report of the Western Union company showed that in spite of the sharp decline in December surplus the figures for the year compared favorably with the earnings for 1928. Net income for the year was $15,474,593, or $15.11 a share on 1,023,759 shares of capital stock, against $15,467,659, or $15.10 a share in 1928.

OIL PRODUCTION IS UP AND THEN IT'S DOWN AGAIN

Industry Cheered by New Figures.

Petroleum production in the United States, which had marched up the hill a fortnight ago, turned right around and marched down again last week. The new figures, made public yesterday, were exceedingly heartening to bothe producers and refiners, who have been waging a long and ing to both producers and refiners, They indicated that the earlier increase was a flash in the pan and merely the result of testing the flow of wells during restricted production.

The daily gross crude oil output last week was 2,535,900 brls, a decrease of 47,300 brls a day from the preceding week, according to the weekly summary of the American Petroleum institute. Most of the credit goes to Oklahoma producers, who cut down their output by 35,900 brls a day, although the California, west and southwest Texas, and north Louisiana fields showed sizable declines. On the other hand, considerable increases appeared in the Panhandle Texas and coastal Texas fields.

Refiners Do Their Bit.

The refiners also did their bit. They ran a daily average of 2,534,900 brls of crude oil to the stills and operated at 72.5 per cent of capacity, compared with 2,540,200 brls and 72.7 per cent of capacity in the previous week. The Shell Eastern Petroleum Products company advanced the price of United States motor gasoline in tank cars at refineries from 8½ to 8¾ cents a gallon.

The day also brought more cheerful news from the steel, copper, and construction industries. The United States Steel corporation for the last week has maintained operations at 80 per cent of capacity, making the first time in three weeks that its operations have not been reduced. But independents reduced operations to 66 per cent, compared with 68 per cent a week ago and 70 per cent a fortnight ago. The net result is that the whole industry now is around 73 per cent of capacity, compared with 74 per cent a week ago and 76 per cent two weeks ago. A year ago the steel corporation was around 97 per cent, independents were around 92½ per cent, and the whole industry was around 94½ per cent.

Foreign Copper Sales Pick Up.

Buying of copper metal yesterday for foreign account reached a total of 6,000,000 lbs, which marked the largest day's sales to foreigners since last September. Furthermore, continued heavy purchases are expected.

Data on construction contracts awarded last week were the most cheerful in a long time. The F. W. Dodge corporation's weekly summary placed the total at $135,999,400 in the 37 states east of the Rocky mountains, which marked a gain of 29 per cent over the $105,158,400 of the preceding week and also a gain of 28 per cent over the $106,002,400 for the corresponding week in 1929. For this year to date contracts have totaled $955,254,700, or about 8 per cent below the corresponding period in 1929.

VAN SWERINGENS HAVE LARGEST PRIVATE RAIL EMPIRE, IT IS BELIEVED

New York, March 25.—With the acquisition of control in the Chicago and Eastern Illinois railroad C, P. and M. J. Van Sweringen have rounded out a railroad empire which is the largest dominated by any private interest, according to views expressed on Wall street today.

The railroad influence of the Cleveland brothers extends from New York to Salt Lake City and from Chicago and St. Louis to Omaha, El Paso, Galveston, and New Orleans. A line controlled by a friendly interest connects this system to San Francisco.

The purchase of the interest in the Chicago and Eastern Illinois from the estate of the late Thomas F. Ryan, which was disclosed on Monday, was the latest in a series of moves which have placed the Van Sweringens at the top of a $2,000,000,000 network of railroads.

The disclosure followed closely the announcement that the Allegheny corporation had acquired substantial holdings of the Missouri Pacific. It has been learned that these holdings exceed 20 per cent, and it is estimated that they approximate 30 per cent.

The railroad holdings of the Van Sweringens may be divided into two groups—those which they control directly and those which they control through the Allegheny corporation or by other means. They own directly control in the Chesapeake and Ohio railroad, which has in effect merged the Hocking Valley and the Pere Marquette; they also control directly the Nickel Plate and the Erie.

Florian Plaut & Co. Action in Bankruptcy Dismissed

Permission to file a new petition in bankruptcy against the investment firm of Florian, Plaut & Co. was denied by the federal court yesterday. The original petition, brought March 7, was dismissed Monday. Paul A. Florian, president of Florian, Plaut & Co., in discussing the matter, stated: "This unwarranted action was simply an attempt to confuse the public regarding the failure of the Chicago Air Service, Inc., which operated Sky Harbor."

Says Higher Tariff Should Aid Illinois Watch Industry

BY SCRUTATOR.

Illinois capital and Illinois wage earners have a definite stake in the tariff legislation in so far as it applies to the watchmaking industry.

This state produces 62 per cent of the jeweled watches made in the entire country. But the entire domestic industry has suffered severely from foreign competition in recent years, particularly that from Swiss and German firms. One official of an Illinois company estimates that the foreign made or partly foreign made watches sell at the rate of three to one against the homemade product.

The census figures for 1927 show that the domestic production in watches, clocks and related lines in the country was valued at eighty-five million dollars, and that 25,83[illegible] alone carners were employed. Illi[illegible] paid in wages and salaries $12,26[illegible]56 in that year.

Must Have Skilled Labor.

Watchmaking is largely a matter of skilled labor employment. This state's total valuation of the product exceeded twenty-seven millions in the year under consideration, and the value added in the process of manufacture was more than twenty-two millions.

Admittedly, business among the strictly domestic manufacturers has not been so good recently. The Illinois firms are said to have laid off some of their forces because they cannot sell in competition with foreigners employing cheaper labor.

The government, in its report, breaks down the industry into component parts. One is composed of firms making clocks, clock movements and devices for driving time switches and recording instruments. The second is watches and watch movements. The third is composed of specialists in watch cases, and the fourth of clock and watch material and parts makers.

From 1919 to 1927 the second group, which forms the bulk of the Illinois manufactures, showed practically no gain. The last two years have been no better. Senator Deneen stated in November that one of the largest Illinois concerns was operating at 50 per cent capacity and that instead of a normal employment of from 4,300 to 4,500 men it was working 3,600 men on a five day week.

Tariff Factor Controversial.

As for the tariff controversy, that is a complicated thing. In the senate it was pointed out that the importers, or combined importers and assemblers of foreign made watch movements, were an important industry in themselves and that in spite of large Swiss sales here Switzerland was still a larger buyer of American goods than a seller. The balance of trade with that country favored the United States. Estimates made in the senate were to the effect that the present tariff was about an average of 61 per cent on foreign valuation. The house bill would have increased this to about 91 per cent, not enough in the view of the Illinois manufacturers, but some improvement. The senate bill seems to push the rates back to the old level.

Small jeweled watches for women can scarcely be said to be made at all any more in this country. Moreover, it is certain that more imported jeweled watches, Illinois' own field, are sold than domestic jeweled watches. Whatever the merits of a continued low tariff, a higher one would benefit the industry in this state.

New York, March 25.—Wall street started out to celebrate the passage of the tariff bill by the senate with a boom stock market today, but profit taking developed on such a heavy scale that the show had to be called off. Closing prices were badly mixed, with gains and losses appearing indiscriminately in virtually every group of the list.

United States Steel, after pitching forward anew in early dealings, caved in for a net loss of 2⅜ points. Vanadium, one of the sensational performers of yesterday's market, dropped 5 points and Brooklyn Union Gas lost 4. Western Union had another bad day, slipping another 12 points in addition to its 20 point loss since Friday night. Declines of a point or more were numerous.

On the other hand, there was Air Reduction with a net gain of 6 points, American Can up a half, Allied Chemical and Dye up 4½, General Electric 1¼, Standard Oil of New Jersey 2⅝, Johns-Manville a point, Peoples Gas—

SENTIMENT IN WHEAT SWINGS TO BEAR SIDE

Final Prices Show Losses of 3-4 to 2 3-8c.

BY CHARLES MICHAELS.

Speculative sentiment appears to have swung sharply to the bear side of the wheat market, and while there was a strong rally at one time yesterday, the finish was at the bottom to a fraction over, with net losses of ⅞@2⅜c.

May finished at $1.08⅜@1.08⅝, and July, $1.05½@1.05⅝. The May future acted tight at times due to buying by houses with eastern connections, while the government entered the market as a buyer at $1.09⅛ taking 100,000 bu every ¼c down, and was instrumental in widening the May-July difference to around 3c at the last against 1⅛c at the close on Monday.

Action of the Winnipeg wheat market had considerable influence here, as prices there fluctuated in a most erratic manner, an early break being followed by a sharp rally with another wave of selling making its appearance toward the last and the finish was 2⅜@2⅝c lower. Buenos Aires was off 1⅝c for the day, while Liverpool was 1⅛@2⅛d higher.

Some Snow in Kansas.

To some extent the rapid price changes in wheat were due to the light speculative interest, crippled private wire service being the main influence, but for some time past a majority of operators have been disposed to do little, resulting in the market being easily influenced by any good buying or selling. With the exception of light snow in parts of Kansas and Oklahoma there was nothing in the general run of the news to account for the selling of the new crop futures, and the dry sections in the western part of the two states failed to receive moisture, according to private reports.

A decrease of around 10 per cent in the spring wheat acreage this side of the international line is indicated in reports to Clement, Curtis & Co., while the Canadian northwest may decrease 6 per cent, an aggregate reduction of about 3,350,000 acres for North America. A government report is expected to be given to the trade today as to farmers intentions to plant, but the actual seeded area will be determined largely by weather and market conditions.

There was no indications of export business in domestic wheat either at the seaboard or Gulf with No. 2 hard quoted at 1½c under Chicago May at the Gulf. Europe, however, took 400,000 to 500,000 bu Manitobas, and is expected to buy on a larger scale as soon as lake navigation opens, permitting shipments via the St. Lawrence. World's available supplies decreased 9,493,000 bu for the week, and are 402,105,000 bu or only 13,542,000 bu in excess of a year ago, the smallest difference in months.

Spreaders Sell Corn.

Closing of spreads between corn and rye, the former being sold more than offset the blizzard conditions over the central west and prices declined with the finish at net losses of ½@1⅝c, with May closing at 84⅝@84½c, and May at 85½c. An early bulge ran into liberal selling by scattered longs and holders of offers, while on the break there was buying against bids. Country offerings to arrive were small, purchases being reported at 23,000 bu with the spot basis steady to 1c higher as compared with May. Local shipping sales were 83,000 bu. Buenos Aires futures closed ½c lower.

Oats market was dull and fluctuations were largely a reflection of those in corn, the finish being ⅝@⅞c lower with May, 43⅝@43¾c and July, 43¼c.

There was persistent selling of May and July rye headed by a local cash house, but the pressure was offset to a large extent by spreaders who sold corn, and the finish was at net losses of ½@1¼c, with May 61⅝c and July 66⅝@66⅞c. There was also spreading between the May and the July at 5¼c difference.

JUDGE COLEMAN RETIRES FROM FOX LITIGATION

New York, March 25.—[Special.]—Immediately on hearing that he had been charged with prejudice in the extensive Fox Film litigation, Federal Judge Frank J. Coleman today declined to continue as judge in the hearing of the three equity receivership proceedings involving the $300,000 movie firm.

The charge of being prejudiced in favor of William Fox was brought today against Judge Coleman. The prejudice charge was leveled against him by Lee L. Stuart, one of the two trustees of the assets of William Fox in the latter's efforts to refinance his corporations through a syndicate headed by the Bancamerica-Blair bank.

The affidavit charging prejudice was filed this afternoon by Seckman, Bogue & Clark, attorneys for Halsey, Stuart & Co., Inc., which has proposed an alternative refinancing plan to the Fox Film company.

"Frank J. Coleman, judge of the District court for the southern district of New York, has a personal interest and prejudice against deponent," charges Stuart, "and against Halsey, Stuart & Co., Inc.; that, by reason of such bias and prejudice, Halsey, Stuart & Co., Inc., cannot obtain a fair and impartial hearing upon the trial of this case or upon any proceeding to be had herein."

Income Tax Receipts Continue to Show Drop

Washington, D. C., March 25.—(AP)—Income tax receipts continued to drop below last year's total, according to the treasury statement issued today, showing collections from income tax on March 22. On that day collections for the month aggregated $517,803,027, as compared with $547,189,703 for the same number of days in March, 1929. While treasury officials would not say definitely what the present collections indicated it was believed that the total from the first quarter's payment on 1929 incomes would approximate $540,000,000, or about $60,000,000 less than last year. The treasury balance for March 22, 1930, was $376,489,925.65, while last year on the same day the balance was $410,571,409.

WORLD'S GRAIN MARKET NEWS

Heaviness of the Winnipeg market at the last intensified the bearishness of Chicago wheat traders and brought a selling movement that carried prices down sharply despite the support to May wheat given by the government for the first time in about a week. The break developed a sharp demand for bids at the last and there was said to be uneasiness among holders with the disposition on the part of the bear interest to press sales in case Liverpool cables reflected the late decline in Chicago and Winnipeg.

"With stocks of wheat abroad at a low level, we feel particularly friendly to wheat on all setbacks, and with the many hazards still to be encountered on the new crop side, we favor purchases on setbacks," says J. E. Bennett & Co. "With the lighter country movement of corn and improved eastern demands, we are friendly to that grain."

MIXED CLOSE IN COTTON

Cotton prices moved up around $1.00 a bale in the early trading yesterday only to weaken latter on scattered selling and closed with a break, although old crop deliveries were at intermediated prices with net gains of 3@19 points, the latter on May in New Orleans. Cables were stronger and higher early but reacted with Liverpool 1@2 points higher at the close and with spot sales 7,000 bales, the best of late.

Spot houses were buyers of the near months, and selling of the new crop deliveries. A report by the New York cotton exchange give stocks of cotton in this country on Feb. 28 as showing 7,979,000 bales, against 6,876,000 bales last year, 7,353,000 bales two years ago, and 9,981,000 bales three years ago.

DONNELLY LOOKS FOR SPRING GAIN FREIGHT TRAFFIC

New York, March 25.—(AP)—Charles E. Donnelly, president of the Northern Pacific railroad, said today that freight traffic generally in the northwest is probably at the lowest ebb in five years, but added, "in the spring things may be moving on our lines which have been held up during the winter months."

He said February gross was off about $700,000 from the $6,343,840 reported for the previous February, and that net was reduced about $440,000 from the $829,699 reported for the same month of last year.

Rumor Says Steel Merger Plans May Be Abandoned

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Youngstown, O., March 25.—After a secret meeting of directors of the Youngstown Sheet and Tube company today it was rumored that the proposed sale of the company to the Bethlehem Steel corporation might be abandoned. Sheet and Tube directors held a conference that lasted seven hours, but James A. Campbell, chairman of the board, refused to issue a statement concerning developments.

Pennsy Shows February Decrease in Earnings

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, March 25.—The Pennsylvania and other railroads reported today substantial decreases in February earnings. In the case of the Pennsylvania, freight revenue decreased $3,602,000 in February as compared to February, 1929, and passenger revenue decreased $565,000. As a result of these and other decreases, gross operating revenues decreased $4,594,000 to $45,067,000.

Net income decreased $2,644,000 to $6,062,000. In the first two months net operating income decreased $4,373,000 to $12,270,000.

CURB VOLUME TOUCHES A NEW PEAK FOR 1930

New York, March 25.—(AP)—Trading on the New York Curb exchange set a new high record for the year today with a turnover of 1,363,500 shares, but the bull movement, which netted scores of issues to new high levels for the year in the early trading, was checked in the last hour by a heavy volume of profit taking and short selling.

In only a sprinkling of volume issues were the day's gains entirely wiped out, although most of the leaders closed below their peak prices of the day. The previous record turnover was 1,346,200 shares on March 11.

Buying orders in today's market embraced a fairly broad list, with oils and utilities again giving the best demonstrations of group strength. The early demand for stocks received its chief impetus from a lowering of the call money rate and the passage of the senate tariff bill. The rapidity of the recent rise, however, obviously had weakened the technical position of many issues, and made them vulnerable to selling pressure.

A contract for 667 car loads of stone for the main building of the West Virginia State capitol, Charleston, W. Va., has been awarded to the Indiana Limestone company. The third unit which will cost about $5,000,000 will complete the new $12,000,000

Coming months may lay foundation for another great advance in security prices

WHETHER the upswing will start in the near future or a year from now, does not greatly matter. The essential fact to consider is that during the months that followed every panic in the present century—1907, 1914, 1920-21—foresighted investors were able to buy sound stocks at levels below those reached in any subsequent break. There is every reason to believe that similar opportunities are ahead.

Now that the panic is behind us, the task of investing surplus funds has returned to a basis where sober, intelligent judgment again prevails. The crash has dynamited us out of a "new era" of seemingly "easy profits" into a period in which actual values really count.

Greater opportunities—greater problems

First of all, they mean greater opportunities. As long as security price movements were governed by enthusiasm and hysteria rather than by balanced judgment, the prudent investor had good reason to stand aside. Today it is time to prepare for definite, constructive action. It is time to formulate a definite investment program "tailored to fit" your individual requirements and to make the most of the opportunities that lie ahead.

Second, the "return to reason" has created greater problems for the investor. If balanced judgment is to prevail, the investor must use greater care in selecting and watching his investments.

It will not be sound policy to buy securities indiscriminately in the expectation that all stocks, in a wave of buying enthusiasm, will be carried upward with the good issues when the upturn finally starts. Nor will it be sound policy to eliminate all stocks from consideration because of a market collapse a few months ago. Certainly if true values really count, adequate information and sound counsel were never more necessary to determine which of the thousands of securities available really offer the highest degree of safety and the greatest promise of growth in value as well.

Greater need for facts

Third, your investment decisions can be no better than your sources of information and counsel. Facts alone can answer such vital questions as: What is the trend of fundamental forces underlying security prices? When is a reversal in trend likely to take place? What industries will be the most prosperous? Which companies in these industries offer the best investment opportunities? What proportion of your total investment should be in bonds? What proportion in common stocks? Preferred stocks? What changes in ratio between these classes of securities should you make from time to time to meet new conditions?

To answer these questions wisely, would require facilities to gather essential information from thousands of sources, time to analyze and interpret this information correctly and to apply the conclusions to your personal investment policy and holdings. The work, properly done, would require more hours than there are in the day and more knowledge and experience than could be accumulated by one man in a lifetime.

News and Gossip of Stock Marts

Chain Store Stocks.

Wall street speculators have been watching the action of Woolworth very closely in recent sessions. For some reason or other, the chain store stocks, including Montgomery Ward, Sears-Roebuck, and S. S. Kresge, have been particularly susceptible to bear attack in recent months. Apparently the recent selling of Woolworth was for the purpose of seeing just how well that stock was being supported marketwise.

Texas Corp.

The Texas corporation has always been regarded as one of the strongest, if not the strongest, of the oil companies not included in the Standard Oil group. Although gasoline is its principal product, the company also is a large producer of lubricating oils and by-products. Other interests include a sulphur deposit under development by the Freeport-Texas company and a proposed natural gas pipe line from the Panhandle district of Texas.

Is 11% Return Too Much to Expect With Safety?
We believe at present levels there is opportunity for considerable appreciation in this conservative public utility investment company stock paying 10% in common stock and 40 cents in cash, yielding over 11%. Stock dividends of 10% on April 25, and 20% on July 25 were also paid in 1929.
That this issue is sound is proved by the shares it holds—Peoples Gas, North American Co., and many others which are covered in a new circular which gives history, earnings and prospects. Every investor should have this latest survey. We invite your inquiry.

Boul Mich Skyscraper Is City's Thinnest.

BY AL CHASE.

Three entire floors of the newly completed 14 story 430 North Michigan Avenue building, directly opposite Tribune Tower, have just been leased, according to Paulman & Lawrence, renting agents. This new structure is probably the city's thinnest skyscraper, for it's only 25 feet wide. It has a frontage on Boul Mich of 100 feet. Each of the floors contains 2,000 square feet of floor area.

Zimmerman, Saxe & Zimmerman, architects who have been at 212 East Superior street for several years, have rented the entire eleventh floor. The American Osteopath association has taken the twelfth floor. Paul Stone-Raymor, Ltd., portrait photographers, have rented all of the fourth story.

Mrs. Kohl Buys Residence.

Mrs. Caroline L. Kohl, widow of Charles E. Kohl, one of the leading figures in the Orpheum vaudeville circuit and identified with Chicago's leading vaudeville houses for many years, yesterday purchased the old residence at 1822 South Michigan avenue, lot 93x194, from Charles A. Storey of Pasadena, Cal. The property adjoins Mrs. Kohl's residence at 2826 South Michigan avenue, and was purchased for investment.

Samuel Zahler, who will operate a shop at 737 North Michigan under the name McMaster's, will deal in ladies' specialties—purses, costume jewelry, hosiery, and lingerie—and not luggage, as stated in this department yesterday.

May Build Warehouse.

A. B. Davis of Cincinnati, O., yesterday purchased the property at 2616-26 South Wabash avenue from Harry F. and Walter H. Chaveriat for a reported $62,000, subject to an incumbrance of $25,000. It is reported that the new owner may erect a five or six story warehouse. The present old improvements are to be wrecked at once. The property, which is 125x181, is on the west side of Wabash, 150 feet south of 26th street.

Walter Steadman has quitclaimed the property at 408 North Ashland avenue, 70x180 feet, and 24x110 feet on Marshfield, 122 feet north of Kinzie, to the Balaban & Katz corporation. The movie firm has a warehouse on Ashland adjoining the parcel obtained by quitclaim and it may add to this building at some future date.

One month ago	10.25@11.00
Top yesterday, $10.35; average, $9.70.

Estimated receipts at Chicago today, 6,000 cattle, 14,000 hogs, and 17,000 sheep.

The hog market reacted after a steady to 10c higher opening yesterday and prices finished mostly 5@10c under the general selling the previous day. The extreme top moved down 5c at $10.60, while the general average was unchanged at $9.85.

Trading was slow and unsatisfactory most of the day and 6,000 were still in the pens at the finish. Light and light butchers of medium to good quality comprised a larger share of total offerings and showed most weakness on late rounds. Most local packers purchased sparingly. Five western markets expect 46,000 hogs today, against 36,800 the previous Wednesday.

Hog Futures Advance.

Trading in hog futures was more active yesterday. Buying centered mostly on September light at $10.50. April light advanced 10c at $10.70, while September medium grades were sold at $10.00. About 700 light for April and May delivery were offered at $10.70@10.90, but $10.50 was the highest bid on May contracts. Medium grades for April were offered at $10.10 and bid $9.85.

Heavy for March delivery were bid $9.75 and offers for April and May were made at $9.50@9.60. On the "to arrive" market light hogs for all week were bid $10.60 and heavy $9.75. Light for April 1 were bid $10.45 and heavy $9.50.

Strength prevailed in the cattle market yesterday and some steers of outstanding quality sold to slightly better advantage. The blinding snowstorm handicapped both buyers and sellers, and some stock was held off the market in hopes of further improvement today.

Better grades of cattle are selling 25@50c above the close of last week. Choice 1,450 lb steers sold yesterday at $14.50 and 40 head averaging 1,285 @1,450 lbs reached $14.25. Cows and heifers shared in the upturn, while calves and bulls were unchanged. Stockers and feeders were quiet.

Lambs Decline Again.

Losses of 15@25c were recorded in fat lambs yesterday after a slow, steady opening. Bulk of wool lambs sold at $9.50@10.00, with occasional loads of top kinds early as high as $10.10@10.35. Wet fleeces partly offset the additional price cuts near the close.

Shorn lambs were disposed of at $9.10@9.25, while odd head of extremely heavy ranged downwards to $8.00. Aged sheep were scarce and in demand at strong prices. Yearlings were scarce, but weakened in sympathy with the lamb market. Country demand for $9.50@10.00 feeding and shearing stock continued good.

Receipts at Chicago for today are estimated at 6,000 cattle, 14,000 hogs, and 17,000 sheep, against 5,786 cattle, 9,666 hogs, and 19,670 sheep the previous Wednesday, and 8,437 cattle, 14,390 hogs, and 12,097 sheep a year ago.

Consolidated Laundries Corporation

The laundry industry is one of the few industries reporting increase in sales during first quarter of 1930 compared with similar period of 1929.

This industry embodies many of the characteristics of the public utility industry, inasmuch as it supplies an essential service for which there is a constant demand, likewise it operates with a minimum of inventory and on a cash basis.

Consolidated Laundries corporation reported sales during 1929 of $9,437,793, and net earnings of $721,155, a substantial increase over 1928. All indications point to further increase during the current year. The corporation recently purchased and erected several new units, with an additional capacity of approximately $3,000,000.

We recommend the purchase of Consolidated Laundries Corporation common stock selling currently on the New York curb exchange at approximately $15 per share.

The Ace of Spades

By WILLIAM MACLEOD RAINE

SYNOPSIS.

Jim Rutledge, accompanied by Sim Hart, is sent out with a herd of cattle to fulfill a contract made by his father, Chandler Rutledge. On the trail they are overtaken by some men of the Moss outfit, enemies of Rutledge. The Moss men start a stampede and drive some of the Rutledge cattle. Jim recovers them, but in doing so shoots and injures one of the Moss raiders. The men of the Moss outfit swear to be revenged for the injury done to their pal. Jim takes refuge in a ranch house where he finds Ellen Lawson alone in the house. She hides him when the Moss gang comes to the house inquiring for him and puts them off on another trail, even though she learns that he has injured her brother. Jim rides on into the town, after saving Ellen from the unwelcome attentions of Shear, the sheriff marshal, threatens to arrest him for the attack on Steve Lawson. Pendleton, an old trail driver, appears on the scene in time to save Jim's life. Shortly afterwards Shear kills Doc Brown, who, he claimed, had caused his death. This causes a great deal of excitement in the little cattle town. Jim visits the local gambling den and is astonished to find Ellen Lawson there. She tells him she came to speak to her brother Steve. Jim guides her to where Steve is sitting in a game with Shear, Buck Roe, and others. As they reach the table the lights go out, and when the room is again lighted Shear is found crumpled in his chair with a knife in him. Ellen's right hand is covered with blood. She had become separated from Jim in the dark and some one had jostled her. In putting out her hand for support she touched the crumpled figure. Jim and Ellen are questioned by the sheriff, Manders, and Jim is arrested, but is later released. Jim is determined to find the murderer to clear himself and arranges a meeting to warn him against Dave Moss and Jim learns that Ellen is trying to force her to marry his son Pete. He suggests that she marry him and so escape being married. He goes about his investigation and is led into a trap by the wily Devil Dave Moss tells him he has not long to live. Chandler Rutledge comes West, and when Ellen tells him Jim has been out for some time he and Pendleton go in search of him.

INSTALLMENT LI.

NEAR THE END OF THE ROPE.

If old man Moss saw the handwriting on the wall and was running for cover, why not finish the prisoner out of hand without delay?

The cavalcade drew up before a cabin familiar to Jim. He had not long ago helped him to it to save himself from this same Moss outfit. That had been a fair fight. This was theirs.

The prisoner was dragged from the saddle and hauled into the house. Old Dave sat beside the table in the sitting room. Jim stood across the table from him. He was not invited to take a chair. They had brought him there for business, not for trial.

For the first time Jim got a close look at Devil Dave. He had observed from a distance of his shapeless bulk the man moved with a surprisingly swift agility. Now he saw him beside a lamp. Its light turned on the old fellow, whose bald head sank into the huge rounded shoulders, on the beady black eyes that peered out from those of the boy.

The psychology of the human mind is as yet no exact science. To understand mental reactions is not always possible. Jim stood in the shadow of his own touch. He should have been absorbed in his own immediate future, to the exclusion of everything else. Probably he was. But during the long days he had schooled his nerves. He must not get panicky. He must make plans to serve him. So now his mind was sending out little tentacles of thought. One of these had to do with the slovenly old man's coat. It had been in the house, and one of them was missing. He had found the third man who had been standing outside the window of the card room at the Long-horn on the night of the Shear murder.

Finally Jim spoke first. Every minute of time he gained was so much to the good. He played coolly to postpone the pronunciament of the sentence against him.

"Then you say you killed Joe Shear do you mean you had him killed?"

"What's it to you, fellow?" Buck Roe answered savagely.

Old Devil Dave offered mock reproof suavely. "You wouldn't speak rough to our guest, would you, Buck? Me, I'm willing to answer all reasonable questions—here. We're in a kinda hurry, but we ain't in too big a hurry to palter. I'll put my cards on the table, Mr. Rutledge. You can guess what you're mouthed, you are. I ain't scared you'll talk. Tee hee!" He leaned forward, showing his teeth in a cruel and malevolent grin. "There's an old proverb which tells about one kind of men who don't talk."

Jim understood. This fiend counted him already dead and was mocking him. The young man resolved grimly that he would get no change out of that.

"I've heard it," Rutledge said hardily.

"Good enough. We understand each other. I'll tell you all about it. I killed Joe Shear my own self with yore little knife. You'll have to excuse me for not doing a thorough job an' bumpin' you off, too. I just didn't have time."

Moss was boasting, swimming on a sea of self-satisfaction. His voice purred like that of a great cat which has been at the cream.

"But how could you have killed him when you weren't in the room?" Jim asked, a frown of bewilderment on his face.

"You'd never guess," Dave gloated. "I came in by the window an' put out the light on it."

"In the dark," Jim said admiringly.

"I had to lean right over Pete's shoulder an' I kinda wheeze some when I'm winded. So Pete knew who I was an' Buck 'most knew. If there's any more I can do for you, Mr. Rutledge, why, time's slippin' along an' we get to business."

"The sooner the quicker," Buck said with a hard laugh.

"I reckon that's what you thought when you shot down Abbott, the express messenger on the S. & G. flyer."

"You've done talked yoreself to death already, Rutledge. No need to say more," Buck cried angrily.

"Why, yes, there's been talk enough," Dave assented. "Business now."

"Yes, business," Jim jeered. "The kind you're good at—killing when your fellow has no chance. Even when you were a boy you were busy killing. I'll bet you deserted from the confederate army. I don't reckon you've been to Lawrence, Kas., though it was twenty or thirty years before I was born."

Devil Dave looked at him in astonishment. "What do you know about Lawrence? You claimin' I was with Quantrell there?"

"You were seen there. Don't you remember the boy you killed at the age of a child? How he tried to climb the fence an' you shot him down, and later how while he lay on the ground begging for mercy?"

Dave Moss was startled. After all these years it was not possible that anyone could reach him for what he had done in his guerrilla days. What puzzled him was that this boy could know a secret buried so long ago in the dim past.

"You bluffed you with that lie?" he asked.

"You know it's the truth. A man lay in the blackberry bushes at that corner and saw you."

"What man?"

"Jeff Jelks," a fellow in yore company before you deserted."

"Jeff Jelks." Jim could see the man's memory was groping for and finding back a recollection of Jelks. "I ain't seen him since the war. Where is he at now?"

"My father knows. Let me tell you something, Dave Moss." Jim leaned forward, eyes undaunted, challenging the old villain. "You've got me, I'll go through with what you're plannin' you'll never get away with it. Every minute you're near the end of yore rope—you an' yore whole damn Chan Rutledge will sleep on yore trail till he gets you. You'll never know—never. He'll get you sure."

"I'll get him. You can't talk us out of this, fellow."

Good morning!

Ach, girls, but Mr. Barrymore is grand in this picture!

Does he love? High, wide and warm!
And HOW he wears a uniform!
Does he fight? And does he sing?
Gosh, dears, he does EVERYTHING!

Seriously, "General Crack" does not only once more emphasize the acting prowess of John Barrymore, but it makes a Valentino of him. From start to finish he moves in a golden aura of romance and I will make affidavit (today) that he is the screen's greatest lover. As far as technique is concerned, there is only George Arliss to rival him.

The gods were good to bequeath "General Crack" to Mr. Barrymore as his first full length talking venture. They were kind in according him the direction and cast that so splendidly enhances his genius. They smiled on the picture from every point of production and I think they must love Warner Brothers, for you can bet your life the boys will have money enough to buy themselves something pretty when this movie shall have run its course.

"General Crack" is a powerful, swashbuckling, incurably romantic, half-gypsy general, summoned by Leopold of Austria, who is at war and would wear on his brow the crown of the Holy Roman empire. Crack is to get together his wild bands and secure the crown for Leopold.

This dashing warrior ["C" for Christian, "R" for Rudolph, "A" for Augustus, "C" for Christopher, "K" for Ketlar] agrees to the proposition, if his pay shall be one-half the money in the treasury and the hand of the emperor's sister who has dared to laugh over the general's parentage. Leopold is helpless and succumbs to the demand.

From then on, war, love, revenge, intrigue, drama, and tragedy lead one another a merry chase, with Barrymore the colorful and dominant figure in all situations. There's punch in every foot of film.

One long moment of silence occurs that is among the most impressive things ever registered by the talking screen. It comes where the rascally Gabor tells Gen. Crack that his wife—Fidelia—has betrayed his honor for an emperor's smile. The general listens—in silence—his hawklike eyes never leaving the face of the venomous fellow who is spilling his poison. The story is told. Still there is silence. . . .

Well, far be it from me to tell you any more of the story—but it's a darb, with all the sensuous accoutrements the heart of the most rabid movie fan could wish, including some magnificent technicolor effects. Especially striking is the coronation scene.

You will adore Marian Nixon as Leopold's sister and be charmed by Armida's flaming characterization of Fidelia. Lowell Sherman is noteworthy as Leopold and you'll turn thumbs up for all the rest of the cast. Photography and sound are excellent.

"INGAGI."

Produced by Congo Pictures, Ltd.
Presented at the Garrick theater.

"Ingagi," film record of the safari of Sir Hubert Winstead, F. A. S., and Capt. Daniel Swayne into the heart of the Dark Continent "from east to central Africa" and the Belgian Congo, is in the main not unlike other travel pictures of the sort. It is, however, plus several unusual sights and thrills. A lion's charge at and struggle with a cameraman is one sight not soon forgotten, while before your eyes a gorilla pounces on and carries away a woman. The memory of this is far from pleasant, though the ape IS killed and the woman IS rescued. The lion and gorilla episodes do not occur till near the end of the film, and up to then "Ingagi," which means "gorilla," is jungle stuff more or less like much you have seen before.

Faultiness of photography and general condition of the film go far to convince you that what you see is the real thing and not a staged adventure, for perfect reproduction would not be possible under African climatic conditions.

See you tomorrow.

THE STAGE

BY CHARLES COLLINS.

THE plans of the Theater Guild for its next season in Chicago call for a program of six plays at the Blackstone. Bernard Shaw's "The Apple Cart," which is now prospering in New York, will start the list, about the middle of October, with the present cast, which includes Tom Powers, Claude Rains, Ernest Cossart, Morris Carnovsky, Eva Leonard-Boyne, Violet Kemble Cooper and various others. Philip Barry's new play, "Hotel Universe," and Turgenev's "A Month in the Country," with Alla Nazimova, will probably follow.

The Guild's arrangements for the Chicago season have not been completed in detail, of course. Its board of managers will adopt a new policy for its activities in subscription cities outside of New York, the principal idea of which is to make the New York and the other subscription seasons identical, play for play and player for player. Pieces found unsatisfactory in try-out performances will not be sent into New York or on tour.

In addition to the three plays already named, the program at the Blackstone will be selected from: "The Genius and His Brother," by Sil-Vara, the Hungarian author of "Caprice"; "The Good Soldier Sweig," a comedy based on the novel by Jaroslav Hascheck, which is now an excellent seller in the book shops; Meurice Donnay's version of the "Lysistrata" of Aristophanes, translated from the French by William A. Drake; and Arthur Schnitzler's "The Lonely Lady."

Alfred Lunt and Lynn Fontanne will visit Chicago toward the end of the Guild's season. They will have a play by Maxwell Anderson based on the love story of Queen Elizabeth and the Earl of Essex—which is not to be confused with Henry Wagstaff Gribble's play of identical theme, a recent failure. If this piece is not successful in New York, Mr. Lunt and Miss Fontanne will select another vehicle.

Speaking for the Guild, Robert F. Sisk said yesterday:

"We now have more than 15,000 subscribers in Chicago, and we expect a good increase for next season. So you may be sure we will send no unsatisfactory plays. In our subscription arrangements, Saturday night prices will be the same as for other evenings, so that those who can attend only on Saturdays will not be penalized by higher ticket costs. Incidentally, I might add that the Theater Guild is tickled pink, or maybe a vivid red, by its growth in Chicago."

J. Brooks Atkinson, dramatic critic of the New York Times, approves heartily of the "Hamlet" of Frits Leiber and the Chicago Civic Shakespeare society. In reviewing Monday night's premiere, he wrote:

"What Mr. Leiber has accomplished in the lucidity and rapidity of staging, in the drive of a drama through many scenes, and in the interpretation of the lines for their dramatic meaning, is a revelation in the producing of Shakespeare. For an expression of the tragedy as an organic unit, this is the most coherent 'Hamlet' this courier has ever seen.

"He approaches the part with the same blunt purpose as the play. His is a straightforward Hamlet—a character alert to all the relationships of the drama, clarifying the dialogue with simple gestures, waiting his time without slackening pace, keeping his diction clear and his mind on edge. He is, moreover, an actor of sufficient fullness to encompass the gusts of fury that at times sweep through the part.

"Although his company is not all of a piece, most of them are equal to their appointed tasks. Marie Carroll's childlike Ophelia puts this much slandered part in its true perspective. All the attempts to lift this part into a cosmic significance seem futile in comparison with Miss Carroll's real, bewildered, pathetic maiden who is caught up in a whirlwind beyond her comprehension."

College Scientists to Discuss Policy of Sex Questioning

Scientists who gather today at the University of Chicago for the opening of the four day annual meeting of the American Society for Experimental Biology will not be able to turn their attention immediately to laboratory matters.

They are to be canvassed for their individual and collective opinions on a policy affecting the academic freedom of members of the American Association of University Professors for the future guidance of the latter group.

The question at issue is whether members of university faculties should pursue an aggressive policy toward those institutions of higher learning they believe exercise too rigid a restriction on their professors in imparting new ideas to the students.

The most prominent case in point is that of the University of Missouri faculty member who was dismissed for having circulated a "sex questionnaire" among his students—an action later condemned by the professorial association as unfair to the professor.

The Inquiring Reporter

Every Day He Asks Five Persons, Picked at Random, a Question.

The Question.

Have the wets or the drys had the best of the prohibition argument at Washington?

The Answers.

Allen M. Weber, 19 South La Salle street, real estate—The wets seem to have it. Prohibition has been a menace rather than a benefit to the country. For that reason the wets should be able to present their side more convincingly than the drys.

Miss Carrie Moody, 4140 Prairie avenue, modiste—The wets have the better of the argument, but I don't know that they have done as well as they might have done, because the wets do not have the backing that the drys have. The drys have the money and energetic supporters.

Irwin M. Schwartz, manager Restoro health institute, State-Lake building—The wets are voicing public opinion on this subject. If the matter were put to a referendum the Volstead law would be greatly modified. Prohibition has proved a failure as far as this generation is concerned.

Miss Rebecca Winokur, 2333 Haddon avenue, saleswoman—The general public is drinking despite the fact that the country is legally dry, and that fact would seem to outweigh any arguments. Also, the drinks now are mixtures of water, alcohol and what-not. It's worse than it used to be.

Allen Reinstine, 1400 East 53d street, advertising—Judging from reports, the wets seem to have a slight advantage in the arguments. I am in favor of a modification that would legalize wines and beers. This would help reduce a complication of evils.

Russia Praised at Princeton for War Upon Churches

Princeton, N. J., March 25.—[Special.]—Soviet Russia's war on religion found a strong advocate here tonight in Prof. Harry Elmer Barnes, author, sociologist, and former Smith college faculty member, who told members of the Whig Clio society that Russia's crusade was one against orthodox religion, which he termed the greatest scourge to humanity. The Whig Clio society is an undergraduate literary organization at Princeton university.

Prof. Barnes asserted that the present drive against religion by the soviets was no different to the efforts of the Christians, centuries ago, to curb heresy. He declared that Russians now enjoyed more liberty to worship as they pleased than they did under the czarist régime.

Pope Pius protests that church property is being seized, yet priests of Roman Catholic Poland have taken over property belonging to Greek Catholics in the same country, he went on.

The soviets were praised warmly by Prof. Barnes for their attack upon supernatural religion.

"Such religion," he continued, "is directly and indirectly responsible for more misery and suffering than any other influence operating in human society.

"It is also the chief obstacle to rationally guided social progress. It is the chief aid of the dead hand in controlling society. Russia's attack on it is not only defensible, it is highly praiseworthy.

"Russia is not making a war on religion. In Russia communism is virtually a religion with bolshevik adherents. It is not an anti-religious campaign, but a struggle of religions.

"The biblical God is clearly incompatible with modern knowledge. It is highly desirable to put an end to the belief in God as an aspect of religion. The reliance upon the aid of God paralyzes human initiative. To try to please a God of whose existence and nature we cannot know is to introduce endless chaos into all efforts at social and ethical reconstruction.

"The godless union in Rusisa does not alarm me. I do not support atheism, but there is no reason why atheists should not organize and carry on propaganda as freely as those who believe in God. Those who are praying against Russia today believe in a God who inteferes in human affairs. Why not rest content to pass on to this God the responsibility of suppressing the godless union?"

Princeton university is generally rated as one of the leading centers of Presbyterian thought of the country.

Praise Late C. P. Anderson at Memorial Rites.

BY THE REV. JOHN EVANS.

Bishop Charles Palmerston Anderson, late bishop of Chicago and primate of the Episcopal church was proclaimed "the greatest Episcopal church leader since Phillips Brooks" by the Rt. Rev. Ernest M. Stires, bishop of Long Island last night. The occasion was a memorial service for Bishop Anderson held at St. James cathedral, Cass and Huron streets, attended by many bishops from nearly every section of the country.

A special meeting of the house of bishops of the church will open this morning in the St. James cathedral parish house to elect a presiding bishop to succeed Bishop Anderson. The meeting was set for Chicago as a special honor to Bishop Anderson. The session will be preceded by a service of holy communion with Bishop William A. Leonard of Ohio, senior bishop of the church, as celebrant. Assisting will be Bishop William T. Manning, of New York and Bishop Hugh L. Burleson, of South Dakota, assessor [assistant] to the late primates, Bishop Anderson and Bishop John G. Murray.

In his sermon, Bishop Stires, challenged the bishops and the Episcopal church at large to carry on the work begun by the late primate. Bishop Stires served under Bishop Anderson in Chicago as rector of Grace church.

The office of presiding bishop ranks importance in the Anglican communion with that of the archbishop of Canterbury. In preceding elections, no nominations were made from the floor. It is possible, however, that this rule may be changed in the election today so as to allow nominations other than by secret ballot.

Previous to 1925 the American Episcopal church did not elect its presiding bishops. The office fell to the senior bishop. In the 140 years of the life of the Episcopal church in America prior to 1925 there were but 15 presiding bishops. Since 1925 three bishops have filled the office. The main idea of the change was to make it possible for younger bishops to carry the weight of the office.

It was thought last night that one of the older bishops would be elected today due to the fact that the term of office expires in 1931. Observers stated that "the bishops will not wish to tie the hands of the general convention at its meeting in Denver next year" when a younger bishop may be elected to the office. It was thought last night that some bishop familiar with the machinery of the church should be called to carry on for the next year and a half.

In this connection the name of Bishop Thomas F. Gailor of Tennessee, former president of the national council, has been suggested by older bishops. Bishop Gailor, it is stated, has held practically every high office in the church except that of presiding bishop. Only 5 bishops are now senior to him.

The names of two bishops stood out prominently in discussions yesterday. One name was that of Bishop Burleson. His strength is said to lie in the fact of his experience as assessor to the two late primates. Bishop Burleson is 65 years old. Another name is that of Bishop James D. Perry of Rhode Island. Observers state that Bishop Perry will receive the votes of many bishops because of his contribution to the recent rearrangement of the departmental organization in the national council of the church.

Bishop Stires also is regarded as a strong candidate. It is said that he received many votes last November when Bishop Anderson was elected. Though a northerner, Bishop Stires is said to be acceptable to a large section of the south. Others mentioned include Bishop James E. Freeman, noted for his leadership in the building of the National cathedral, Washington, D. C.

About 15 others have been named as possibilities. Among them are Bishops Tucker of Virginia, Darst of east Carolina, Benett of Duluth, Cook of Delaware, Longley of Iowa, Garland of Pennsylvania, Matthews of New Jersey, Oldham of Albany, N. Y., and Parsons of California.

New Michigan Bishop.

Marquette, Mich., March 25.—(AP)—The Rev. Hayward S. Ablewhite was consecrated bishop of upper Michigan at ceremonies in St. Paul's cathedral today.

Character Building Is Steady Work Over Long Period of Time

By GLADYS HUNTINGTON BEVANS

A "Play Booklet" by Mrs. Bevans for mothers of pre-school children will be sent free on receipt of a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

"Can you suggest to me a book on character building?" several mothers have asked.

If I did know of one, I wouldn't suggest it, because I don't see how it could be good. Character building isn't a separate consideration. Character is built in all along the way. The development of character, which I like better to say than the building of character, is tied up with every activity of the child.

So, the building of his character occurs simultaneously with his whole development. If you understand your child and manage him wisely each step of the way from babyhood you are building his character well. Suggestion, example, cause and effect, example guidance, and example again—are the tools you use. And of them all, your example is one of the great factors in your child's early life during that time when he is of necessity so close to you.

If you always keep your promises, if you always tell him the truth, if you show consideration for others; if you evidence regard for other people's possessions, if you allow all reasonable independence, if you ask instead of command—you do more to guide the forces of your child's nature than you could do with a thousand little sermons and labels of right and wrong.

In every aspect of a child's life his character is developing and much of how it develops depends on us—on how we accomplish the routine physical care, on what opportunity we give him for play and what we give him to play with—on many of the seemingly trivial everyday events of his life. It is these happenings that develop and crystallize his character.

Your Muscles Will Tell You Whether You're Lazy or Not

by Olive Roberts Barry

Have you tried the old muscle test on yourself lately? You sit down in a comfortable chair for a half hour or more. Then, when it is time to arise, you watch how you make the movements to get up. If you can do it easily and naturally, making the muscles of the trunk do your lifting work for you—you're good.

If you have to use your hands and arms to help you up—you're not so good as you thought you were.

If there is still doubt in your mind about your muscle agility, then try picking something up off the floor. Can you do it without turning your body or assuming a half squat position? You're still good if you can do that. But if you have to move your feet and turn your body this way or that—it's not such a good sign, at all.

The surer test of whether you are getting on, however, remains with whether you want to leave the chair or not, and whether you'd rather let something lie on the floor than stoop to pick it up. Not that sitting on, day-dreaming, building airy castles, planning what you'd do with the million if you ever get it isn't good for the soul. It is—if the habit of keeping on sitting doesn't get you, which it may, if you don't watch out.

We can go back a little in the day to get a clue to this muscular atrophy slowly creeping on, carrying old age on its ugly bat wings. This a. m. or yesterday a. m. was it "too cold" for you to walk a block on the way to work? Or, did it just seem too cold or too damp, or something? Anyway, there wasn't any walking done all day except that which could not be avoided to get you to a conveyance.

From refusing to use the leg muscles it is not such a long step, you know, to slowing up all over. Even the brain gets to loafing, after a while. That's the way it works. It's too much bother to do this or to do that. Why dress up and go out when you can be so much more comfortable indoors?

If you're guilty you know the way the vicious circle prescribes its course. Also, if guilty, you know what penance you'll have to perform to get back into your lithe, girlish way of moving again, don't you?

BEAUTY ANSWERS

BY ANTOINETTE DONNELLY.

MRS. H. B.: WHEN YOU TAKE your afternoon nap place pads of absorbent cotton wet with ice cold water and witch hazel over the eyes. They give a soothing restfulness, also a brilliancy to the eyes.

The Art Institute Is Offering Lectures to Popularize Arts

BY ELEANOR JEWETT.

The department of museum instruction of the Art institute has just sent out an announcement of the spring lectures offered. The list reads most entertainingly. This department of the museum takes upon itself through the year to submit series of lectures in the history and appreciation of art and, in addition, sketch classes for non-professionals to the public. The lectures take the form of weekly classes and may be entered at any time without entrance requirements. The talks are intended for the layman, to cultivate his ability to see and appreciate beauty and thereby increase his enjoyment of art.

In the present instance Miss Helen Parker, head of the department, is taking upon herself most of the responsibility for the talks. She is a clever speaker, well informed and entertaining as well as instructive. On Monday mornings at 11 o'clock she will speak upon the "Art Centers of France"; on Mondays at 6:15 in the afternoon she will give talks in the galleries on the permanent and current exhibitions. There will be ten of these gallery talks.

Wednesday afternoons at 3 o'clock Miss Parker will speak on "Period Furniture and Its Background." This promises well. It will comprise a survey of the great styles of interior architecture and their furnishings and the lectures will be illustrated with slides and the period rooms and furniture of the Art institute collections.

Thursdays at 11 o'clock the subject will be "Color." Six talks on color will do much to help develop a discriminating sense in the use and enjoyment of color. Fridays at 11 o'clock Miss Parker will take up the history of art as a means to esthetic enjoyment and Fridays at 6:30 o'clock she will speak on "Art Centers of Belgium and Holland." Later she will discuss the art centers of Germany.

Lectures not in the hands of Miss Parker are the Tuesday sketch class from 10 to 12 o'clock, under Mrs. Stevens; the Saturday morning story hour for children at 9:20, under Miss Mackenzie; and the University of Chicago, on "Modern Painting," on Mondays from 2:15 to 4:15 o'clock. Assistant Professor Driscoll. Impressionism, post-impressionism and recent tendencies in art will be discussed. The first meeting will be March 31.

Several Society Women Enter Dogs for Show

BY THALIA

There will be several bow-wows of fashionable ownership in the twenty-ninth annual show of the Chicago Kennel club, to be held on Friday, Saturday, and Sunday in the 121st regiment armory. Mrs. James B. Forgan is entering seven pugs. At present the pug was the undisputed monarch of fashion in the dog world, and was a universal favorite. He has been superseded in popularity, however, to such an extent that the breed has almost died out. Mrs. Forgan has been regarded as the greatest sponsor of that breed in America.

Mrs. William M. Reay of Highland Park is to show her Scottish terriers, and Mrs. H. M. Florsheim of Ravinia hopes to win more ribbons with her Airedales.

Mrs. Alexander H. Stewart of Highland Park is interested in the wire haired fox terriers and Scotties. One of the wire hairs is an international champion. Mrs. W. Harold Cluxton plans to show two Russian wolfhounds. Russian women, it seems, have entered dogs in this show more than ever before in the history of the club.

As we commented recently, it is no longer a novelty for society women to enter trade or the arts professions. There was when it was startling to hear that Mrs. Names and Positive had gone to work. Not now, however. While the fair ones have dabbled in interior decorating, in the antique shops designing and selling, and almost every other conceivable endeavor, they don't rate so much free publicity, to put it baldly. They have followed the high degree of marketability that their prestige possesses and are energetically taking advantage of the air or semblance of same. The latter entrepreneurs to a little industry of their own are not capitalizing anything but their efforts and knowledge. Mrs. Kenneth Dick and Mrs. Botsford Young have embarked in a modest way on the production of a superior and rather expensive kind of cold cream. Mrs. Lawrence Whiting has given them her special formula, which she has been using for some years, and they are using the kitchenette of Mrs. Dick apartment at 1400 Lake Shore drive as their laboratory. They put up their product in cunning little green jars, and have named it by some exciting title, and are not having much difficulty in peddling it, in a nice way, to their friends and acquaintances.

Assisting at the tea tables for the exhibit tea to open four exhibitions this afternoon will be Mrs. Lester Fuller, Mrs. William D. Dean, Mrs. Adolph Bolm, Mrs. Oliver D. Grant, Mrs. Robert Mandel, Mrs. Gustavus F. Swift, Mrs. Ralph Winston, Mrs. Walter B. Wolf, Mrs. John S. Winterbotham Jr., Miss Clara Lake, Miss Margaret Hambleton, and Mrs. Frederick Stock.

Mrs. Walter S. Brewster is having the committee for the dinner dance for the Russian world war invalids in the tomorrow afternoon at her residence at 2704 Lakeview avenue. Mrs. Brewster is chairman of the committee, and they will discuss final arrangements for the affair, which is to take place on Tuesday evening, April 4, at the Petrushka club.

Chauncey McCormick is to speak on "The Art of the World's Fair of 1930" at the College club tomorrow morning at 11 o'clock. Mrs. Joseph L. Valentine is down on the College club program for a talk on April 4 on "The Painting of India."

The Chicago Drama league announces a breakfast on Friday, April 4, at 11 o'clock at the Stevens hotel. Dr. Walter Starkie, director of the Abbey theater of Dublin, is to be the principal guest, and will speak on "Poems and Music of Gypsies." He is a fellow of Trinity college, Dublin.

Mrs. Hal Crompton Bangs of 1336 Astor parkway and her son, Hal Crompton Jr., who have been spending the last few months at Phoenix, Ariz., went last week to San Francisco, so that young Mr. Bangs might register and arrange for his entrance to Leland Stanford university next fall. They are to return to Arizona for a few days before coming back to Chicago.

Miss Ellen Holt and Miss Elizabeth Webster of Lake Forest sail on the Ile de France on Friday for a long trip to Europe. They are taking their own motor with them, and plan to motor through northern Africa.

Mr. and Mrs. William A. P. Pullman have hopes of moving into their new residence on Mayflower road in Lake Forest some time next month. They have been living on Edgewood avenue while the new house was being built.

ITS TASTE DECLARES IT IS WORKING

PEBECO tooth paste didn't taste so distinctive you'd probably not realize that it is doing something none other can do. But PEBECO'S sharp tang tells you that this scientific tooth paste is actually working. It cleans. It whitens without abrasion. And it definitely retards decay by checking tooth acids. You may not at first like its taste—but bear with it a few days and you will. What's more—you'll also note a real difference in smiles.—Adv.

This charming morning frock of rayon crêpe in green and white tones is suggestive of the wrapped treatment, which gives the figure length. The bodice closes in surplice effect and shows a one sided collar. There are short kimono sleeves, and at the left side of the skirt there is a cascading drapery that provides fullness. This drapery is stitched along the edge of the right side of the skirt. It is plaited at the upper edge and stitched beneath the extension of the right front.

Eleven Miami Society Names Stricken from Irene Bordoni's Suit

Miami, Fla., March 25.—(AP)—Names of eleven of the original 29 leaders of metropolitan Miami's winter colonies had been withdrawn tonight from a $10,000 damage suit filed by Irene Bordoni, stage star, and seven other plaintiffs who sought remuneration for services in connection with a society circus here March 7 and 8.

Nine names were withdrawn from the suit today, according to William J. Dunn, plaintiff's attorney, who filed a praecipe in Circuit court to strike the names from the list. They include: Mr. and Mrs. George Hare, Pittsburgh; Mr. and Mrs. Rex Stafford, Buffalo; Mr. and Mrs. Hewitt Brown, Coral Gables; James H. Gilman, Miami banker; C. S. Cooper, Miami Beach, and Mrs. Elliott F. Shepard, Miami Beach.

The names of Col. E. H. R. Green, son of Hetty Green, and Frank Gannett, newspaper publisher, were withdrawn from the suit shortly after it was filed in Circuit court last week.

"These eleven persons have convinced me that they were in no wise connected with the presentation of the society circus," Dunn said. "They assert that their names were used as patrons and patronesses of the affair by Mrs. Ganson Clark, the producer, without their knowledge or consent."

Dunn said today process servers have not yet located Mrs. Clark for service in connection with the suit. She left here presumably March 10, he reported.

A SIMPLE STEP TOWARDS HEALTH

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN is a Daily Essential and Millions Know Its Effectiveness in Relief of Constipation

Perhaps the one simple thing you are not doing to guarantee permanent health is having sufficient roughage in your food. Absence of this roughage is the direct cause of constipation which results in so many other ills—headaches, listlessness, general depression, indigestion and, sometimes, serious disease.

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN is roughage. It is positively guaranteed to relieve both temporary and recurring constipation or the purchase price will be refunded. Two tablespoons daily (in serious cases, with each meal) is the proper amount.

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN also helps you to health in other ways. It is rich in iron, practically all of which goes into the blood, bringing red, healthy color to the complexion. It helps prevent anemia. Be sure to include it in reducing diets.

Many eat Kellogg's ALL-BRAN with cream or milk added. It is a delicious addition to cereals, fruits and soups. In cooked foods, such as bran muffins, it is just as effective in the relief of constipation. Recommended by doctors. Ask your grocer for Kellogg's ALL-BRAN in the red-and-green package. Served everywhere. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

LAURA LA PLANTE, beloved Universal star, uses Lux Toilet Soap both in her own beautiful bathroom and in her dressing room on location. She says: "Lux Toilet Soap gives my skin the same marvelous smoothness the finest French soaps do."

THE GIRL whose skin is smooth and lovely, so that people inevitably turn to admire her, has the gift of attracting romance!

"There's amazing allure in beautiful smooth skin"—as Carl Laemmle, Jr., famous director, says.

"Lovely skin is the one charm every star must have. Make-up is little help under the glare of close-up lights. The skin itself must be exquisite."

This is the conclusion of 45 leading Hollywood directors who know from long experience with motion pictures just which kind of beauty has the strongest appeal for the great public.

The charming screen stars found out long ago that by using Lux Toilet Soap they can keep their skin always smooth and soft.

Of the 521 important actresses in Hollywood, including all stars, 511 are devoted to it. Also, all the great film studios have made it the official soap for their dressing rooms.

The Broadway stage stars are equally enthusiastic about this white, delicately fragrant soap. And now, too, in France, in Germany, in England, the lovely European screen stars are using it devotedly.

Are you using Lux Toilet Soap? You will find that it keeps your skin just as exquisitely smooth as it keeps the stars'. And how luxuriously it lathers, even in the hardest water!

You'll love it. Order several cakes—today.

Stock, Defying Storm, Gives Usual Concert

BY EDWARD MOORE.

For the first time this season Mr. Stock and the Chicago Symphony orchestra were late in starting a concert yesterday afternoon. They had the best of reasons. At the official starting time there was a considerably larger percentage of orchestra present than of audience. It was also the case at the end of the program. In fact, as accurately as the eye could tell, there were no absentees in the orchestra, but this was far from true of the audience.

But Mr. Stock and his men have a habit of putting across a concert regardless of weather conditions. They started with the little, light-hearted "Secret of Suzanne" Overture and then passed to the Fourth Symphony of Robert Schumann, with its musical implications of gamboling lambs and clover blossoms and buttermilk and all the other blameless objects of nature that used to excite the interest of the nineteenth century romanticists—and that were entirely absent from the neighborhood of Orchestra hall yesterday afternoon.

From there the program passed to one of its high spots, Ravel's "Bolero," the same work that was played Friday and Saturday of last week, and that sounded even more exhilarating on its repetition than on its first performance. Then came the intermission, and then the soloist, Mischa Elman, the violinist.

For this program he chose the Brahms Concerto. He is remaining until the Friday and Saturday pair of concertos, at which time he will play Mr. Stock's composition in that form. It was not impossible to notice that climatic conditions were having their effect yesterday, as they were on other instruments in the orchestra. At one time and another quite a bit of tuning was necessary.

But when Mr. Elman takes up his violin he produces a tone that is all of its own kind. He may have had to make more of an effort than usual yesterday, but he produced it. The soberly written work has been in his repertoire for a long time and he has given it much study. That study, quite as much as the Elman tone and the Elman technic was evident in his performance, and he went through it with flying colors.

Musical events scheduled for last night carried on as best they might in spite of late arrivals or nonarrivals of participants or patrons. The Florence Nightingale chorus began its annual concert at the Blackstone hotel exactly one hour late, having made a precarious and leisurely trip to the hotel by bus. Arthur Kraft, tenor and the soloist of the evening, filled in part of the evening with some extra songs before the chorus arrived.

Once on the stand, the chorus, directed by Robert R. Birch, sang three groups of part-songs, and Mr. Kraft gave extra evidence of his first rate voice and musical ability in two groups of solos that ran from ancient Arne to modern Ronald.

Meanwhile the National Music Supervisors' conference was being entertained at the Auditorium with a complimentary concert by the all-Chicago high school chorus directed by Dr. J. Lewis Browne and the Lane orchestra directed by Henry Sopkin. Here once again the blizzard got in its evil work, for both chorus and orchestra were considerably smaller in numbers than when they gave the same program at Orchestra hall last week.

They went through, however, seemingly with the resolve that being fewer in numbers they would become more forceful in performance. The "Oberon" overture was played with fine spirit, and when Dr. Browne took up the baton for Palestrina's "Greeting," the choral singing provoked hearty applause from the audience, an effect sustained throughout the list of part-songs which followed. Samuel Burkholder was at the piano and Le Roy Wetzel at the organ.

Radio Lauded as Public Path to Better Music

Walter Damrosch, dean of American orchestra conductors, lauded the value of radio in extending appreciation of music in an address yesterday afternoon before the largest crowd ever assembled in the grand ballroom of the Stevens hotel. It was estimated that his audience, composed mainly of delegates to the music supervisors national conference, numbered about 4,000 persons.

"The census reports that there are 27,000,000 children attending American schools," the veteran conductor said. "Of this number 10,000,000 go to rural schools. Think of reaching such a vast number who formerly had never heard a symphony orchestra. Perhaps it is not too optimistic to hope that with the coöperation of the schools we shall eventually reach the entire 27,000,000.

"Music is the one common ground on which all natipnalities can meet. Acquainting so great a proportion of our children with the music of the great composers cannot but have a marked influence on the culture of many generations in come."

"In my weekly broadcast, the music appreciation hour conducted over the National Broadcasting system, it has been estimated after careful study that the total of those who listened reached 5,176,960. If I gave 110 concerts each winter for twenty years I could not equal that."

At the morning session of the conference, Joseph M. Weber, national president of the American Federation of Musicians, told of the organization's fight against the "canned and synthetic music" provided in many motion picture theaters.

"We fought it first as an economic problem," he said, "to retain for our musicians their livelihood. But that is not all. Canned music means the death of musical culture in America—there will be no incentive for young musicians if 200 cheap musicians in Hollywood can supply all the music necessary for 60,000 theaters."

This afternoon at Orchestra hall Dr. Frederick Stock will conduct the Chicago Symphony orchestra in a program for the delegates.

Washington, D. C., March 25.—(AP)—The eminence in music of Arturo Toscanini, conductor of the New York Philharmonic-Symphony orchestra, and the accomplishments in literature of Paul Claudel, French ambassador to the United States, were honored tonight by Georgetown university, which was celebrating founders' day.

Conferring the decoration of the James Ryder Randall Academy of Letters upon Ambassador Claudel, president Coleman Nevils of Georgetown characterized him as one "skilled in political science, most erudite in the fine arts, an author of splendid repute."

Sig. Toscanini was presented the first medal of the Francisco de Vico Academy of Music. President Nevils spoke of him as "the greatest master of music of modern times, a man of marvelous memory, a maestro of magic influence over musicians and audience."

Jugo-Slavs Hear Yankee Paid $100,000 for Violin

BELGRADE, Jugoslavia, March 25.—(AP)—A dispatch from Novisad today said a Stradivarius violin valued at $100,000 had been sold to an unnamed American today through an American agent there.

47 Years' Practice Taught Dr. Caldwell

Many things about Men and Women

DR. CALDWELL loved people. He studied the habits of his patients and tried to improve their ways of living. His observations over a long period of time convinced him many people were ruining their health by a careless choice of laxatives. Then he determined to write a prescription which would get at the cause of constipation and correct it quickly and safely.

How successful his efforts were is best shown by the fact that the prescription he wrote back in 1885 has become the world's most popular laxative! He prescribed a mixture of herbs and other pure ingredients now known as Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, in thousands of cases where bad breath, coated tongue, gas, headaches, biliousness, and lack of appetite, or energy showed him that the bowels of men, women or children were sluggish. It proved successful in the most obstinate cases. So men liked it. Old folks liked it because it never gripes. Children liked its pleasant taste. And everybody is pleased with the gentle way it accomplishes its purpose.

By 1888, the demand for this laxative was so great that the doctor permitted it to be bottled and sold by drugstores. Today you can obtain Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin from any drugstore in the world.

What Shall I Do for Gray Hair?

By ALICE STRAWN

I am often asked for a good way to restore gray, faded or streaked hair. While there are many preparations on the market for the purpose, I know of nothing better than a mixture of good old sage tea and sulphur. You can either prepare the mixture at home yourself, or as most women prefer, buy it already prepared and ready to use.

The correct recipe, improved by the addition of other ingredients, may be had in Wyeth's Sage & Sulphur Compound. All druggists carry it and since the cost is only 75c a bottle, there is really no need for any woman to go to the bother of preparing it herself. You would be surprised if you knew the number of men and women who employ Wyeth's Sage & Sulphur because its use is undetectable.

You simply moisten a comb or a soft brish with it and draw it through your hair, one small strand at a time. By morning the gray disappears and another application or two sees your hair beautifully and evenly restored to its full original color. There is no suggestion of that hard, dyed look that repels fastidious women. I advise any woman—or man—whose hair is turning gray to try Wyeth's Sage & Sulphur.

WHAT a difference the right sanitary protection makes under your smart new frocks!

With Kotex ... smooth fit, a minimum of bulk; never a revealing outline!

Kotex is made of a remarkable substance (Cellucotton—not cotton—absorbent wadding) which makes bulk and weight unnecessary. Cellucotton is so light and cool, so amazingly absorbent.

Used in 85% of hospitals

Cellucotton is so vastly superior that you'll find it used in 85% of the very greatest hospitals, not for one or two purposes alone, but for important surgical work.

Cellucotton absorbent wadding is, as you probably know, a cellulose substance which performs the same sanitary function with 5 times the absorbency of the finest cotton.

Cellucotton absorbs away from the surface, leaving the surface always soft and delicate. This prevents chafing and packing, and makes Kotex hygienic as well as comfortable.

There are many other reasons why millions of women today will use only Kotex. One is its instant disposability. Others are noted at the right. Please try Kotex. Kotex Company, Chicago, Illinois.

KOTEX IS SOFT . . .
1—Not a deceptive softness, that soon packs into chafing hardness. But a delicate, lasting softness.
2—Kotex filler is far lighter and cooler than cotton, yet absorbs 5 times as much.
3—Deodorizes, safely, thoroughly, by a special process.

Regular Kotex—45c for 12
Kotex Super-Size—65c for 12

Kansan Chooses Home Duties Above Dreary Office Work

BY DORIS BLAKE.

Is this housekeeping business which we hear is to deadly dull, monotonous and uninspiring, all that is said about it?

Not if you believe a Kansas girl who has been working at it for seven years. Speaking of another woman, she says: "If she only knew that marriage which includes housekeeping and homemaking is the nicest, easiest, most fun job in the world, she wouldn't feel the way she does about it."

Our Kansas friend worked before she was married and feels in a position to compare home and office work fairly. She grants that if one of the business world had unusual and interesting contacts in her work she is entitled to her opinion that housework would be dull for her. But the average wage earner sees no great celebrities in the course of a year's work.

The contacts with persons engaged in the own grade of work aren't what the Kansan thinks stimulating enough a substitute for home advantages. In a big city, she thinks, due to monotony and physical discomfort of sub and d travel thrown in, the woman of ordinary salary should know the full meaning of the words "dull, uninteresting work."

The Kansan brings up a good point. Distinctions in monotony of labor are not obvious in this connection. Where the average worker has one set of duties—tying, filing, keeping books, taking dictation, and so on, the housekeeper's day offers more variety, for her duties necessarily are more varied. Excelling the hard working mother of a large brood, the housekeeper's hours are not half so rigid. What she does she did like doing in the morning she can shift until the afternoon, and the reverse.

Housekeeping is conducted now in comparatively small apartments or flats also compact, tidy suburban homes, duties are not onerous, and even for a couple of hours a day is a matter of simple arrangement. If one's heart is in her housekeeping game, she can take the edge off its dullness by planning clever meals, arranging the table attractively. And the Kansas girl adds she also can fix herself up just as alluringly as any office girl can do.

TRIBUNE COOK BOOK

BY JANE EDDINGTON.

Scones.

There is a great number of names for the Scotch scone. We once took the name Hassayampa scone arbitrarily for an American imitation, because a Hassayampa with a longing for oat bread had been instructed to make this little substitute for hot biscuit, though he mostly followed his own mind as to what to do: One cup of flour, one teaspoon baking powder, one tablespoon home rendered lard, or a substitute, one-fourth teaspoon salt, milk enough for a batter. The Hassayampa scooped up the cup of flour, although this method of dipping the flour is all wrong, which he put into a small bowl, stirring the baking powder and salt into it instead of sifting it—a Hassayampa never uses any utensil that he can get along without. Into this dry mixture he dropped the tablespoon of lard, and being urged to do it, he washed his hands well and then clawed the lard into the flour, after which he poured in enough milk to make a batter, which he stirred with a wonderfully vigorous hand. The batter made was thin enough to run from a rather well buttered round baking tin, was then patted with a spoon wet with cold water, shoved into a 425 degree oven and baked for fifteen minutes. It really was all right.

By the way, Hassayampas got that name from a river in Arizona where one once resorted because they were obsessed with life, or some condition that made them think that living in the most primitive sort of a way would be paradise compared with the life they had had. Thirty years or so ago there was a colony of them in that region, I have been told, who had no use except that they dried in the trees, and had to cut up afterwards with an ax, and whose ordinary bread was a crude pancake. They did not have much else to eat or to give to guests even though they had the most hospitable instincts.

The first of the old English ballads reads: "The king sits in Dunfermline town," and there is a recipe for a Dunfermline scone practically like this one we have just given, although cream and sour milk are called for instead of baking powder and sweet milk, and a dough is made and rolled out.

Hundreds of Thousands Of Wise Americans Demand Kruschen Salts

Keeps you in good health all the time—skin clear and body free from fat.

Just think of it: these new, better and different salts were only introduced into America a few months ago—yet a host of intelligent Americans are healthier and happier because of their supreme goodness.

One-half teaspoon of Kruschen in a glass of hot water every morning gently but surely stimulates the liver, bowels and kidneys to healthy elimination.

But the six vitalizing and rejuvenating salts in Kruschen do more than cause regular elimination—the man or woman who takes them regularly need have no fear of poisons polluting the system which is the cause of many annoying and depressing ills.

One bottle of Kruschen Salts (lasts 4 weeks) costs but 85c and one bottle will prove of vast benefit to people who have constipation, headaches, indigestion, nervousness, rheumatism, depression, debility and auto-intoxication.

Not only that, but one bottle will bring about body activity—increase in energy, vigor and ambition, sparkling eyes and freedom from pimples and blemishes—millions know all this—you ought to know it.

Detachable Boleros for Evening Frocks

BY BETTINA BEDWELL.

PARIS.—[Special.]—You have heard a lot about bolero waists for day and evening. There are literally thousands of them sewed on to Paris frocks, giving them lots of springtime style cachet. However, newer for evening than the tied down bolero is the bolero that simply keeps company with the evening dress and can be separated from it at will, like the one shown in our sketch.

This evening ensemble is from Marthe et Renée and the dress is made of tulle-marquisette, a new material that has the mesh of net and the surface of marquisette. The bolero is made of faille. Marthe et Renée call this ensemble "Miss Paris," and its color is Paris green, a shade that is most unpleasant to bugs and such forms of animal life, but flattering to fair young complexions. It is a shade beloved of French fashions for spring and summer.

Aside from color, material, and bolero this evening ensemble brings another style message that is to be found in its hand made tucks that are arranged cleverly in bands. The short, bloused waist of the dress is composed of alternating bands of tucked and plain tulle-marquisette, and on the deep skirt yoke these bands rise to points in front in the interest of beauty of line. Two straight tucked bands are set in near the top of the very full skirt. The calla lilies, with their long leaves made of silk and marquisette, are placed in a new situation.

The bolero jacket of green faille

has two tucked bands around the bottom for decoration. It is without back décolleté, thus lessening the formality of the ensemble.

DORIS BLAKE ANSWERS

Stop Being an Easy Mark.

"Dear Miss Blake: What do you think of a girl who accepts presents from me but does not notice me on the street at times and hardly ever talks to me. BLUE."

She is selfish and unprincipled, but why do you stand for such treatment? She is the type who will accept your gifts and laugh at you for being such an easy mark.

It's Time YOU tried one!

For that INDIGESTION

For 36 years, men and women by the million have settled stomach disturbances with a Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablet. A reliable remedy; a real relief. And you have never tried them! In 1894 a druggist sold his first package of Stuart's. Today they are a drug-store staple. The first thing that comes to mind when the stomach needs a sweetener. No burning soda! Just a happy combination of Calcium Carbonate (2½ times more effective than soda) Magnesia and other valuable ingredients. In ten minutes—or less—acidity is overcome; all that sourness dispelled.

Many parents have come to realize these tablets are ideally suited to children's digestive disorders. The tremendous sale of the family size boxes is proof of that. Next time a young stomach is complaining, think of Stuart's.

MAKE THIS TEST!

Purchase a 25c, handy pocket tin of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets from your druggist, use after meals and be convinced it is not necessary to suffer the distresses of indigestion.

Refused the Check.

A few days ago my father handed me a check, which he had promised to put in my savings account. It being Saturday I rushed to the bank to make the deposit. After waiting in line my turn came. I pulled out my bankbook, the check and confronted the clerk. He took one glance at the check and instantly his face showed amusement.

"I'm sorry, miss," he explained, "but we don't cash non negotiable checks here."

My father had received the check from an advertising firm and had given it to me thinking it a good joke. Embarrassing? I'll say! S. A.

Surprise Spring Snowstorm Subsiding as City Traffic Is Tied Up and Highways Blocked by Drifts

SUBURBAN TRAFFIC ON STEAM RAILROADS, INTERFERED WITH BY STORM, TAXED TO CAPACITY. Scene in the Chicago and North Western railroad station during the rush hours last night. In addition to taking care of ordinary suburban traffic the railroads carried many who usually use the street cars or automobiles.

CROWDS JAM ALL ILLINOIS CENTRAL TRAINS BEFORE THEY LEAVE RANDOLPH STREET STATION. Crowd rushing into suburban train. Like other railroads, the Illinois Central was called upon to take care of more than its usual share of the rush hour business, and all of its trains were crowded to the doors.

MICHIGAN AVENUE ALMOST DESERTED DURING THEATER HOURS. What is generally the city's busiest thoroughfare after business hours as it appeared last night at the time that autos generally occupy every available foot of space.
